DECEMBER WAR CASUALTIES MOUNT

1st Lt. Wilbert Behrens missing over Mindanao

1st Lieutenant Wilbert Behrens of Arlington Heights has been declared missing since December 16 in a raid over Mindanao in the Philippines. Wilbert, the son of William Behrens, Algonquin road, was a Thunderbolt fighter pilot of the 5th air force.

Wilbert entered service November 6, 1942. He was an air corps enthusiast, going directly into training. In letters to 'With Uncle Sam' Lt. Behrens often talked of his plane, the Thunderbolt, telling how it was superior to anything the Japs could put in the air.

War department wire received Monday afternoon told of his being missing in action. Wilbert was based in the Philippines, flying from one of the recently-won air fields of the Japs.

Lt. Behrens completed pre-flight at San Antonio, Texas, February 26, 1943. He was delayed 6 weeks in the hospital after contracting pneumonia, but then moved on to Hicks field, Ft. Worth, Texas, for primary.

In August Wilbert completed basic pilot's training at Perrin field, Sherman, Texas, and was transferred to Aloe Field, Victoria, Texas, for final training before receiving his wings. The wings were granted October 1.

After a furlough at home Lt. Behrens was sent to Tallahassee, Florida, for advanced training before going overseas. January 5, 1944, he was married to Shirley Wilke of Arlington Heights, and on the 14th Wilbert went overseas.

After stopping at Hawaii a short time, he moved on to New Guinea and action. He was awarded the air medal for combat as of May, 1944. Lt. Behrens was transferred to the Dutch East Indies in September of last year, and was moved to the Philippines about two months ago.

St. Peter Lutherans plan future expansion

Look forward to large building program

In an enthusiastic congregational meeting last Sunday afternoon, St. Peter Lutheran church resolved upon important and far-reaching projects for the congregation's future, the Rev. L. V. Stephan, local pastor, has announced. Every one was heartened by the unity of purpose displayed, the zeal manifested, and the vision shown for post-war possibilities.

Among the projects of greater consequence discussed was the resolution to establish a New Church Building Fund as well as a New Activities and Education Building Fund. While it was thought impractical to create a building committee at the present time in view of the restrictions on building operations, nevertheless a Post-War Planning Committee was elected. This committee was charged with the duty to promote and publicize these funds within the congregation, to make a study of the desires and needs of the membership for the New Church and Activities Buildings, as well as related problems and keep the congregation informed. Committee members chosen are Messrs. Eugene Burger, Walter Kroeber, Paul Taege, Edwin H. Meyer and Wm. Schlomann.

Another committee was selected to prepare plans and study the cost of building classrooms in the present auditorium of the parish school. The increased enrollment in the school makes it necessary to add another classroom. At the same time the congregation seeks to reserve part of its present school auditorium space until an Activities Building can be constructed which will include a sizeable gymnasium. Serving on this new committee are Messrs. Walter Kroeber, H. E. W. Meyer, Alfred Sander, Ed. Sander, A. W. Bathje and Ernest Malzahn.

It was resolved to participate wholeheartedly in the Five Million Dollar Peace Thank Offering of the entire church body. April 22, 1945, was set as the day for this offering. This collection will provide funds for post-war mission work in America and abroad.

A bonus was granted the pastor, all members of the school faculty, as well as the maintenance employees for the year 1945.

It was agreed that hereafter the children's confirmation classes shall wear white robes on the day of their confirmation as well as at their first communion on Maundy Thursday.

Found — one snow plow

A packet of keys and a large white mitten are awaiting claimants at the Lost and Found department of the Arlington Heights police department.

Just about the time that the Arlington Heights street department was ready to paint the Arlington Heights colors onto the snow plow that had been resting in the municipal garage since Christmas, the owner of the plow was identified as the State of Illinois, by means of a radio call. Of course, as soon as Commissioner Wm. Luehring learned of the 'call' he reported the location of the plow to Judge Behrens who in turn relayed the message to the state highway department.

How the plow got into the municipal garage is a mystery. The highway patrolman responsible for the plow claims that he only left it unattended on a highway in Northfield township 45 minutes while he went home to dinner. The plow weighs 400 pounds and could not be easily transported.

Arlington is not responsible for equipment left unattended in Northfield township, so the only guess is that some unknown person carried the plow to Arlington's front door, where it was discovered and under the usual procedure was removed to the municipal garage for safe keeping.

With its return the patrolman and the highway department are happy and Supt. Luehring has done his good deed for the month by returning the plow to its owners.

No, Arlington Heights does not need the plow, although it would have served as excellent reserve equipment.

Lutheran teachers to meet at school

The Northwest Suburban Lutheran Teachers Conference will meet Friday, January 26, at St. Peter Lutheran school, Arlington Heights. The conference is attended by teachers from all schools in this vicinity reaching from Crystal Lake to the northwest side of Chicago. About 40 members will be in attendance.

Mr. Pappenberg of Niles, Mrs. Ruth Tooze of the Evanston Book Box, and Prof. W. O. Kraeft of Concordia Teachers College at River Forest will appear on the program. The Mothers Club will serve a luncheon to the group. Mr. Theo Preuss is chairman of the conference and Messrs. K. L. Busse and A. W. Bathje are members of the Program Committee.

Pfc. Arthur Clem wounded in France

Pfc. Arthur Clem, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Clem, 646 N. Douglas ave., Arlington Heights, was seriously woudned January 2 in France according to a war department wire received Saturday morning. The Clems are newcomers to Arlington, having moved there in July of '44 from Chicago.

Arthur served with the 100th infantry division in France, the unit that set a record for going into combat. The men appeared in New York for the opening of the 5th war loan drive October 5, and were in France October 20. Three days later the unit went into action, relieving a veteran 7th army unit on the southern end of the western front.

Pfc. Clem entered service December 17, 1942. He is a chemist by trade, and was originally attached to chemical warfare of the air corps. After attending several schools, the army closed the units, and he was sent to Fort Bragg, North Carolina. He went overseas from that camp.

Brother of Heights woman is wounded

Cpl. Morris Baugh, brother of Mrs. August Burnier of Arlington Heights, has been wounded in action in Belgium, it was learned Monday morning. Morris is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Austin Baugh of Urbana, Ill., parents of Mrs. Burnier. They are spending the winter at the Burnier home.

Cpl. Baugh had been stationed in Luxemburg, but was moved to Belgium just five days before the German offensive. Last letter received from him was dated Dec. 11. He was seriously wounded December 23.

Morris entered service in September, 1940, going in with a national guard unit. They trained in Louisiana for a year, after which half of them, Morris included, were sent to Panama.

After serving in the Canal Zone 22 months, Cpl. Baugh was sent back home for another year's training in Texas. He left for England in September of '44. His unit was then transferred through France directly to Belgium. He was serving with the 1st army.

Paratrooper is missing in Belgium

Mrs. Gus Dombrosky received a telegram from the government Wednesday morning that her son, Pvt. William Trow, a paratrooper, is missing in the Belgium action.

He received his training at Ft. Benning, Ga., and left for overseas duty last October. He was with the 101st air borne division which was hit so hard by the Germans in their Belgium push. He entered service from Chicago but gives Palatine as his home address.

Lt. Phil Kaiser in hospital with broken leg

Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Kaiser of Mt. Prospect were notified by the war department that their son, Lt. Phil Kaiser, had suffered a fractured leg and was at present confined in the 179th U. S. General Hospital. His station was unknown at the time and how the fracture was sustained was not disclosed, although his parents have been notified that he is improving. Lt. Kaiser is a pilot in the air corps. His present address is: 179th U. S. General Hospital, APO 228, Post Master, New York, N. Y.

Receives more letters from husband reported missing

Mrs. Ray Engelking, Barrington, received three more letters this week from her husband who was reported missing as of December 20. The letters were written January 2, 4 and 6. They say nothing about the conflict except that he is still safe.

Letters were also received this week by Mrs. Louis Miller, Palatine from her son who is in the same company as Ray Engelking. No word has been received by the family of H. W. Moehling, Arlington Heights who was reported missing with Engelking. Miller was not reported missing.

Pre-induction exams of young farmers may not mean 'army'

Essential 1-A men will not be drafted

Contrary to widespread belief, all farm workers under 26 years of age who are being given pre-induction physical examinations will not be inducted into the armed forces, it was stated today by Col. Paul G. Armstrong, state director of selective service.

"It has come to my attention," said Colonel Armstrong, "that many farm employers are planning farm sales because of their belief that all young farmers ages 18 through 25 years are to be inducted. There is no basis for such belief.

"While it is true that all farm registrants under 26 years old are being sent for pre-induction physical examinations, not all of them will be reclassified to Class I-A simply because they have been found physically qualified for military service. All other classes of registrants in this age group have been given preinduction physical examinations, and the recent order for examination of young farm registrants was undoubtedly issued to determine how many men in this group were physically qualified for service, as well as to expedite the induction of those no longer considered necessary to agriculture.

"In carrying out the recent order pertaining to young farm registrants, local boards and boards of appeal carefully consider the farm status of each man. Boards are still following the requirements of the Tydings Act which provides that every man actually necessary on a farm shall be deferred until a replacement can be found. In some instances, boards have previously been liberal in border-line cases, and the main purpose of the new directive is to have every farm case reviewed under stricter standards to determine whether or not a farm worker under 26 can possibly be spared to the armed forces. If a board, after thorough consideration, determines that the farm worker is definitely essential to the production of food and fibre for the armed forces as well as the civilian population, and that no replacement for him is available, the board may properly continue the agricultural deferment of such man.

"Physically and mentally fit young men on farms which simply produce subsistence for a single family can probably expect to be inducted in the near future. Registrants who are helping produce food and fibre in quantity for general military and civilian use will necessarily be given greater consideration.

"Agriculture in Illinois has done an outstanding production job for this nation at war. The local and appeal boards of this state have fully recognized this great contribution and have, in my opinion, done efficient classifying of registrants, following the Tydings Act closely in order to protect agriculture."

'Brown out' of outdoor lights effective Feb. 1

In compliance with the War Production Board's new mandatory order forbidding certain uses of electricity to conserve fuel on a nationwide basis, the Public Service company of Northern Illinois today was notifying its commercial and industrial electric customers to arrange for brown-out of their outdoor advertising, display and ornamental lighting.

The order, which was issued on instruction of War Mobilizer James F. Byrnes, is dated January 15 but gives affected concerns until February 1 to finally comply. Byrnes urged voluntary compliance as soon as possible, however.

The new ban prohibits the use of electricity for:

1. Outdoor advertising and outdoor promotional lighting.
2. Outdoor display lighting except where necessary for the conduct of the business of outdoor establishments.
3. Outdoor decorative and outdoor ornamental lighting.
4. Show window lighting except where necessary for interior illumination.
5. Marquee lighting in excess of 60 watts for each marquee.
6. White way street lighting in excess of the amount determined by local public authority to be necessary for public safety.
7. Outdoor sign lighting except for (a) directional or identification signs required for fire and police protection, traffic control, transportation terminals or hospitals; or directional or identification signs for any similar essential public services the lighting of which is specifically certified to be necessary by local public authority; (b) directional or identification signs using not more than 60 watts per establishment, for doctors and for hotels and other public lodging establishments.

The order does not restrict necessary lighting for night sports or recreational activities or for outdoor markets and similar concerns where necessary for the conduct of the business of outdoor establishments.

Under the order the utility is required to notify in writing any customer known by it to be in continued violation after February 1, 1945 and to send a copy of such notification to the War Production Board district office. Penalty for wilful violation after that date includes either fine or imprisonment and further provides that the WPB may, upon determination of wilful violation, direct the utility to "disconnect service and prescribe the conditions under which service may be reconnected."

Public Service Company officials said the amount of coal to be saved locally under the brown-out ban could not be estimated but that the government is expecting a national saving of about 2,000,000 tons annually. Company officials were careful to point out that there is plenty of electric generating capacity to meet all needs and that the order is based on coal saving, not capacity.

Palatine to issue revenue bonds for improvements

To drill well at once; sewage plant await priorities

Palatine village board has decided to issue water revenue bonds for the drilling of an auxiliary well and sewer revenue bonds for the construction of a treatment plant and a sewer improvement that will connect the sewer system east of Northwest Highway with the main sewer and the treatment plant.

Both propositions came to a head last Thursday night at a conference between the board members, their attorney and a representative of a Chicago bond house who assured the board that it would be possible to sell sewer revenue bonds. The board definitely decided that the funds of the water department must be kept separate from sewer projects and that its revenue should not be tied up in any way with the sewer bond issue, which the bond man stated would make the sewer bonds a more attractive investment.

The meeting was called primarily to act on the sewer improvement, but following a lengthy discussion on revenue bond issues the board members decided that the water department could allocate in the neighborhood of $500 a quarter for a period of five years to pay the cost of a well that is greatly needed. It is expected that the water rentals paid by the occupants of the new McIntosh homes will more than pay the yearly cost of the bond issue.

Due to the advisability of drilling the new well a considerable distance from the present well, the board will accept the offer of Mr. McIntosh who'll donate a lot for the new well in the northern part of the subdivision now being developed. The existing water main of twelve inches is preferred for a direct well connection rather than the smaller water mains that are to be found in the older parts of the village.

Illinois State Sanitary Water Board will probably be as pleased as Palatine officials that a way has been found for the municipality to obey the orders of the board issued several years ago that Palatine desist emptying untreated sewage into Salt Creek.

Original plans to construct the improvement under WPA came to naught because there could be no assurance that the work would be completed. The cost under such a plan would have been in the neighborhood of a quarter of a million dollars. The estimate of the revised plan that will be constructed by private contract is $115,000. Work of the treatment plant will await the needed priorities.

A special meeting of the board will be held next Monday to act on the two propositions.

Walther league carnival Jan. 26-27

The Walther Leagues of St. Peter church, Arlington Heights are promising a big time for all who attend their carnival, which will be given January 26 and 27, starting as early as 6:30 p. m. There will be skill games, fun booths and other attractions in the basement. Visitors can come either early or late and can choose which ever strikes their fancy.

At 8:30 visitors can relax listening to a program which will be given in the hall on the second floor. Local celebrities will do their best with entertainment that will be a diversion from the excitement down stairs and to which visitors will return at the close of the entertainment.

There will be eats—plenty of them. It promises to be a big evening for all who attend—that is the way that the Walther Leagues do things.

'Mary' returns to 'Just Around the Corner' feature

Mary McArdle, former co-editor of 'Life with Mother,' is again writing for Paddock Publications. "Mary," as she is known to the readers, is corresponding with Eleanor Milstead in "Just Around the Corner." This feature appears every week in Paddock Publications.

Dr. F. Krohney guest speaker at St. Johns Sunday

International Mission Sunday will be observed at St. John Evangelical and Reformed church, Evergreen at St. James st., Arlington Heights, on Sunday morning, January 28, at 10:30 a. m.

Guest speaker, Dr. Frederick H. Krohney of Chicago, chairman of the N. Illinois Mission Board, will deliver the message. Special international missionary offering will be received. Inspirational music presented by the church choir. Everyone is cordially invited to attend.

Funeral Sunday for Palatine resident

William Langhorst, 85, died on Wednesday noon at his home on Plum Grove avenue, Palatine. Funeral services will be held Sunday afternoon at the Palatine Lutheran church.

Deceased is survived by his wife, four sons, Henry, William, Fred and Arthur and two daughters, Sophie Hayward and Ella Garms.

Sgt. Mel Bach missing in Luxemburg

Another casualty of the 28th American division fighting in Luxemburg has been announced by the war department. Sgt. Melvin Bach of Mt. Prospect, serving with the 109th Field Artillery, was pronounced missing since December 22. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Bach, 105 William street.

Melvin was a member of the 28th division, a unit of the First army that was so thinly stretched along the western front when the Germans started their Belgium push. Pfc. Harold Moehling of Arlington Heights and Pfc. Ray Engelking of Palatine were last week reported missing from the same division. In their cases, however, their parents have received letters from the boys written after the "missing date". Hope is held for their being missing only from their own company.

Mr. and Mrs. Bach received the war department wire Friday night. They later received a letter from the wife of Mel's commanding officer that he, too, had been declared missing December 20.

Sgt. Bach entered the service September 29, 1942. He reported to Camp Grant, was sent to Camp Livingston, La., Camp Gordon Johnston, Fla., and Camp Pickett, Va., before shipping to England in October of '43. His only furlough was in April of 1943 when he married Violet Garland of Des Plaines.

Studebaker service to be continued by Winkelman

The Winkelman Tire & Battery Shop which has moved into quarters formerly occupied by Studebaker in Arlington Heights announces that Studebaker service will be continued.

Studebaker car owners will be glad to know that the services of Charles Schroeder, an experienced Studebaker and Chrysler mechanic, have been secured by the Winkelman shop. Patrons are assured of competent service and mechanical work not only for Studebaker cars but for all other makes.

Inverness woman new chairman of Bundles for America

Over luncheon at the Pump room at the Ambassador Hotel Friday, January 19, Mrs. Geo. F. Hartford, midwest regional director for Bundles for America, announced the appointment of Mrs. Charles M. Smith, Inverness Countryside, Palatine, as chairman of the Chicago branch. This new appointment was made by Mrs. Hartford as the result of increased activities in the mid-west branches.

Mrs. Hartford now plans to direct more of her efforts on branches in the fourteen states comprising the mid-west region of Bundles for America.

Mrs. Gilbert L. Jones, treasurer and Mrs. Joseph R. Brady, chairman of Ways and Means committees were present at the luncheon.

Bishop to speak at ME church Sunday night

Bishop J. Ralph Magee, resident Bishop of the Chicago Area of the Methodist church, will be the preacher of the evening at the Methodist Meeting House, Arlington Heights, Sunday, January 28, at 7:30 p. m. The area over which Bishop Magee presides is the second largest in the Methodist communion and in some respects the most powerful. One might easily say that Bishop Magee is the outstanding bishop in the entire denomination.

At a recent banquet tendered in the Bishop's honor, George McKibben, recent director of finance of the State of Illinois, said that J. Ralph Magee and his family have a distinction second only to the famous Compton family of scientific fame. In that the Magee's and the Compton's have an equal representation in "Whose Who". a mark of distignuishe dleadership in American life.

In inviting the Bishop the Methodist people will have a man occupy the pulpit who thinks in much larger terms than Methodism alone. The Bishop is truly a Christian in that he thinks of all Christian churches and for that reason will have a burning message for all churchmen. In a statement recently made he said, "we all rise or fall together". Thus every person interested in more effective application of Christian solutions to the world problems today cannot afford to miss the Bishop's address which is entitled "The Church For Today".

An informal reception will be held in the gymnasium after the service Sunday evening at which time opportunity will be given to meet the Bishop personally. Bishop Magee will be accompanied by his daughter Dorothy.

The choir will sing "Gloria" by Mozart and Elizabeth Frye Carr will favor with an offertory solo. Charlotte Lull will be at the organ.

Keeps on working regardless of obstructing truck

Arlington Heights street department which was busy clearing snow from the curbs in the business district the first of the week found that a truck of the Curtiss Farms was obstructing their work. The truck was empty and rather than sit around and wait for the driver, the truck body was filled with snow and the equipment moved on.

The Jap-American was rather surprised when he returned to the vehicle, but admitted that the joke was on him and he obligingly hauled the snow to the dumping ground.

Will you help ?

The Infantile Paralysis drive, known as the March of Dimes, is now in progress in Arlington Heights. Dime holders have been sent home with all school children, who are asked to have their families fill them.

A March of Dimes trailer will be shown at Arlington Theatre at which time contributions will be taken.

Arlington Heights Woman's Club has accepted responsibility for this drive in Arlington. Mrs. Baldwin is chairman. Co-chairmen are Mrs. Goldthwaite and Mrs. Osburn. Contributions can be mailed to any one of them.

Northwest Board of Realtors to hear Benjamin F. Bills

The Northwest Suburban Board of Realtors will hear Benjamin F. Bills at their meeting January 31st, at Simson's Restaurant, Euclid and Rand road, Arlington Heights at 6:45 p. m. Mr. Bills, well known real estate broker of Chicago, will speak on the subject, "The Effect of Postwar Conditions on the Selling of Real Estate."

Mr. Bills is chairman of the board of Bills Realty & Mortgage Co., president of Benjamin F. Bills & Associate, sales consultant and on the faculty of thee School of Commerce, Northwestern University. He is also the author of several books, among which are "Selling Sense" and "Persuasion In Business."

The Du Page Board of Realtors will be guests.

Paper dealer is victim of 'moochers'

When his depot news boy quit his job the first of January, Curly Rodewald, Arlington Heights dealer, hit upon the expedient of starting a self-help service. He worked half the night building a stand and intsalling a box in the slot of which train customers could drop their three cents a paper. A sign announced that those who desired could pay by the week, 18 cents. Curly depended upon the honesty of the general public.

The idea was excellent. Commuters could help themselves, but there are too many moochers who forget to kick-in with the three cents. Loss is $3.00 a week.

Mr. Rodewald personally handles six city routes in the mornings and can not watch the stand. He does not want to curb the curb stand service and asks the cooperation of the general public. In other words, less moochers.

Pfc. Clem entered service December 17, 1942. He is a chemist by trade, and was originally attached to chemical warfare of the air corps. After attending several schools, the army closed the units, and he was sent to Fort Bragg, North Carolina. He went overseas from that camp.

Brother of Heights woman is wounded

Cpl. Morris Baugh, brother of Mrs. August Burnier of Arlington Heights, has been wounded in action in Belgium, it was learned Monday morning. Morris is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Austin Baugh of Urbana, Ill., parents of Mrs. Burnier. They are spending the winter at the Burnier home.

Cpl. Baugh had been stationed in Luxemburg, but was moved to Belgium just five days before the German offensive. Last letter received from him was dated Dec. 11. He was seriously wounded December 23.

Morris entered service in September, 1940, going in with a national guard unit. They trained in Louisiana for a year, after which half of them, Morris included, were sent to Panama.

After serving in the Canal Zone 22 months, Cpl. Baugh was sent back home for another year's training in Texas. He left for England in September of '44. His unit was then transferred through France directly to Belgium. He was serving with the 1st army.

Paratrooper is missing in Belgium

Mrs. Gus Dombrosky received a telegram from the government Wednesday morning that her son, Pvt. William Trow, a paratrooper, is missing in the Belgium action.

He received his training at Ft. Benning, Ga., and left for overseas duty last October. He was with the 101st air borne division which was hit so hard by the Germans in their Belgium push. He entered service from Chicago but gives Palatine as his home address.

Lt. Phil Kaiser in hospital with broken leg

Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Kaiser of Mt. Prospect were notified by the war department that their son, Lt. Phil Kaiser, had suffered a fractured leg and was at present confined in the 179th U. S. General Hospital. His station was unknown at the time and how the fracture was sustained was not disclosed, although his parents have been notified that he is improving. Lt. Kaiser is a pilot in the air corps. His present address is: 179th U. S. General Hospital, APO 228, Post Master, New York, N. Y.

Receives more letters from husband reported missing

Mrs. Ray Engelking, Barrington, received three more letters this week from her husband who was reported missing as of December 20. The letters were written January 2, 4 and 6. They say nothing about the conflict except that he is still safe.

Letters were also received this week by Mrs. Louis Miller, Palatine from her son who is in the same company as Ray Engelking. No word has been received by the family of H. W. Moehling, Arlington Heights who was reported missing with Engelking. Miller was not reported missing.

Pre-induction exams of young farmers may not mean 'army'

'Brown out' of outdoor lights effective Feb. 1

In compliance with the War Production Board's new mandatory order forbidding certain uses of electricity to conserve fuel on a nationwide basis, the Public Service company of Northern Illinois today was notifying its commercial and industrial electric customers to arrange for brown-out of their outdoor advertising, display and ornamental lighting.

The order, which was issued on instruction of War Mobilizer James F. Byrnes, is dated January 15 but gives affected concerns until February 1 to finally comply. Byrnes urged voluntary compliance as soon as possible, however.

The new ban prohibits the use of electricity for:

1. Outdoor advertising and outdoor promotional lighting.
2. Outdoor display lighting except where necessary for the conduct of the business of outdoor establishments.
3. Outdoor decorative and outdoor ornamental lighting.
4. Show window lighting except where necessary for interior illumination.
5. Marquee lighting in excess of 60 watts for each marquee.
6. White way street lighting in excess of the amount determined by local public authority to be necessary for public safety.
7. Outdoor sign lighting except for (a) directional or identification signs required for fire and police protection, traffic control, transportation terminals or hospitals; or directional or identification signs for any similar essential public services the lighting of which is specifically certified to be necessary by local public authority; (b) directional or identification signs using not more than 60 watts per establishment, for doctors and for hotels and other public lodging establishments.

The order does not restrict necessary lighting for night sports or recreational activities or for outdoor markets and similar concerns where necessary for the conduct of the business of outdoor establishments.

Under the order the utility is required to notify in writing any customer known by it to be in continued violation after February 1, 1945 and to send a copy of such notification to the War Production Board district office. Penalty for wilful violation after that date includes either fine or imprisonment and further provides that the WPB may, upon determination of wilful violation, direct the utility to "disconnect service and prescribe the conditions under which service may be reconnected."

Public Service Company officials said the amount of coal to be saved locally under the brown-out ban could not be estimated but that the government is expecting a national saving of about 2,000,000 tons annually. Company officials were careful to point out that there is plenty of electric generating capacity to meet all needs and that the order is based on coal saving, not capacity.

Walther league carnival Jan. 26-27

The Walther Leagues of St. Peter church, Arlington Heights are promising a big time for all who attend their carnival, which will be given January 26 and 27, starting as early as 6:30 p. m. There will be skill games, fun booths and other attractions in the basement. Visitors can come either early or late and can choose which ever strikes their fancy.

At 8:30 visitors can relax listening to a program which will be given in the hall on the second floor. Local celebrities will do their best with entertainment that will be a diversion from the excitement down stairs and to which visitors will return at the close of the entertainment.

There will be eats—plenty of them. It promises to be a big evening for all who attend—that is the way that the Walther Leagues do things.

'Mary' returns to 'Just Around the Corner' feature

Mary McArdle, former co-editor of 'Life with Mother,' is again writing for Paddock Publications. "Mary," as she is known to the readers, is corresponding with Eleanor Milstead in "Just Around the Corner." This feature appears every week in Paddock Publications.

Palatine to issue revenue bonds for improvements

To drill well at once; sewage plant await priorities

Palatine village board has decided to issue water revenue bonds for the drilling of an auxiliary well and sewer revenue bonds for the construction of a treatment plant and a sewer improvement that will connect the sewer system east of Northwest Highway with the main sewer and the treatment plant.

Both propositions came to a head last Thursday night at a conference between the board members, their attorney and a representative of a Chicago bond house who assured the board that it would be possible to sell sewer revenue bonds. The board definitely decided that the funds of the water department must be kept separate from sewer projects and that its revenue should not be tied up in any way with the sewer bond issue, which the bond man stated would make the sewer bonds a more attractive investment.

The meeting was called primarily to act on the sewer improvement, but following a lengthy discussion on revenue bond issues the board members decided that the water department could allocate in the neighborhood of $500 a quarter for a period of five years to pay the cost of a well that is greatly needed. It is expected that the water rentals paid by the occupants of the new McIntosh homes will more than pay the yearly cost of the bond issue.

Due to the advisability of drilling the new well a considerable distance from the present well, the board will accept the offer of Mr. McIntosh who'll donate a lot for the new well in the northern part of the subdivision now being developed. The existing water main of twelve inches is preferred for a direct well connection rather than the smaller water mains that are to be found in the older parts of the village.

Illinois State Sanitary Water Board will probably be as pleased as Palatine officials that a way has been found for the municipality to obey the orders of the board issued several years ago that Palatine desist emptying untreated sewage into Salt Creek.

Original plans to construct the improvement under WPA came to naught because there could be no assurance that the work would be completed. The cost under such a plan would have been in the neighborhood of a quarter of a million dollars. The estimate of the revised plan that will be constructed by private contract is $115,000. Work of the treatment plant will await the needed priorities.

A special meeting of the board will be held next Monday to act on the two propositions.

Dr. F. Krohney guest speaker at St. Johns Sunday

International Mission Sunday will be observed at St. John Evangelical and Reformed church, Evergreen at St. James st., Arlington Heights, on Sunday morning, January 28, at 10:30 a. m.

Guest speaker, Dr. Frederick H. Krohney of Chicago, chairman of the N. Illinois Mission Board, will deliver the message. Special international missionary offering will be received. Inspirational music presented by the church choir. Everyone is cordially invited to attend.

Funeral Sunday for Palatine resident

William Langhorst, 85, died on Wednesday noon at his home on Plum Grove avenue, Palatine. Funeral services will be held Sunday afternoon at the Palatine Lutheran church.

Deceased is survived by his wife, four sons, Henry, William, Fred and Arthur and two daughters, Sophie Hayward and Ella Garms.

Essential 1-A men will not be drafted

Contrary to widespread belief, all farm workers under 26 years of age who are being given pre-induction physical examinations will not be inducted into the armed forces, it was stated today by Col. Paul G. Armstrong, state director of selective service.

"It has come to my attention," said Colonel Armstrong, "that many farm employers are planning farm sales because of their belief that all young farmers ages 18 through 25 years are to be inducted. There is no basis for such belief.

"While it is true that all farm registrants under 26 years old are being sent for pre-induction physical examinations, not all of them will be reclassified to Class I-A simply because they have been found physically qualified for military service. All other classes of registrants in this age group have been given preinduction physical examinations, and the recent order for examination of young farm registrants was undoubtedly issued to determine how many men in this group were physically qualified for service, as well as to expedite the induction of those no longer considered necessary to agriculture.

"In carrying out the recent order pertaining to young farm registrants, local boards and boards of appeal carefully consider the farm status of each man. Boards are still following the requirements of the Tydings Act which provides that every man actually necessary on a farm shall be deferred until a replacement can be found. In some instances, boards have previously been liberal in border-line cases, and the main purpose of the new directive is to have every farm case reviewed under stricter standards to determine whether or not a farm worker under 26 can possibly be spared to the armed forces. If a board, after thorough consideration, determines that the farm worker is definitely essential to the production of food and fibre for the armed forces as well as the civilian population, and that no replacement for him is available, the board may properly continue the agricultural deferment of such man.

"Physically and mentally fit young men on farms which simply produce subsistence for a single family can probably expect to be inducted in the near future. Registrants who are helping produce food and fibre in quantity for general military and civilian use will necessarily be given greater consideration.

"Agriculture in Illinois has done an outstanding production job for this nation at war. The local and appeal boards of this state have fully recognized this great contribution and have, in my opinion, done efficient classifying of registrants, following the Tydings Act closely in order to protect agriculture."

Arlington Theatre is making plans to obey the "brown out" orders Feb. 1. The outdoor canopy is illuminated with nearly a thousands lights which will be cut down to a few that will be absolutely necessary. Public sentiment is expected to curb all advertising lights of taverns, places of amusement and advertising signs. The order is not expected to affect any of the street lights or the ornamental lighting where the latter is the only sreet lighting available.

Sermon by bishop of Methodist church

Bishop J. Ralph Magee, who in 40 years has risen to the highest rank in the Methodist church. He will preach at Arlington Heights Methodist church Sunday evening.

Sgt. Mel Bach missing in Luxemburg

Another casualty of the 28th American division fighting in Luxemburg has been announced by the war department. Sgt. Melvin Bach of Mt. Prospect, serving with the 109th Field Artillery, was pronounced missing since December 22. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Bach, 105 William street.

Melvin was a member of the 28th division, a unit of the First army that was so thinly stretched along the western front when the Germans started their Belgium push. Pfc. Harold Moehling of Arlington Heights and Pfc. Ray Engelking of Palatine were last week reported missing from the same division. In their cases, however, their parents have received letters from the boys written after the "missing date". Hope is held for their being missing only from their own company.

Mr. and Mrs. Bach received the war department wire Friday night. They later received a letter from the wife of Mel's commanding officer that he, too, had been declared missing December 20.

Sgt. Bach entered the service September 29, 1942. He reported to Camp Grant, was sent to Camp Livingston, La., Camp Gordon Johnston, Fla., and Camp Pickett, Va., before shipping to England in October of '43. His only furlough was in April of 1943 when he married Violet Garland of Des Plaines.

The Winkelman Tire & Battery Shop which has moved into quarters formerly occupied by Studebaker in Arlington Heights announces that Studebaker service will be continued.

Studebaker car owners will be glad to know that the services of Charles Schroeder, an experienced Studebaker and Chrysler mechanic, have been secured by the Winkelman shop. Patrons are assured of competent service and mechanical work not only for Studebaker cars but for all other makes.

Inverness woman new chairman of Bundles for America

Over luncheon at the Pump room at the Ambassador Hotel Friday, January 19, Mrs. Geo. F. Hartford, midwest regional director for Bundles for America, announced the appointment of Mrs. Charles M. Smith, Inverness Countryside, Palatine, as chairman of the Chicago branch. This new appointment was made by Mrs. Hartford as the result of increased activities in the mid-west branches.

Mrs. Hartford now plans to direct more of her efforts on branches in the fourteen states comprising the mid-west region of Bundles for America.

Mrs. Gilbert L. Jones, treasurer and Mrs. Joseph R. Brady, chairman of Ways and Means committees were present at the luncheon.

Bishop to speak at ME church Sunday night

Bishop J. Ralph Magee, resident Bishop of the Chicago Area of the Methodist church, will be the preacher of the evening at the Methodist Meeting House, Arlington Heights, Sunday, January 28, at 7:30 p. m. The area over which Bishop Magee presides is the second largest in the Methodist communion and in some respects the most powerful. One might easily say that Bishop Magee is the outstanding bishop in the entire denomination.

At a recent banquet tendered in the Bishop's honor, George McKibben, recent director of finance of the State of Illinois, said that J. Ralph Magee and his family have a distinction second only to the famous Compton family of scientific fame. In that the Magee's and the Compton's have an equal representation in "Whose Who". a mark of distignuishe dleadership in American life.

In inviting the Bishop the Methodist people will have a man occupy the pulpit who thinks in much larger terms than Methodism alone. The Bishop is truly a Christian in that he thinks of all Christian churches and for that reason will have a burning message for all churchmen. In a statement recently made he said, "we all rise or fall together". Thus every person interested in more effective application of Christian solutions to the world problems today cannot afford to miss the Bishop's address which is entitled "The Church For Today".

An informal reception will be held in the gymnasium after the service Sunday evening at which time opportunity will be given to meet the Bishop personally. Bishop Magee will be accompanied by his daughter Dorothy.

The choir will sing "Gloria" by Mozart and Elizabeth Frye Carr will favor with an offertory solo. Charlotte Lull will be at the organ.

Keeps on working regardless of obstructing truck

Arlington Heights street department which was busy clearing snow from the curbs in the business district the first of the week found that a truck of the Curtiss Farms was obstructing their work. The truck was empty and rather than sit around and wait for the driver, the truck body was filled with snow and the equipment moved on.

The Jap-American was rather surprised when he returned to the vehicle, but admitted that the joke was on him and he obligingly hauled the snow to the dumping ground.

Will you help ?

The Infantile Paralysis drive, known as the March of Dimes, is now in progress in Arlington Heights. Dime holders have been sent home with all school children, who are asked to have their families fill them.

A March of Dimes trailer will be shown at Arlington Theatre at which time contributions will be taken.

Arlington Heights Woman's Club has accepted responsibility for this drive in Arlington. Mrs. Baldwin is chairman. Co-chairmen are Mrs. Goldthwaite and Mrs. Osburn. Contributions can be mailed to any one of them.

Proves U. S. 'best fed, clothed' in world

Industries and agricultre lead the way in confident future

Mounting casualty lists and unexpected prolongation of the war with Germany have restrained the enthusiasm with which Americans are wont to celebrate the dawning of a new year. Yet there is much that this country can rejoice in as it contemplates the outlook for 1945.

Our fighting forces have packed into one year a record of military and naval accomplishment unparalleled in history. They are better clothed and better fed than the fighters of any other nation, and, with minor exceptions, their equipment is superior in quality and quantity to that of the enemy both in Europe and in the Pacific.

At home, civilians too are the best clothed and fed of any civilians anywhere, despite shortages and the necessity for stricter rationing.

Moreover, agriculture and industry—upon which nations today must place greater reliance than in any previous war—have, in America, been unscathed by enemy occupation or enemy bombs. The superior industrial and agricultural machine, which America possessed as early as World War I and has since built up to much greater proportions, is prepared to maintain with undiminished vigor the vital battle of production.

This is the keynote of the year-end statements of our leaders in many line of important homefront endeavor. "The automobile industry will not have to chart its course for 1945," says J. W. Frazer, president of Graham-Paige Motors. "It is the same one which has been followed so diligently for the past three years—win the war as quickly as possible by producing fighting weapons on a scale unequaled in the nation's history."

Rubber

The potent industrial force which America has mobilized to the point of being a decisive factor in the drives of the United Nations on every front is symbolized in the miracle that has occurred in rubber. This is brought strikingly to our attention in the year-end statement of John L. Collyer, president of the B. F. Goodrich company, who says that America's war-born synthetic rubber industry emerged in 1944 as the major source of the nation's rubber supply, accounting for 80 per cent of the year's consumption.

Even more significant, he says, is the fact that synthetic rubber production has climbed from a mere 6,000 tons in 1941 to a rate of 800,000 tons a year, which is faster than this nation ever consumed rubber, even in the all-time record year of 1941, when 781,000 tons were used. The number one problem of the rubber industry now and in 1945, Mr. Collyer points out, is not raw material, but how, with the manpower available, to build the material into sufficient war goods to meet the desperate needs.

Aluminum

As if rubber were not enough, we can also view with pride the country's achievement in multiplying by several times the capacity for production of the vital war and aviation metal, aluminum. In fact, says I. W. Wilson, vice-president of Aluminum Company of America, the industry in 1944 went far enough "over the top" in supplying needs of the United States and its allies to permit WPB to close down entirely a number of government-owned aluminum plants, releasing thousands of workers to shell-producing plants and other critical industries which need them badly for the final, all-out victory drive.

Even with substantial concurrent reduction in Alcoa's production, aluminum is still being made in this country at a rate three times that of the peacetime peak. Because of its availability, adds Mr. Wilson, aluminum during 1944 was not only returned to those military uses for which other materials had been substituted, but was, itself, substituted in many cases for other materials less plentiful in supply. The new year, he says, should see growing amounts of aluminum going into the semi-military and civilian uses which must be expanded as rapidly as manpower may be safely diverted to their development.

Lend-lease

War Food Administration reports that deliveries of food and other farm products for shipment to the Allies under Lend-Lease during November totaled 467,500,000 pounds, or 251,800,000 less than in October. In November 1943 shipments were 1,015,900,000 lbs. Of these totals the United Kingdom and British possessions received 52 per cent, Russia 41 per cent, and Greece, West Africa, North Africa, the Netherlands, Poland, Yugoslavia and the French Committee of National Liberation, 7 per cent.

Canned goods

Processed Foods—Needs of the armed forces for canned fruits are expected to remain heavy and military procurement needs and set aside requirements for canned vegetables from the 1944 pack were bigger than in 1943. The supply now on hand must be made to last until the next canning season. The present stocks of commercially canned vegetables on December 1, 1944, was about 56 per cent of the quantity on hand for civilians 12 months previous.

Sugar

Sugar—the home canning ration this year is severely tightened and coupons for no more than 700,000 tons can be issued in the 1945 season, compared with 1,150,000 tons last season. This reflects an excessive use of 1944 supplies and the fact that 1945 will see no more than 5,400,000 tons available for civilians as against 6,100,000 in 1944, 5,700,000 in 1943 and 7,350,000 in 1941.

Butter

Butter—Civilian creamery stocks are at such a low level that supplies in the hands of wholesalers and retailers must be increased if a fairer distribution is to be obtained. The total available for 1945 is expected to be smaller than last year.

Meat

Meat—Prospects at present are for supplies during the first three months of this year are about 15 per cent below the last three months of 1944 and also the first quarter of last year. This applies to both rationed and unrationed kinds. Hog production available for slaughter is about 25 per cent below a year ago.

Farm lumber

Farmers who need lumber for emergency maintenance and repair of farm dwellings may now apply to the War Food Administration for preference ratings instead of to the War Production Board Field Offices. WPB's Office of Civilian Requirements has transferred to WFA 15,000,900 board feet of lumber from its allotment for the first quarter of 1945 to provide lumber for emergency maintenance and repair of farm dwellings.

Trucks

Less than one fourth of the motor trucks estimated as needed to meet essential war and civilian transportation requirements during 1945 will be produced and distributed to commercial operators. The estimate is based on the 1945 civilian truck program approved by the War Production Board. Increased demands by the armed services for all types of motor transport was given as the chief reason for the severe reduction. The total authorized program amounts to 186,792 light, medium, light heavy and heavy trucks, or 24.1 per cent of the ODT stated requirement of 773,935 vehicles.

New gas burner

THINGS TO COME — A new burner for postwar gas ranges that produces a flame when completely enclosed has been developed by the American Gas Association, the Financial World reports. It will mean greater heating speeds and more efficient use of gas, as well as more positive control of heats for cooking . . . New merchandising technique for streamlined kitchen cabinets and cabinet sinks by Crosley Corporation whereby it will be unnecessary dealers to stock large inventories of the cabinets.

Red Cross surgical dressing units get a vacation next week

Arlington Heights women, who usually work on surgical dressings will have a vacation next week, but the chairmen are in hopes that the week's rest will place the women in a mood to exceed during the next four weeks all previous records.

Failure of the needed gauze to arrive is the reason for the vacation. The actual quota for Arlington Heights is larger than ever and either more workers must be found or present volunteers should lengthen their hours if that quota is to be met.

The surplus supply of dressings in this country is so low that dressings are being shipped within a week to the European war theatre. An all out effort is necessary on the part of the home folks of the boys if the fighting lines are going to get surgical dressings in sufficient quantity to save their lives.

Due to errors that appeared in the Red Cross hours published last week, a corrected list appears herewith. Cut it out for future reference. Workers will be welcomed at any of the units.

READING & WRITING

BY Edwin Seaver AND Robin McKown

"There are, it seems to me, two tragic facts in human existence. We do not appreciate what we have until we lose it, and we only advance through suffering."

BETSEY BARTON

So writes Betsey Barton in her book, "And Now to Live Again," which has to do with the problems of the disabled in finding a normal, creative existence. She writes from her own experience. When she was sixteen she was paralyzed as the result of an automobile accident. She went through a long period of utter discouragement and fear at the thought of meeting the outside world again. Then, ever so gradually, her courage came back.

Miss Barton refers to her own story only as an object lesson for others faced with a similar situation. She knows well the deep agony that results from physical disabilities. One story she tells is of an American major, a hero who lost a leg in the South Pacific, and who experienced his first moment of abject misery when, on his arrival at San Francisco, he imagined some boys were laughing at his initial attempts to walk.

She also knows of the ecstatic joy that comes from overcoming handicaps. An old man, who had lost both legs when he had jumped under a train to commit suicide, was being taught to walk again on artificial limbs. On the day he succeeded in mounting the model of the bus steps in the exercise room, he called triumphantly for someone to look at him, shouting, "I'm on top of the world!"

There's a dual selection from the Book-of-the-Month Club announced for March—Richard Wright's autobiography of his early life in the South, "Black Boy," and Glenway Wescott's novel about Greece under the Nazi occupation, "Apartment in Athens."

* * * * *

One of the Tall Tales in B. A. Botkin's "Treasury of American Folklore": "I come from a family of jumpers. I have a brother who jumped ten thousand dollars in debt, but he couldn't jump out again. And I had another brother who jumped from a church steeple into a wagon-load of hay. When he got half-way down I yelled, 'Look out, Jimmy, there's glass in that hay.'" "Terrible, what did he do?" "What did he do? Why he turned right around and jumped back again."

St. Peter Church expansion program

The treasurer's report showed a sizeable balance in the General Fund, with the congregation now debt free. For missions the congregation contributed $5,395.98, or $1,095.98 in excess of its budget for this purpose. For benevolences and educational institutions the congregation gathered $4,436.53. This figure includes an amount of $1,171.65 for Christian service to the church's members in the armed forces collected on Mother's Day.

A summary of activities during 1944 in the congregation and school was also submitted. The report for baptisms showed that 58 children received this sacrament during the year 1944. Of these children, 25 were beyond the stage of infancy or children of 1 to 14 years. A total of 42 children and adults were received through the rite of confirmation.

An unusual number of members died during the past year, including its venerable pastor emeritus, the Rev. C. M. Noack, and teacher, Rudolph Kranz. Among the departed was the congregation's first war casualty in the congregation's history, Norman W. Beese, ART2c.

Three young men are reported missing in action at this time, namely, Sgt. Theodore Meyer, Lt. Franklin Bublitz and Pfc. Harold Moehling, and one a prisoner of war in Germany, Lt. Glenroy Grewe. The congregation lists 170 men and women on its service roll.

The introduction of bi-monthly candlelight prayer services was very well received. The attendance was heartening and the offerings very gratifying.

The past year witnessed the resignation of H. C. Landeck, now an honorary teacher of the parish school and the calling of another man, Teacher A. W. Obermann of Proviso, Ill.

The 80th anniversary of the local school was observed during the week of November 5 to 12. This week was likewise designated as Lutheran Education Weed and observed with appropriate services and meetings. A sizeable offering was also gathered for school expansion. A reunion service of former Parish School pupils drew an attendance of 745.

The congregational constitution was revised, brought up to date, and adopted in the October congregation meeting. It also called for the creation of a Board of Christian Education charged with the supervision of the Parish School as well as all educational agencies in the congregation from the cradle to the grave.

Carrying out plans laid in previous years, the congregation this past year also placed new windows in the church building and installed an amplification system. The funds for both projects were donated by interested individuals. The amplifying system includes a loud speaker in the tower of the church as well as a phonograph with records in the sanctuary.

No. of Services in 1944

Regular English services	75
Special English Communion services	8
Candlelight Prayer services	5
German services	58
Total	146

Average Attendance

Regular English Services	428
All German Services	173
Candlelight Prayer Services	318
Total attendance at all services in 1944	47,719

The enrollment in our Parish School is now 263. The children are divided into grades as follows:
Grade 8—29.
Grade 7—29.
Grade 6—38.
Grade 5—20.
Grade 4—38
Grade 3—31.
Grade 2—24.
Grade 1—35.
Kindergarten—19.

The year 1944 has brought improvements. The Geisen Bus Co. now also transports children who live south of Arlington Heights. This bus carries an average of 20 children, while the north bus transports about 40. 74 children came into contact with the school for the first time during 1944.

In the October meeting the congregation abolished a set tuition fee and in its place encourages voluntary contributions by those parents who are not members of the church.

In the spring of 1944 the Mothers' Club presented the school with $260.00 to be spent for library books. As a result, the school now has many volumes of good, recommended children's books.

A slide-film projector was purchased by the school for classroom work. Slide and still-films will now be purchased to be used in teaching practically any subject in school. About $100.00 worth of slides and films have become property of the school.

A new sound-projector was also purchased in December. Regular programs of good sound films which are educational are being planned for the children. A microphone, purchased with the projector, makes possible its conversion into a public address system.

William Nightingale

William Nightingale, Sr., 85, 435 North ave., Barrington, a retired farmer, died Tuesday, January 16, at the Sherman hospital in Elgin following an illness of two months. Services were held Friday at 2:00 p. m. in the funeral home at 149 W. Main st., Barrington. The Rev. C. T. Doenecke of the Methodist church officiated. Burial was a Evergreen cemetery.

Wm. Nightingale, Sr., was born May 29, 1859, on a farm near Des Plaines, the son of Robert and Hanna Nightingale. On November 25, 1886, he was married to Mary Hagen, who preceded him in death May 8, 1943. For many years he farmed in the Barrington area and 27 years ago retired in the Village of Barrington where he became a member of the Methodist church.

Survivors include four sons, William and Harry of Barrington, R. of Lake Zurich and Roy of Rosemead, Calif; four daughters, Mamie Nightingale and Miss Florence Nightingale of Barrington, Mrs. Martha Song, Whitten, Ia., Mrs. Rose Yager of Chicago; six grandchildren, three great grandchildren, two sisters, Mrs. Anna Cox of Elgin, Miss Elizabeth Nightingale of Santa Monica, Calif. Two sons, Albert and Lee, preceded him in death, also 2 brothers, George and Robert. One of the grandsons, Henry Robert Yager, is in the U. S. Army at Camp Robinson, Ark.

Fuel oil

Harold L. Ickes, Petroleum Administrator for War, cautions home-heating oil users that stocks are below last year's level and that consumers should avoid excessive consumption that will deplete stocks too rapidly. "For the remainder of the heating season, meeting home-heating oil demands will be strictly touch-and-go. Fuel oil supplies are tight but adequate to meet current rationed demands," Administrator Ickes said. "However, there is not as much fuel oil available this year as there was 12 months ago. That means that over-consumption will make the problem more critical. Furthermore, military requirements have been stepped up, placing a further burden on American refiners."

Proves U. S. 'best fed, clothed' in world

Industries and agricultre lead the way in confident future

Mounting casualty lists and unexpected prolongation of the war with Germany have restrained the enthusiasm with which Americans are wont to celebrate the dawning of a new year. Yet there is much that this country can rejoice in as it contemplates the outlook for 1945.

Our fighting forces have packed into one year a record of military and naval accomplishment unparalleled in history. They are better clothed and better fed than the fighters of any other nation, and, with minor exceptions, their equipment is superior in quality and quantity to that of the enemy both in Europe and in the Pacific.

At home, civilians too are the best clothed and fed of any civilians anywhere, despite shortages and the necessity for stricter rationing.

Moreover, agriculture and industry—upon which nations today must place greater reliance than in any previous war—have, in America, been unscathed by enemy occupation or enemy bombs. The superior industrial and agricultural machine, which America possessed as early as World War I and has since built up to much greater proportions, is prepared to maintain with undiminished vigor the vital battle of production.

This is the keynote of the year-end statements of our leaders in many line of important homefront endeavor. "The automobile industry will not have to chart its course for 1945," says J. W. Frazer, president of Graham-Paige Motors. "It is the same one which has been followed so diligently for the past three years—win the war as quickly as possible by producing fighting weapons on a scale unequaled in the nation's history."

Rubber

The potent industrial force which America has mobilized to the point of being a decisive factor in the drives of the United Nations on every front is symbolized in the miracle that has occurred in rubber. This is brought strikingly to our attention in the year-end statement of John L. Collyer, president of the B. F. Goodrich company, who says that America's war-born synthetic rubber industry emerged in 1944 as the major source of the nation's rubber supply, accounting for 80 per cent of the year's consumption.

Even more significant, he says, is the fact that synthetic rubber production has climbed from a mere 6,000 tons in 1941 to a rate of 800,000 tons a year, which is faster than this nation ever consumed rubber, even in the all-time record year of 1941, when 781,000 tons were used. The number one problem of the rubber industry now and in 1945, Mr. Collyer points out, is not raw material, but how, with the manpower available, to build the material into sufficient war goods to meet the desperate needs.

Aluminum

As if rubber were not enough, we can also view with pride the country's achievement in multiplying by several times the capacity for production of the vital war and aviation metal, aluminum. In fact, says I. W. Wilson, vice-president of Aluminum Company of America, the industry in 1944 went far enough "over the top" in supplying needs of the United States and its allies to permit WPB to close down entirely a number of government-owned aluminum plants, releasing thousands of workers to shell-producing plants and other critical industries which need them badly for the final, all-out victory drive.

Even with substantial concurrent reduction in Alcoa's production, aluminum is still being made in this country at a rate three times that of the peacetime peak. Because of its availability, adds Mr. Wilson, aluminum during 1944 was not only returned to those military uses for which other materials had been substituted, but was, itself, substituted in many cases for other materials less plentiful in supply. The new year, he says, should see growing amounts of aluminum going into the semi-military and civilian uses which must be expanded as rapidly as manpower may be safely diverted to their development.

Lend-lease

War Food Administration reports that deliveries of food and other farm products for shipment to the Allies under Lend-Lease during November totaled 467,500,000 pounds, or 251,800,000 less than in October. In November 1943 shipments were 1,015,900,000 lbs. Of these totals the United Kingdom and British possessions received 52 per cent, Russia 41 per cent, and Greece, West Africa, North Africa, the Netherlands, Poland, Yugoslavia and the French Committee of National Liberation, 7 per cent.

Canned goods

Processed Foods—Needs of the armed forces for canned fruits are expected to remain heavy and military procurement needs and set aside requirements for canned vegetables from the 1944 pack were bigger than in 1943. The supply now on hand must be made to last until the next canning season. The present stocks of commercially canned vegetables on December 1, 1944, was about 56 per cent of the quantity on hand for civilians 12 months previous.

Sugar

Sugar—the home canning ration this year is severely tightened and coupons for no more than 700,000 tons can be issued in the 1945 season, compared with 1,150,000 tons last season. This reflects an excessive use of 1944 supplies and the fact that 1945 will see no more than 5,400,000 tons available for civilians as against 6,100,000 in 1944, 5,700,000 in 1943 and 7,350,000 in 1941.

Butter

Butter—Civilian creamery stocks are at such a low level that supplies in the hands of wholesalers and retailers must be increased if a fairer distribution is to be obtained. The total available for 1945 is expected to be smaller than last year.

Meat

Meat—Prospects at present are for supplies during the first three months of this year are about 15 per cent below the last three months of 1944 and also the first quarter of last year. This applies to both rationed and unrationed kinds. Hog production available for slaughter is about 25 per cent below a year ago.

Farm lumber

Farmers who need lumber for emergency maintenance and repair of farm dwellings may now apply to the War Food Administration for preference ratings instead of to the War Production Board Field Offices. WPB's Office of Civilian Requirements has transferred to WFA 15,000,900 board feet of lumber from its allotment for the first quarter of 1945 to provide lumber for emergency maintenance and repair of farm dwellings.

Trucks

Less than one fourth of the motor trucks estimated as needed to meet essential war and civilian transportation requirements during 1945 will be produced and distributed to commercial operators. The estimate is based on the 1945 civilian truck program approved by the War Production Board. Increased demands by the armed services for all types of motor transport was given as the chief reason for the severe reduction. The total authorized program amounts to 186,792 light, medium, light heavy and heavy trucks, or 24.1 per cent of the ODT stated requirement of 773,935 vehicles.

New gas burner

THINGS TO COME — A new burner for postwar gas ranges that produces a flame when completely enclosed has been developed by the American Gas Association, the Financial World reports. It will mean greater heating speeds and more efficient use of gas, as well as more positive control of heats for cooking . . . New merchandising technique for streamlined kitchen cabinets and cabinet sinks by Crosley Corporation whereby it will be unnecessary dealers to stock large inventories of the cabinets.

Red Cross surgical dressing units get a vacation next week

Arlington Heights women, who usually work on surgical dressings will have a vacation next week, but the chairmen are in hopes that the week's rest will place the women in a mood to exceed during the next four weeks all previous records.

Failure of the needed gauze to arrive is the reason for the vacation. The actual quota for Arlington Heights is larger than ever and either more workers must be found or present volunteers should lengthen their hours if that quota is to be met.

The surplus supply of dressings in this country is so low that dressings are being shipped within a week to the European war theatre. An all out effort is necessary on the part of the home folks of the boys if the fighting lines are going to get surgical dressings in sufficient quantity to save their lives.

Due to errors that appeared in the Red Cross hours published last week, a corrected list appears herewith. Cut it out for future reference. Workers will be welcomed at any of the units.

READING & WRITING

BY Edwin Seaver AND Robin McKown

"There are, it seems to me, two tragic facts in human existence. We do not appreciate what we have until we lose it, and we only advance through suffering."

BETSEY BARTON

So writes Betsey Barton in her book, "And Now to Live Again," which has to do with the problems of the disabled in finding a normal, creative existence. She writes from her own experience. When she was sixteen she was paralyzed as the result of an automobile accident. She went through a long period of utter discouragement and fear at the thought of meeting the outside world again. Then, ever so gradually, her courage came back.

Miss Barton refers to her own story only as an object lesson for others faced with a similar situation. She knows well the deep agony that results from physical disabilities. One story she tells is of an American major, a hero who lost a leg in the South Pacific, and who experienced his first moment of abject misery when, on his arrival at San Francisco, he imagined some boys were laughing at his initial attempts to walk.

She also knows of the ecstatic joy that comes from overcoming handicaps. An old man, who had lost both legs when he had jumped under a train to commit suicide, was being taught to walk again on artificial limbs. On the day he succeeded in mounting the model of the bus steps in the exercise room, he called triumphantly for someone to look at him, shouting, "I'm on top of the world!"

* * * * *

There's a dual selection from the Book-of-the-Month Club announced for March —Richard Wright's autobiography of his early life in the South, "Black Boy," and Glenway Wescott's novel about Greece under the Nazi occupation, "Apartment in Athens."

* * * * *

One of the Tall Tales in B. A. Botkin's "Treasury of American Folklore": "I come from a family of jumpers. I have a brother who jumped ten thousand dollars in debt, but he couldn't jump out again. And I had another brother who jumped from a church steeple into a wagon-load of hay. When he got half-way down I yelled, 'Look out, Jimmy, there's glass in that hay.'" "Terrible, what did he do?" "What did he do? Why he turned right around and jumped back again."

St. Peter Church expansion program

The treasurer's report showed a sizeable balance in the General Fund, with the congregation now debt free. For missions the congregation contributed $5,395.98, or $1,095.98 in excess of its budget for this purpose. For benevolences and educational institutions the congregation gathered $4,436.53. This figure includes an amount of $1,171.65 for Christian service to the church's members in the armed forces collected on Mother's Day.

A summary of activities during 1944 in the congregation and school was also submitted. The report for baptisms showed that 58 children received this sacrament during the year 1944. Of these children, 25 were beyond the stage of infancy or children of 1 to 14 years. A total of 42 children and adults were received through the rite of confirmation.

An unusual number of members died during the past year, including its venerable pastor emeritus, the Rev. C. M. Noack, and teacher, Rudolph Kranz. Among the departed was the congregation's first war casualty in the congregation's history, Norman W. Beese, ART2c.

Three young men are reported missing in action at this time, namely, Sgt. Theodore Meyer, Lt. Franklin Bublitz and Pfc. Harold Moehling, and one a prisoner of war in Germany, Lt. Glenroy Grewe. The congregation lists 170 men and women on its service roll.

The introduction of bi-monthly candlelight prayer services was very well received. The attendance was heartening and the offerings very gratifying.

The past year witnessed the resignation of H. C. Landeck, now an honorary teacher of the parish school and the calling of another man, Teacher A. W. Obermann of Proviso, Ill.

The 80th anniversary of the local school was observed during the week of November 5 to 12. This week was likewise designated as Lutheran Education Weed and observed with appropriate services and meetings. A sizeable offering was also gathered for school expansion. A reunion service of former Parish School pupils drew an attendance of 745.

The congregational constitution was revised, brought up to date, and adopted in the October congregation meeting. It also called for the creation of a Board of Christian Education charged with the supervision of the Parish School as well as all educational agencies in the congregation from the cradle to the grave.

Carrying out plans laid in previous years, the congregation this past year also placed new windows in the church building and installed an amplification system. The funds for both projects were donated by interested individuals. The amplifying system includes a loud speaker in the tower of the church as well as a phonograph with records in the sanctuary.

The enrollment in our Parish School is now 263. The children are divided into grades as follows:

Grade 8	29.
Grade 7	29.
Grade 6	38.
Grade 5	20.
Grade 4	38
Grade 3	31.
Grade 2	24.
Grade 1	35.

The year 1944 has brought improvements. The Geisen Bus Co. now also transports children who live south of Arlington Heights. This bus carries an average of 20 children, while the north bus transports about 40. 74 children came into contact with the school for the first time during 1944.

In the October meeting the congregation abolished a set tuition fee and in its place encourages voluntary contributions by those parents who are not members of the church.

In the spring of 1944 the Mothers' Club presented the school with $260.00 to be spent for library books. As a result, the school now has many volumes of good, recommended children's books.

A slide-film projector was purchased by the school for classroom work. Slide and still-films will now be purchased to be used in teaching practically any subject in school. About $100.00 worth of slides and films have become property of the school.

A new sound-projector was also purchased in December. Regular programs of good sound films which are educational are being planned for the children. A microphone, purchased with the projector, makes possible its conversion into a public address system.

Protein Needs

Milk and eggs and lean meat contain a high percentage of protein, which must be supplied to animals through their feed, and the amount of such protein products produced is in direct proportion to the needed protein feeds supplied.

Health enemy number one

by C. W. LUSSMAN
of Sieburg Pharmacy

Do you know America's public enemy No. 1? Nine out of ten readers will miss that question. It's not tuberculosis nor heart disease, but high blood pressure.

The American College of Physicians has called high blood pressure "the most serious disease in American life."

It is the more serious because of wide prevalency, because it is often too lightly regarded, and because it can lead to conditions which are difficult to correct.

As a killer, it has overtaken and passed heart disease. The annual rate of deaths attributable to high blood pressure runs into the hundreds of thousands.

Your doctor can determine whether you have an abnormal blood pressure. See him once a year. And take all prescriptions to a reputable druggist.

Consumption Studies

Consumption studies indicate that families with incomes of $500 to $1,000 per year spend nearly twice as much for food as do families receiving less than $500 per year. This same trend continues, but rises less steeply, with families in the higher income brackets. For instance, families with income of $2,000 to $3,000 per year spent in 1936 over $50 per person per year more for food than did families with incomes of one-half that amount—$1,000 to $1,500.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCHES

"Life" was the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, January 21.

The Golden Text was, "This is life eternal, that they might know thee the only true God, and Jesus Christ, whom thou hast sent" (John 17: 3).

Among the citations which comprised the Lesson-Sermon was the following from the Bible: "And Moses called all Israel, and said unto them, Hear, O Israel, the statutes and judgments which I speak in your ears this day, that ye may learn them, and keep, and do them. . . . Thou shalt have none other gods before me. . . . Ye shall walk in all the ways which the Lord your God hath commanded you, that ye may live, and that it may be well with you, and that ye may prolong your days in the land which ye shall possess" (Deu. 5: 1, 7, 33).

The Lesson-Sermon also included the following passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "The divine Principle of the First Commandment bases the Science of being, by which man demonstrates health, holiness, and life eternal. . . . Life is divine Principle, Mind, Soul, Spirit. Life is without beginning and without end. Eternity, not time, expresses the thought of Life, and time is no part of eternity. One ceases in proportion as the other is recognized. . . . Life is divine Mind. Life is not limited. Death and finiteness are unknown to Life. If Life ever had a beginning, it would also have an ending" (pp. 340, 468, 469).

Origin of American

The first recorded use of "American" found was in 1647 by the nonconformist clergyman, Nathaniel Ward of Ipswich, Mass. Jefferson was the first to use "Americanism," in 1797, and in the same year John Jay produced "Americanize."

Fabulous Diamonds

For centuries India was the premier source of fabulous diamonds, among the "Kohinoor" presented to Queen Victoria by the East India company; the lost "Great Mogul"; the "Pitt" or "Regent" bought by France's duke of Orleans; the "Orlof," a gift of Prince Orlof to Empress Catherine II of Russia. These stones ranged from 106 to 287 carats when cut.

IN these times we are all in the Army, fighting to win the War—quickly. And, even if you aren't on the production line of a defense plant, there's one thing you can do that will be a big help: You can see to it that you keep physically fit.

Go to your Physician now for a careful check-up. And, naturally, you'll want to bring his prescription to this "Reliable" pharmacy for expert attention.

Protein Needs

Milk and eggs and lean meat contain a high percentage of protein, which must be supplied to animals through their feed, and the amount of such protein products produced is in direct proportion to the needed protein feeds supplied.

Health enemy number one

by C. W. LUSSMAN
of Sieburg Pharmacy

Do you know America's public enemy No. 1? Nine out of ten readers will miss that question. It's not tuberculosis nor heart disease, but high blood pressure.

The American College of Physicians has called high blood pressure "the most serious disease in American life."

It is the more serious because of wide prevalency, because it is often too lightly regarded, and because it can lead to conditions which are difficult to correct.

As a killer, it has overtaken and passed heart disease. The annual rate of deaths attributable to high blood pressure runs into the hundreds of thousands.

Your doctor can determine whether you have an abnormal blood pressure. See him once a year. And take all prescriptions to a reputable druggist.

Consumption Studies

Consumption studies indicate that families with incomes of $500 to $1,000 per year spend nearly twice as much for food as do families receiving less than $500 per year. This same trend continues, but rises less steeply, with families in the higher income brackets. For instance, families with income of $2,000 to $3,000 per year spent in 1936 over $50 per person per year more for food than did families with incomes of one-half that amount—$1,000 to $1,500.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCHES

"Life" was the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, January 21.

The Golden Text was, "This is life eternal, that they might know thee the only true God, and Jesus Christ, whom thou hast sent" (John 17: 3).

Among the citations which comprised the Lesson-Sermon was the following from the Bible: "And Moses called all Israel, and said unto them, Hear, O Israel, the statutes and judgments which I speak in your ears this day, that ye may learn them, and keep, and do them. . . . Thou shalt have none other gods before me. . . . Ye shall walk in all the ways which the Lord your God hath commanded you, that ye may live, and that it may be well with you, and that ye may prolong your days in the land which ye shall possess" (Deu. 5: 1, 7, 33).

The Lesson-Sermon also included the following passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "The divine Principle of the First Commandment bases the Science of being, by which man demonstrates health, holiness, and life eternal. . . . Life is divine Principle, Mind, Soul, Spirit. Life is without beginning and without end. Eternity, not time, expresses the thought of Life, and time is no part of eternity. One ceases in proportion as the other is recognized. . . . Life is divine Mind. Life is not limited. Death and finiteness are unknown to Life. If Life ever had a beginning, it would also have an ending" (pp. 340, 468, 469).

Origin of American

The first recorded use of "American" found was in 1647 by the nonconformist clergyman, Nathaniel Ward of Ipswich, Mass. Jefferson was the first to use "Americanism," in 1797, and in the same year John Jay produced "Americanize."

Fabulous Diamonds

For centuries India was the premier source of fabulous diamonds, among the "Kohinoor" presented to Queen Victoria by the East India company; the lost "Great Mogul"; the "Pitt" or "Regent" bought by France's duke of Orleans; the "Orlof," a gift of Prince Orlof to Empress Catherine II of Russia. These stones ranged from 106 to 287 carats when cut.

IN these times we are all in the Army, fighting to win the War—quickly. And, even if you aren't on the production line of a defense plant, there's one thing you can do that will be a big help: You can see to it that you keep physically fit.

Go to your Physician now for a careful check-up. And, naturally, you'll want to bring his prescription to this "Reliable" pharmacy for expert attention.

Kathyrn Weidner bride of Palatine navy man

Kathryn Weidner, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Engelbert Weidner, Arlington Heights, became the bride of George Folz, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles G. Folz, Palatine, in the parsonage of the St. James church, Arlington Heights, January 20, at 3:30 p. m. Rev. Father Stier officiated at the double ring ceremony.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was charming in a white satin gown designed with a sweetheart neckline embroidered with seed pearls, a full skirt and a train. She wore a finger tip veil held in place with a crown of seed pearls. Her colonial bouquet was of white roses, sweet peas and fern.

Miss Bertha Mayer, maid of honor, was lovely in a pink brocaded taffeta gown with a sweetheart neckline and full skirt. She wore a head piece of pink flowers and carried a colonial bouquet of pink roses and blue sweet peas.

Stanley A. Coleman, ROM3c, USN, of Villa Park, shipmate of the groom, acted as best man.

The mothers of the bride and groom were both attired in green and wore corsages of white carnations.

A turkey dinner was served at the home of the bride for the immediate families.

A reception was held at 8:30 in the recreation room where more than a hundred guests enjoyed a buffet lunch and dancing.

The bride has accompanied her husband, George Folz, signalman, second class, USN, to the west coast.

Florence Bourke Ellis Book review

You don't have to be asked twice to attend a book review by Florence Bourke Ellis. Her name is well known to everyone so we will just tell you when and where and we will be expecting you. The place is the Arlington Heights auditorium, the date is February 25 at 8 p. m. Tickets are 50c including tax. Mrs. Ellis kept us glued to our seats last year with her review "Under Cover" by John Roy Carlson.

She has not yet announced what she will review for us this time, but we can be assured that we will enjoy it. The book review is being sponsored by the Junior Woman's Club.

University professor here to visit parents

Walter Militzer, Lincoln, Nebraska, was in Arlington part of the week visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Theo. Militzer, and particularly his mother who has been ill but is now considered on the road to recovery, Mr. Militzer is professor in the chemistry department of the University of Nebraska. Incidently Walter got his start on his road to "letters" in the office of Paddock Publications, nearly a quarter of a century ago.

Nurse's club elects officers

The regular meeting of the Arlington Heights nurses club was held at the home of Mrs. Viola Ford Friday evening.

Following the business meeting the evening was enjoyed with cards and refreshments. At the annual election the following offices were filled: Mrs. G. H. Bascom, pres.; Mrs. Wm. Brown, vice pres.; Mrs. Gladys Overton, sec'y., and Mrs. Olga Osbeck, treas.

The next meeting will be held February 16 at the home of Mrs. Helen McAuliffe, 524 Banbury rd.

The program will include reports of the operating committees of the Council: Camping and Activities, Otto E. Harz, chairman; Advancement, Oscar C. Kurtz, chairman; Finance, John L. Bell, chairman; Training, F. R. Lindquist, chairman.

John F. Gillick, council president, Wm. F. Kratt, council commissioner and Stanley H. Huntington, scout executive, will review the year's activity. New council officers will be elected.

The Silver Beaver will be presented to a scouter for his outstanding service to boyhood through scouting.

Two Navy corpsmen and two Marines teamed up to furnish approximately 200 pounds of fish for members of Major General Louis E. Woods' Fourth Marine Air Wing, somewhere in the Marshalls. For want of a better name, the species is called "gizmo" fish. The unit's medical officer certified their edibility before the fish were placed on the table. The quartet, whose catch provided a welcome change of diet for the Leathernecks, are, left to right: Pharmacist's Mates Second Class Tommy C. Goodwin of Los Angeles, Cal., and Robert S. Dersham of Sterling, Colo.; Technical Sgt. Thomas R. Olsen of Sioux Falls, S. D., and Sgt. Jethro K. Jones, of Atlanta, Ga.

Mr. & Mrs. Fred Folleth married fifty years

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Folleth, 130 East Chicago ave., Palatine were married fifty years Monday, January 22, an event that was observed with a small dinner party and an open house during the afternoon and evening. Those present at the dinner included their cousins, Mr. and Mrs. Dan Sturm who were present at their marriage January 22, 1895. Others seated around the table, aside from the immediate family were Mr. and Mrs. Albert Behr and daughter, Mrs. Sutera, of Chicago, Mrs. Josephine Landman and Walter Sturm. A large bouquet of yellow roses graced the table while Mrs. Folleth wore a fine corsage of tea roses. A three tier wedding cake, a replica of the one of fifty years ago, received admiring glances from those who called to pay their respects.

Mr. and Mrs. Folleth are both the last members of their own generation in their respective families with the exception of a step brother of Mr. Folleth, Louis Haeckel, 94, Fairmount, Minn., whose health did not permit him to be present. The Folleths will spend many hours reading the happy sentiments expresed on the cards that accompanied the many gifts they received that day. Their only regret was the absence of their granddaughter, Margaret Schiltz, who has the whooping cough.

Mr. Folleth has a vivid idea as to what happened in Alsace Lorraine when the present war started as he was a lad of ten years when Germany first took that province from the French. The public had to stop the use of the French language and learn the German. Mr. Folleth has lived under three flags, the French, German and the United States, "but the greatest of all is the American," says Fred. He has a number of nieces and nephews who when last heard from resided in Metz and Mulhausen.

North Western adds new light to rear of trains

As an added safety feature in train operations, the Chicago and North Western Railway Company is installing newly-developed red oscillating lights on the rear of its principal passenger trains.

The new light is basically similar to the red and white oscillating headlights which were pioneered by the North Western and are in use on many of its trains. The flashing rear light, which weighs only twenty-five pounds and can be fastened easily on the end of any passenger car, will operate only in emergencies. When a train is brought to an emergency stop, the flagman pushes a switch which starts the red light cutting a large figure "8" before he gets off the train to post signal lighs and otherwise protect his train. The red light is left on while the train is moving slowly.

The new rear light is the third type of oscillating light developed from joint research by the North Western and the Mars Signal Light Company of Chicago. The first light was a white oscillating headlight introduced in 1936. Last summer the North Western brought out a new dual purpose oscillating headlight which normally throws a flashing white light which instantly changes to red during emergency stops. Oscillating lights have the advantage over stationary beams of light in that their movement is perceived at great distances. The purpose of the red light is to protect a train from being struck by other trains.

Vegetables

St. Patrick's Day is still a long way off, but green is most appropriate at home dinner tables right now as liberal supplies of spinach and other greens are coming to Chicago markets from southern producing regions. The War Food Administration reports that these greens are selling at very reasonable prices, for the most part. Nearly all markets carry spinach, while a more limited number will have dandelion greens, mustard and turnip tops, kale, and collards. Cooking greens has become a matter of minutes instead of hours . . . and the less time you take to cook the greens, the more vitamins and minerals you save.

Two "elegant" vegetables—broccoli and cauliflower—are in rather liberal supply this week. The rich green color of the flowers make broccoli good to look at . . . and it's good tasting and rich in vitamin A, calcium and iron. While cauliflower remains a more "exclusive" member of the cabbage family, partly because the crop is smaller in comparison to cabbage and the prices higher, it is claiming a more prominent place on everyday American menus and prices are moderate to high this week. Turnips, rutabagas, and winter squash are good buys for the average homemaker. Supplies of green beans are increasing, but prices are on the high side. Cucumbers, peppers, shallots and endive are also in the upper brackets. Carrot prices seem to be edging slightly lower, and cabbage is another fairly moderately priced item for the market basket. Sweet potatoes will provide nutritious energy-giving servings at moderate cost.

Apples, small sized oranges, and grapefruit constitute the main offerings in the fruit line. Winter pears will add variety to salads and desserts, and there are also some table grapes. The salad fruit of the tropics—the avocado—should not be forgotten at this time of the year. The prices are pretty high, but it's rich in food value and a little goes a long way.

Walther league to be host to NW suburban zone

The Arlington Heights Walther Leaguers will be host to their fellow leaguers of the Northwest Suburban Zone Sunday, January 28, when the annual Winter Rally will be held at St. Peter Lutheran Church, Arlington Heights, at 3:45 p. m. It will be a combined rally. Juniors and seniors will meet in separate sessions.

Baganz trio to present sacred concert

The Baganz Instrumental Trio will present a sacred concert at the Arlington Heights Lutheran church Friday, February 2 at 8 p. m. under the sponsorship of the Lutheran Laymen's League. The harpist, Otto Baganz, is widely acclaimed a very talented and skilled musician. He began playing the harp at the age of nine years and has acquired a marvelously brilliant technique on an instrument which is one of the most difficult to master.

Assisting Mr. Baganz in his concert are his son, Reuben, featuring the marimba and Miss Rhoda Trapp with vibraharp and chimes.

The concert program features the Lutheran chorale and christian hymn. It is so arranged and played that it will afford the audience not only a passing delight and superficial enjoyment, but spiritual edification.

Ladies aid birthday party

The Ladies Aid of the Arlington Heights Presbyterian church will hold a business meeting and birthday party Thursday, February 1, in the church manse. A pot luck luncheon will be served at 12:30 by the members of the February committee followed by the regular business meeting.

Hi-League are hosts

The Methodist church Hi-League entertained the seventh and eighth grades of the Presbyterian church at a pot luck supper Sunday evening in the Methodist church gymnasium.

Mrs. H. J. Gregg gave an interesting talk on her childhood life in China which was enjoyed by everyone present.

Girl scout troop

Girl Scout Troop No. 5 have had their Brownie Fly-up and are again back to working for badges. Officers were elected Monday and the troop is showing great improvement.

Engagement

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Peterson, Arlington Heights, announce the engagement of their eldest daughter, Joycelyn, to Cpl. Donald Spalding Balser, son of Mr. Carl Balser, Arlington Heights. Cpl. Balser is an instructor in the Army Air Corps stationed at Harvard, Nebraska.

Shirley Milligan and Maj. W. Randall marry

At a candlelight ceremony last Thursday afternoon, January 18, Shirley Ann Milligan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Loring A. Platt of Barrington, was married to Major Wilmer A. Randall, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Randall of Little Rock, Ark. The marriage service was read in the Platt home on West Main street at 4:30 o'clock with the Rev. Father Alexander Thane, pastor of St. Anne's church, officiating.

Miss Margaret Platt was her sister's maid of honor, and Carl A. Metz of Chicago was the best man. The bride was given in marriage by her father while her youngest sister, Patricia, played the wedding march.

The bride wore a three-piece suit of tropical beige with a fur bandeau hat and brown accessories. A corsage of violets completed her attire. Her attendant wore a light tone gray suit and had American Beauty roses in her hair and her corsage was made of the same flowers.

At 6:30 the bridal party and immediate family, a group of 18, enjoyed a wedding dinner at the Tally-Ho in Park Ridge.

The couple spent a few days in Chicago and left Wednesday for Little Rock to visit the bridegroom's parents. On February 1 they will be at home at Liberal, Kans., where he has an assignment at the Army air field. His duties are on the Training Standardization board and as aircraft accident officer. Major Randall is a graduate of the University of Arkansas.

Kathyrn Weidner bride of Palatine navy man

Kathryn Weidner, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Engelbert Weidner, Arlington Heights, became the bride of George Folz, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles G. Folz, Palatine, in the parsonage of the St. James church, Arlington Heights, January 20, at 3:30 p. m. Rev. Father Stier officiated at the double ring ceremony.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was charming in a white satin gown designed with a sweetheart neckline embroidered with seed pearls, a full skirt and a train. She wore a finger tip veil held in place with a crown of seed pearls. Her colonial bouquet was of white roses, sweet peas and fern.

Miss Bertha Mayer, maid of honor, was lovely in a pink brocaded taffeta gown with a sweetheart neckline and full skirt. She wore a head piece of pink flowers and carried a colonial bouquet of pink roses and blue sweet peas.

Stanley A. Coleman, ROM3c, USN, of Villa Park, shipmate of the groom, acted as best man.

The mothers of the bride and groom were both attired in green and wore corsages of white carnations.

A turkey dinner was served at the home of the bride for the immediate families.

A reception was held at 8:30 in the recreation room where more than a hundred guests enjoyed a buffet lunch and dancing.

The bride has accompanied her husband, George Folz, signalman, second class, USN, to the west coast.

Florence Bourke Ellis Book review

You don't have to be asked twice to attend a book review by Florence Bourke Ellis. Her name is well known to everyone so we will just tell you when and where and we will be expecting you. The place is the Arlington Heights auditorium, the date is February 25 at 8 p. m. Tickets are 50c including tax. Mrs. Ellis kept us glued to our seats last year with her review "Under Cover" by John Roy Carlson.

She has not yet announced what she will review for us this time, but we can be assured that we will enjoy it. The book review is being sponsored by the Junior Woman's Club.

University professor here to visit parents

Walter Militzer, Lincoln, Nebraska, was in Arlington part of the week visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Theo. Militzer, and particularly his mother who has been ill but is now considered on the road to recovery, Mr. Militzer is professor in the chemistry department of the University of Nebraska. Incidently Walter got his start on his road to "letters" in the office of Paddock Publications, nearly a quarter of a century ago.

Nurse's club elects officers

The regular meeting of the Arlington Heights nurses club was held at the home of Mrs. Viola Ford Friday evening.

Following the business meeting the evening was enjoyed with cards and refreshments. At the annual election the following offices were filled: Mrs. G. H. Bascom, pres.; Mrs. Wm. Brown, vice pres.; Mrs. Gladys Overton, sec'y., and Mrs. Olga Osbeck, treas.

The next meeting will be held February 16 at the home of Mrs. Helen McAuliffe, 524 Banbury rd.

The program will include reports of the operating committees of the Council: Camping and Activities, Otto E. Harz, chairman; Advancement, Oscar C. Kurtz, chairman; Finance, John L. Bell, chairman; Training, F. R. Lindquist, chairman.

John F. Gillick, council president, Wm. F. Kratt, council commissioner and Stanley H. Huntington, scout executive, will review the year's activity. New council officers will be elected.

The Silver Beaver will be presented to a scouter for his outstanding service to boyhood through scouting.

Two Navy corpsmen and two Marines teamed up to furnish approximately 200 pounds of fish for members of Major General Louis E. Woods' Fourth Marine Air Wing, somewhere in the Marshalls. For want of a better name, the species is called "gizmo" fish. The unit's medical officer certified their edibility before the fish were placed on the table. The quartet, whose catch provided a welcome change of diet for the Leathernecks, are, left to right: Pharmacist's Mates Second Class Tommy C. Goodwin of Los Angeles, Cal., and Robert S. Dersham of Sterling, Colo.; Technical Sgt. Thomas R. Olsen of Sioux Falls, S. D., and Sgt. Jethro K. Jones, of Atlanta, Ga.

Mr. & Mrs. Fred Folleth married fifty years

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Folleth, 130 East Chicago ave., Palatine were married fifty years Monday, January 22, an event that was observed with a small dinner party and an open house during the afternoon and evening. Those present at the dinner included their cousins, Mr. and Mrs. Dan Sturm who were present at their marriage January 22, 1895. Others seated around the table, aside from the immediate family were Mr. and Mrs. Albert Behr and daughter, Mrs. Sutera, of Chicago, Mrs. Josephine Landman and Walter Sturm. A large bouquet of yellow roses graced the table while Mrs. Folleth wore a fine corsage of tea roses. A three tier wedding cake, a replica of the one of fifty years ago, received admiring glances from those who called to pay their respects.

Mr. and Mrs. Folleth are both the last members of their own generation in their respective families with the exception of a step brother of Mr. Folleth, Louis Haeckel, 94, Fairmount, Minn., whose health did not permit him to be present. The Folleths will spend many hours reading the happy sentiments expresed on the cards that accompanied the many gifts they received that day. Their only regret was the absence of their granddaughter, Margaret Schiltz, who has the whooping cough.

Mr. Folleth has a vivid idea as to what happened in Alsace Lorraine when the present war started as he was a lad of ten years when Germany first took that province from the French. The public had to stop the use of the French language and learn the German. Mr. Folleth has lived under three flags, the French, German and the United States, "but the greatest of all is the American," says Fred. He has a number of nieces and nephews who when last heard from resided in Metz and Mulhausen.

North Western adds new light to rear of trains

As an added safety feature in train operations, the Chicago and North Western Railway Company is installing newly-developed red oscillating lights on the rear of its principal passenger trains.

The new light is basically similar to the red and white oscillating headlights which were pioneered by the North Western and are in use on many of its trains. The flashing rear light, which weighs only twenty-five pounds and can be fastened easily on the end of any passenger car, will operate only in emergencies. When a train is brought to an emergency stop, the flagman pushes a switch which starts the red light cutting a large figure "8" before he gets off the train to post signal lighs and otherwise protect his train. The red light is left on while the train is moving slowly.

The new rear light is the third type of oscillating light developed from joint research by the North Western and the Mars Signal Light Company of Chicago. The first light was a white oscillating headlight introduced in 1936. Last summer the North Western brought out a new dual purpose oscillating headlight which normally throws a flashing white light which instantly changes to red during emergency stops. Oscillating lights have the advantage over stationary beams of light in that their movement is perceived at great distances. The purpose of the red light is to protect a train from being struck by other trains.

Walther league to be host to NW suburban zone

The Arlington Heights Walther Leaguers will be host to their fellow leaguers of the Northwest Suburban Zone Sunday, January 28, when the annual Winter Rally will be held at St. Peter Lutheran Church, Arlington Heights, at 3:45 p. m. It will be a combined rally. Juniors and seniors will meet in separate sessions.

Vegetables

St. Patrick's Day is still a long way off, but green is most appropriate at home dinner tables right now as liberal supplies of spinach and other greens are coming to Chicago markets from southern producing regions. The War Food Administration reports that these greens are selling at very reasonable prices, for the most part. Nearly all markets carry spinach, while a more limited number will have dandelion greens, mustard and turnip tops, kale, and collards. Cooking greens has become a matter of minutes instead of hours . . . and the less time you take to cook the greens, the more vitamins and minerals you save.

Two "elegant" vegetables—broccoli and cauliflower—are in rather liberal supply this week. The rich green color of the flowers make broccoli good to look at . . . and it's good tasting and rich in vitamin A, calcium and iron. While cauliflower remains a more "exclusive" member of the cabbage family, partly because the crop is smaller in comparison to cabbage and the prices higher, it is claiming a more prominent place on everyday American menus and prices are moderate to high this week. Turnips, rutabagas, and winter squash are good buys for the average homemaker. Supplies of green beans are increasing, but prices are on the high side. Cucumbers, peppers, shallots and endive are also in the upper brackets. Carrot prices seem to be edging slightly lower, and cabbage is another fairly moderately priced item for the market basket. Sweet potatoes will provide nutritious energy-giving servings at moderate cost.

Apples, small sized oranges, and grapefruit constitute the main offerings in the fruit line. Winter pears will add variety to salads and desserts, and there are also some table grapes. The salad fruit of the tropics—the avocado—should not be forgotten at this time of the year. The prices are pretty high, but it's rich in food value and a little goes a long way.

Baganz trio to present sacred concert

The Baganz Instrumental Trio will present a sacred concert at the Arlington Heights Lutheran church Friday, February 2 at 8 p. m. under the sponsorship of the Lutheran Laymen's League. The harpist, Otto Baganz, is widely acclaimed a very talented and skilled musician. He began playing the harp at the age of nine years and has acquired a marvelously brilliant technique on an instrument which is one of the most difficult to master.

Assisting Mr. Baganz in his concert are his son, Reuben, featuring the marimba and Miss Rhoda Trapp with vibraharp and chimes.

The concert program features the Lutheran chorale and christian hymn. It is so arranged and played that it will afford the audience not only a passing delight and superficial enjoyment, but spiritual edification.

Ladies aid birthday party

The Ladies Aid of the Arlington Heights Presbyterian church will hold a business meeting and birthday party Thursday, February 1, in the church manse. A pot luck luncheon will be served at 12:30 by the members of the February committee followed by the regular business meeting.

Hi-League are hosts

The Methodist church Hi-League entertained the seventh and eighth grades of the Presbyterian church at a pot luck supper Sunday evening in the Methodist church gymnasium.

Mrs. H. J. Gregg gave an interesting talk on her childhood life in China which was enjoyed by everyone present.

Girl scout troop

Girl Scout Troop No. 5 have had their Brownie Fly-up and are again back to working for badges. Officers were elected Monday and the troop is showing great improvement.

Shirley Milligan and Maj. W. Randall marry

At a candlelight ceremony last Thursday afternoon, January 18, Shirley Ann Milligan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Loring A. Platt of Barrington, was married to Major Wilmer A. Randall, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Randall of Little Rock, Ark. The marriage service was read in the Platt home on West Main street at 4:30 o'clock with the Rev. Father Alexander Thane, pastor of St. Anne's church, officiating.

Miss Margaret Platt was her sister's maid of honor, and Carl A. Metz of Chicago was the best man. The bride was given in marriage by her father while her youngest sister, Patricia, played the wedding march.

The bride wore a three-piece suit of tropical beige with a fur bandeau hat and brown accessories. A corsage of violets completed her attire. Her attendant wore a light tone gray suit and had American Beauty roses in her hair and her corsage was made of the same flowers.

At 6:30 the bridal party and immediate family, a group of 18, enjoyed a wedding dinner at the Tally-Ho in Park Ridge.

The couple spent a few days in Chicago and left Wednesday for Little Rock to visit the bridegroom's parents. On February 1 they will be at home at Liberal, Kans., where he has an assignment at the Army air field. His duties are on the Training Standardization board and as aircraft accident officer. Major Randall is a graduate of the University of Arkansas.

9th district Legion auxiliary holds meeting

The January meeting of the ninth district of the American Legion Auxiliary was held at the Wilson Park Field house, Chicago. The meeting was opened by a procession of fifteen unit colors led by the district colors.

Following the opening ceremonies the membership chairman, Mrs. Lucia Lackowski, was asked to give her report on membership. Mrs. Lackowski announced that a new auxiliary unit is being organized and that ten members have already been signed up. This unit will hold an election of officers at a later date.

The total district membership is now 2,495. Mrs. Lackowski is offering a prize to the unit showing the largest increase over last year ending March 19.

The child welfare chairman, Mrs. Mary Schwartz, announced that the Christmas parties given for the children in various institutions, were very successful and read letters of thanks and appreciation from these institutions.

Mrs. Jeanette Kosbie, National Defense chairman, announced that the district was well on its way toward the purchase of a third hospital plane in the Silver Wings of Mercy Fleet through the sales of war bonds and stamps.

She introduced her guest, Mrs. Katherine Stack, department 2nd vice president, who commended the district on their fine showing in the Silver Wings of Mercy department project, and stated that our first job at hand is to hasten the end of this war. During the twenty-one days between June 10 and July 1—7,432 casualties were flown from the Normandy coast in hospital planes. A short question and answer skit on universal military training was then given by Mrs. Stack and Mrs. Kosbic.

Mrs. Marcella Fritz, Americanism chairman, gave a brief report on the party held at the Juvenile Detention home January 11. She then presented Mr. Elliodor Libonati, department Americanism chairman of the American Legion, who spoke of the important legislation coming up this year, such as the bill for universal military training, known as H. R. 515. He said that it is imperative that the American Legion and Auxiliary get behind this bill as it will meet with a great deal of opposition. Mr. Libonati also spoke of the importance of holding the essay contests in the school as they bring out intelligence, scholarship and leadership in the student which is the basis of good citizenship.

Mrs. Ethel Davis, rehabilitation chairman, thanked the members who had worked at Hines hospital during December. Seventy-five Christmas trees were trimmed and many gifts for the veterans were wrapped and distributed. Each auxiliary unit is being asked to contribute three dollars toward a cash bingo party to be held at Hines hospital April 25. The need for Red Cross workers at Hines is still urgent. A total of 9,459 surgical dressings have been made by 108 members attending in the last two months. These dressings are all needed and used at the hospital. The surgical dressing unit meets every Tuesday at Hines hospital. Mrs. Davis also thanked those who assisted in wrapping over 2,000 Christmas packages at the Northwest Armory for service men and women.

District women plan music fete

The Music department of the Seventh District Illinois Federation of Women's Clubs will present Mae Doelling Schmidt, pianist, a faculty member of the American Conservatory of Music, and State Chairman of International Music Relations of the Illinois Federation of Music Clubs, in a recital "A Musical Journey" to Latin America and China on Wednesday, Jan. 31, at 1:30 p. m. at the Jefferson Park Field House, Higgins and Long Avenues. Miss Hilma Puhl, contralto, will assist her.

"When words fail, music speaks" might well be the slogan adopted by Mae Doelling Schmidt, suggests the musical leader. Mrs. Schmidt's tremendous research into music of the Americas makes her one of the best equipped lecturers on this particular subject. She is one of the finest pianists on the concert stage and she illustrates her lectures with most effective music.

Mrs. Jos. Buncik, S. State rd., who has been ill several weeks, is convalescing.

Mrs. J. C. Kleiner of Decatur, Ill., is staying with her sister, Mrs. Charles Pavel, 306 N. Vail st., to help care for her father, Wm. Tesch, who is very ill.

Misses Frances and Amy Crisler of Glen Ellyn visited Arlington Heights friends Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. N. Mayer were guests Sunday of Princess Uogadi from India, who is now attending school in Chicago. She recently finished a course in the Art Institute and is completing a course this week at Marquette College.

Mrs. Marvin Pingel and son are visiting Mr. and Mrs. Albert Wenzel and other Arlington Heights relatives.

Miss Paula Syoen of Chicago was a week end guest at the Geo. Syoen home. Mr. and Mrs. Syoen entertained Mr. Francis Syoen, Chicago, at dinner Sunday.

Mrs. Glen Thompson and children, Des Plaines, visited her mother, Mrs. O. M. Johnson, Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Ogren are enjoying a visit with their granddaughter, Virginia, from the city.

Mr. M. L. Reis has been unable to work because of muscular injury.

Wm. Cleveland, S1c visited his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Cleveland Monday night. He has just finished his boot training at Great Lakes and has 9 days furlough before he is assigned to a radio school.

Just Around the Corner

Dear Mary:

The hollow stump of a main limb on our old apple tree was lined with white last week and even the veteran's slimmest branches were carrying a triple weight of snow. Mary, I just don't LIKE that man who wrote in Reader's Digest that snow was a push over for beginners. It could be, though that I'm an exception, blundering and smearing around with my pastel crayons. Anyway the snow heaped at the base of the tree and making a fringed white muffler up its trunk just looked on my picture—well, sort of as if I'd forgotten something. And the stump itself like an over sized cup handle. And the quince bush, intended for background detail dripped from the tree top like blown off twigs. Darn it, I won't give up doing anything that gives me so much pleasure even if it is diluted with a good deal of disgusted frustration.

I know you feel as I do when friends must bear this war's anguish—that each pang of theirs strikes deeper into your heart's core for not possessing any certain way of bringing them even momentary solace. I think it as you say, perhaps the knowledge that we love them helps—that and our standing by to catch the despairing hands and hold them steady, or as you wished to do—send them strength and wisdom from the pens of those who have known through the ages the ebony of loss and the sustenance of love.

Fra Giovanni writing in 1513 has left those beautiful words you quoted in your last week's letter. They will never grow meaningless because they offer comfort for the world's brave of heart no matter when they live. Sometimes I think the test of really great literature is that it can ignore the march of centuries, having said something (with clarity and loveliness) that will always be so. The Bible does this. Shakespeare has done it. I wonder how many of our best sellers of today will stand that test.

I'm excited about something Mary. It's Federal Aid Bill H. P. 2849 (same as Senate Bill 637). It provides for 100,000,000 dollars for low spots and equalizing of opportunities in education, and 200,000,000 for the raising of teachers' salaries. (Do you know the Illinois Education Association is still trying to put legislation into effect that will guarantee a minimum annual salary of $1000!)

I have always been distressed about the lack of educational opportunity in some sections of our country but the subject of teachers' salaries is one that brings all my native pugnacity right out in print.

I knew teachers in Missouri ten years ago who were making thirty-five dollars a month. I've known one splendid teacher after another who has been forced to change his profession because he couldn't feed his wife and children on his pay.

There are thirty-four states in the union whose local communities bear less of the financial burden for education than do those in Illinois, and Illinois ranks thirty-third when you compare its income with the amount of money it spends toward education.

The charge has been made that only teachers are interested in the passage of this bill. I can not understand why any good parent, any property owner, any one else who cares about the future of our country or for even selfish reasons about our youth would NOT be. How can they concede the significance of schools, put children in teachers' hands and then give to these sculptors a SCRUB WOMAN'S salary? You see, you'd better not get me started. Real soon there will be a meeting here to help those of us who want 2849 passed plan some action.

I'm so glad your throat infection was vanquished enough so that you could see "Harriet". Goodness, I haven't seen Helen Hayes for more than ten years. Did you and your 'best beau' have the same reaction to the play?

With love, Elly.

Mrs. E. McNeely, N. State rd., will be hostess to the Sunshine Club January 25.

Will exhibit work of wood cut artists

Have you wondered how woodcuts, etchings and lithographs were made? Can you distinguish one from the other?

Members of the Arlington Heights Woman's Club will have the opportunity of hearing about these interesting techniques from the wife of one of Chicago's outstanding woodcut artists.

Mrs. Charles Turzak, who has worked with her husband in the publishing of woodcut biographies of "Abraham Lincoln", "Benjamin Franklin", "Thomas Jefferson," "John Marshall" and "George Washington", will have an exhibit of woodcuts from these books as well as a great many other prints. Some are black and white, others beautifully colored. Mr. Turzak personally pulls the proofs.

No one should miss this enjoyable and inspiring discussion Wednesday, February 7, at 1:30 p. m.

Mrs. Christ Dettmann spent the week end of January 14 visiting her husband, Pvt. Dettman, stationed in New York. Enroute home she visited her sister, Mrs. DeBiase in Providence, R. I., returning to Arlington Heights Tuesday evening.

Miss Millie Johnson, after a four months absence due to an injured right arm, has returned to work with the C. N. W. Ry. Co.

9th district Legion auxiliary holds meeting

The January meeting of the ninth district of the American Legion Auxiliary was held at the Wilson Park Field house, Chicago. The meeting was opened by a procession of fifteen unit colors led by the district colors.

Following the opening ceremonies the membership chairman, Mrs. Lucia Lackowski, was asked to give her report on membership. Mrs. Lackowski announced that a new auxiliary unit is being organized and that ten members have already been signed up. This unit will hold an election of officers at a later date.

The total district membership is now 2,495. Mrs. Lackowski is offering a prize to the unit showing the largest increase over last year ending March 19.

The child welfare chairman, Mrs. Mary Schwartz, announced that the Christmas parties given for the children in various institutions, were very successful and read letters of thanks and appreciation from these institutions.

Mrs. Jeanette Kosbie, National Defense chairman, announced that the district was well on its way toward the purchase of a third hospital plane in the Silver Wings of Mercy Fleet through the sales of war bonds and stamps.

She introduced her guest, Mrs. Katherine Stack, department 2nd vice president, who commended the district on their fine showing in the Silver Wings of Mercy department project, and stated that our first job at hand is to hasten the end of this war. During the twenty-one days between June 10 and July 1—7,432 casualties were flown from the Normandy coast in hospital planes. A short question and answer skit on universal military training was then given by Mrs. Stack and Mrs. Kosbic.

Mrs. Marcella Fritz, Americanism chairman, gave a brief report on the party held at the Juvenile Detention home January 11. She then presented Mr. Elliodor Libonati, department Americanism chairman of the American Legion, who spoke of the important legislation coming up this year, such as the bill for universal military training, known as H. R. 515. He said that it is imperative that the American Legion and Auxiliary get behind this bill as it will meet with a great deal of opposition. Mr. Libonati also spoke of the importance of holding the essay contests in the schools as they bring out intelligence, scholarship and leadership in the student which is the basis of good citizenship.

Mrs. Ethel Davis, rehabilitation chairman, thanked the members who had worked at Hines hospital during December. Seventy-five Christmas trees were trimmed and many gifts for the veterans were wrapped and distributed. Each auxiliary unit is being asked to contribute three dollars toward a cash bingo party to be held at Hines hospital April 25. The need for Red Cross workers at Hines is still urgent. A total of 9,459 surgical dressings have been made by 108 members attending in the last two months. These dressings are all needed and used at the hospital. The surgical dressing unit meets every Tuesday at Hines hospital. Mrs. Davis also thanked those who assisted in wrapping over 2,000 Christmas packages at the Northwest Armory for service men and women.

The Music department of the Seventh District Illinois Federation of Women's Clubs will present Mae Doelling Schmidt, pianist, a faculty member of the American Conservatory of Music, and State Chairman of International Music Relations of the Illinois Federation of Music Clubs, in a recital "A Musical Journey" to Latin America and China on Wednesday, Jan. 31, at 1:30 p. m. at the Jefferson Park Field House, Higgins and Long Avenues. Miss Hilma Puhl, contralto, will assist her.

"When words fail, music speaks" might well be the slogan adopted by Mae Doelling Schmidt, suggests the musical leader. Mrs. Schmidt's tremendous research into music of the Americas makes her one of the best equipped lecturers on this particular subject. She is one of the finest pianists on the concert stage and she illustrates her lectures with most effective music.

Mrs. Jos. Buncik, S. State rd., who has been ill several weeks, is convalescing.

Mrs. J. C. Kleiner of Decatur, Ill., is staying with her sister, Mrs. Charles Pavel, 306 N. Vail st., to help care for her father, Wm. Tesch, who is very ill.

Misses Frances and Amy Crisler of Glen Ellyn visited Arlington Heights friends Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. N. Mayer were guests Sunday of Princess Uogadi from India, who is now attending school in Chicago. She recently finished a course in the Art Institute and is completing a course this week at Marquette College.

Mrs. Marvin Pingel and son are visiting Mr. and Mrs. Albert Wenzel and other Arlington Heights relatives.

Miss Paula Syoen of Chicago was a week end guest at the Geo. Syoen home. Mr. and Mrs. Syoen entertained Mr. Francis Syoen, Chicago, at dinner Sunday.

Mrs. Glen Thompson and children, Des Plaines, visited her mother, Mrs. O. M. Johnson, Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Ogren are enjoying a visit with their granddaughter, Virginia, from the city.

Mr. M. L. Reis has been unable to work because of muscular injury.

Wm. Cleveland, S1c visited his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Cleveland Monday night. He has just finished his boot training at Great Lakes and has 9 days furlough before he is assigned to a radio school.

Elevate Brooder

If chickens scratch litter against the stove, set the brooder stove on bricks and put a rim cut from an old barrel around it. Fill the inside of the rim with mud or earth.

"CONGRATULATIONS, GEORGE, ON YOUR THREE YEARS WITH THE RATION BOARD. I CAN SEE THAT YOU STILL PLAY NO FAVORITES."

Just Around the Corner

Dear Mary:

The hollow stump of a main limb on our old apple tree was lined with white last week and even the veteran's slimmest branches were carrying a triple weight of snow. Mary, I just don't LIKE that man who wrote in Reader's Digest that snow was a push over for beginners. It could be, though that I'm an exception, blundering and smearing around with my pastel crayons. Anyway the snow heaped at the base of the tree and making a fringed white muffler up its trunk just looked on my picture—well, sort of as if I'd forgotten something. And the stump itself like an over sized cup handle. And the quince bush, intended for background detail dripped from the tree top like blown off twigs. Darn it, I won't give up doing anything that gives me so much pleasure even if it is diluted with a good deal of disgusted frustration.

I know you feel as I do when friends must bear this war's anguish—that each pang of theirs strikes deeper into your heart's core for not possessing any certain way of bringing them even momentary solace. I think it as you say, perhaps the knowledge that we love them helps—that and our standing by to catch the despairing hands and hold them steady, or as you wished to do—send them strength and wisdom from the pens of those who have known through the ages the ebony of loss and the sustenance of love.

Fra Giovanni writing in 1513 has left those beautiful words you quoted in your last week's letter. They will never grow meaningless because they offer comfort for the world's brave of heart no matter when they live. Sometimes I think the test of really great literature is that it can ignore the march of centuries, having said something (with clarity and loveliness) that will always be so. The Bible does this. Shakespeare has done it. I wonder how many of our best sellers of today will stand that test.

I'm excited about something Mary. It's Federal Aid Bill H. P. 2849 (same as Senate Bill 637). It provides for 100,000,000 dollars for low spots and equalizing of opportunities in education, and 200,000,000 for the raising of teachers' salaries. (Do you know the Illinois Education Association is still trying to put legislation into effect that will guarantee a minimum annual salary of $1000!)

I have always been distressed about the lack of educational opportunity in some sections of our country but the subject of teachers' salaries is one that brings all my native pugnacity right out in print.

I knew teachers in Missouri ten years ago who were making thirty-five dollars a month. I've known one splendid teacher after another who has been forced to change his profession because he couldn't feed his wife and children on his pay.

There are thirty-four states in the union whose local communities bear less of the financial burden for education than do those in Illinois, and Illinois ranks thirty-third when you compare its income with the amount of money it spends toward education.

The charge has been made that only teachers are interested in the passage of this bill. I can not understand why any good parent, any property owner, any one else who cares about the future of our country or for even selfish reasons about our youth would NOT be. How can they concede the significance of schools, put children in teachers' hands and then give to these sculptors a SCRUB WOMAN'S salary? You see, you'd better not get me started. Real soon there will be a meeting here to help those of us who want 2849 passed plan some action.

I'm so glad your throat infection was vanquished enough so that you could see "Harriet". Goodness, I haven't seen Helen Hayes for more than ten years. Did you and your 'best beau' have the same reaction to the play?

With love, Elly.

Mrs. E. McNeely, N. State rd., will be hostess to the Sunshine Club January 25.

The Ceosa Club held their first meeting of the New Year at the home of Mrs. Earl Ackermann Friday.

Will exhibit work of wood cut artists

Have you wondered how woodcuts, etchings and lithographs were made? Can you distinguish one from the other?

Members of the Arlington Heights Woman's Club will have the opportunity of hearing about these interesting techniques from the wife of one of Chicago's outstanding woodcut artists.

Mrs. Charles Turzak, who has worked with her husband in the publishing of woodcut biographies of "Abraham Lincoln", "Benjamin Franklin", "Thomas Jefferson," "John Marshall" and "George Washington", will have an exhibit of woodcuts from these books as well as a great many other prints. Some are black and white, others beautifully colored. Mr. Turzak personally pulls the proofs.

No one should miss this enjoyable and inspiring discussion Wednesday, February 7, at 1:30 p. m.

Mrs. Christ Dettmann spent the week end of January 14 visiting her husband, Pvt. Dettman, stationed in New York. Enroute home she visited her sister, Mrs. DeBiase in Providence, R. I., returning to Arlington Heights Tuesday evening.

Miss Millie Johnson, after a four months absence due to an injured right arm, has returned to work with the C. N. W. Ry. Co.

Wartime Champion

Attention was sharply focused upon a changed post-war hog production by the selection of this 230 pound lightweight Hampshire barrow as the Grand Champion over all breeds at the recent Chicago Market Fat Stock Show, wartime version of the Interpational Livestock Exposition. Clean-cut and firm fleshed, carrying a high proportion of meat cuts in ham, loin, and bacon, and with a minimum of lard, he exemplifies the meat type hog advocated to meet the post-war problem of excess lard production.

Champions of this top-ranking show were judged by R. L. Pemberton of Des Moines, Iowa, field secretary of the Iowa Swine Producers' Association and executive secretary of the Wartime Swine Industry Council. He stated that a meat type hog with a higher yield of ham, loin, and bacon, which could be readily finished at around 225 pounds or which could be carried on to heavier weights when the market situation justified, would best meet the production needs of the future.

This Hampshire Grand Champion, Purdue Model 9th, was bred and exhibited by Purdue University, LaFayette, Indiana. He came in a husky litter of 10 pigs raised. Farrowed on June 4th, he weighed 230 pounds at the show when just 180 days old. In exactly 6 months from birth to market, that is making market topping pork at the rate of more than 1¼ pounds for every day he lived.

Poll auto dealers for post-war needs

To obtain a more definite idea of the automobile buyers' post-war automotive accessory needs and desires, the Ford Motor Company has just completed a poll of its nearly 7,000 dealers.

The survey is in keeping, Mr. Davis explained, with the Company's new policy of consulting dealers in shaping post-war sales and production programs.

Another poll of dealers now is being made to determine post-war needs for trucks and truck equipment.

Because of the dealers' direct contact with automobile buyers, Mr. Davis said that "more definite and practical information can be obtained through a 100 per cent dealer survey than by polling a small percentage of the public by questionnaire which, actually, is not an adequate yardstick of public reaction."

Waterproofing work shoes adds wear

Waterproofing of work shoes will add an appreciable amount of time to their wear, suggests Miss Fern Carl, clothing specialist, University of Illinois College of Agriculture.

Application of neat's-foot oil, tallow, wool grease, cod oil, castor oil or a mixture of these can be applied quickly and easily at home. Simply spread the warm grease on the upper part of the shoe with a cloth, and then rub it in thoroughly with the palm of the hand.

To grease leather soles and the seams which join the soles to the uppers, place the shoes in a shallow pan containing enough grease to cover the soles. If the heels are rubber, let them extend over the outer edge of the pan so that the grease will not touch them. Rubber heels and soles should never be oiled because grease softens rubber.

The life of dress shoes as well as work shoes can be prolonged by oiling the soles. Just be careful not to get the oil on the uppers, for most oiled leather can not be polished. Castor oil is one of the few oils that will permit polishing after it has been applied to leather.

Calf, kidskin and alligator, the smooth leathers, generally react better to paste, cream and wax-liquid polishes. Suede and Gabardine, of course, require dressing especially made for nappy leathers and fabrics.

Leathers should be wiped clean before any polish is applied. Buffing after polishing will bring up a gloss, even though the label on the cleaner may state that buffing is not necessary.

If you're planning to put leather shoes away for any length of time, a good saddle-soaping is recommended to keep them frim drying out.

Since patent leather has a tendency to crack, especially when it is drying out after a soaking, occasional application of petroleum jelly is suggested. The excess should be wiped away with a tissue or soft cloth.

Millgate Farms gilt sale Jan. 29

Northern Illinois will have one of its most interesting farm stock sales of recent years Monday night, January 29, when the Millgate Farms, located near Wadsworth, in the Skokie Valley, stages its first public auction of gilts and sows chosen from its famed herd of Hampshires. Millgate Farms, which started to develop its prize herds of Hampshires and Shorthorns about five years ago has never previously staged a public offering, its past sales having been restricted to private transactions.

The high breeding of the Hampshires to be offered January 29 is indicated by their blue blooded ancestry. Prominent among the many males and females bred and raised at Millgate have been Color Guard, 1942 All America and Illinois grand champion, Millgate Harla Girl, dam of Whirlaway Flash, top-selling 1942 boar, and the Grand Champion Barrow, 1943 International, sired by Roller's Hi Flash II.

Those who attend the Millgate sale will be guests at a light supper prior to the auction. They will also be invited to inspect Millgate's prize Shorthorn herd, including the herd sire, Edelyn Royal Leader VIII, top bull in the 1944 sale at Edellyn Farms.

Question: I would like to get into war work, preferably on a professional basis such as engineering or management. I completed a year and one-half in college in those fields before going into service.

Answer: With appropriate education background you may enroll in Engineering, Science and Management War Training courses conducted by colleges and universities. Since all ESMWT courses are college-level, graduation from high school is a minimum requirement to any course. In special cases, however, students with equivalent knowledge from outside study or experience are admitted.

This training is not to be confused with that available under the G. I. Bill of Rights. ESMWT training is available not only to veterans, but also to any interested persons who qualify.

No fees or tuition are required for ESMWT training, though trainees must pay for books and living expenses. Courses are available at the Central YMCA college, DePaul University, Illinois Institute of Technology, Loyola University, Northwestern University, and the University of Chicago in Chicago, and at Lake Forest University, Lake Forest, Bradley Polytechnic Institute, Peoria, the University of Illinois, Urbana, and Wheaton College, Wheaton. Both full-time and part-time courses are given, with part-time courses arranged in the evening for the convenience of employed trainees.

Write to the Director of ESMWT at the above schools for information when courses are given and length of courses. In Chicago, write to Wm. Bachrach, Regional Coordinator, 79 W. Monroe st.

Question: I want employment away from my home town. Is it possible to get information about job opportunities in other localities?

Answer: Yes. Your U. S. Employment Service office has a list of job openings in different parts of the United States. The Veteran Representative in your nearest USES office will assist you in securing information about job opportunities, wages, housing conditions, living costs, union requirements, etc., in other parts of the country.

Question: I want to retain my Government Insurance. Where do I pay premiums? Can I spread out payment of premiums over the year?

Answer: Government Insurance is payable by check or money order to the Treasurer of the United States. Mail payments to the Collections Subdivision, Veterans' Administration, Washington 25, D. C. Arrangements can be made to pay premiums monthly, quarterly, semi-annually, or annually.

Question: How much unemployment compensation can I get under the G. I. Bill of Rights, if I'm eligible?

Answer: If you're unemployed, your allowance is $20 a week. If you're partially unemployed, you get the difference between your weekly earnings and $23 a week. If you're self-employed, you may still be eligible if your earnings in a calendar month are less than $100.

You may receive eight weeks' allowance for each month in the first 90 days you served after Sept. 16, 1940. For every month after that, you may receive four weeks' allowance up to a total of 52 weeks.

But why use it up now when there are many jobs available? If a rainy day comes, you'll be glad for this protection.

SUES FOR $35,000

Howard Morton has sued Joseph Calucci in Superior court for $35,000 damages for injuries he sustained when Calucci's car hit his on U. S. 12 near Plum Grove road last November 25. He alleges that Calucci was driving recklessly, going in the same way as Morton and ran into Morton's car injuring Morton seriously.

Variation in milk tests due to many factors

When a dairyman compares his milk statements, he should check not only the butterfat test but also the weight of the milk delivered and the pounds of butterfat it contained, suggests O. R. Overman, professor of dairy chemistry, University of Illinois College of Agriculture.

Factors which increase the volume of milk produced tend to lower the butterfat test, and factors which reduce the volume of milk tend to raise the test of the butterfat.

Overman pointed to several factors which cause the butterfat tests of milk to vary:

The milk of a cow recently freshened may test high. This condition is a temporary one, he said, and after it disappears the milk is likely to test lowest during the first few months following freshening. As the lactation advances, the test tends to increase and becomes high near the end of the lactation.

Tests of milk are usually highest during the coldest months of winter and gradually decrease with the coming of warm weather, reaching their lowest point in June, July or August.

The completeness of milking and the length of time between milkings may affect the tests. More complete milkings give milk with higher tests, and shorter times between milkings may cause higher tests.

The milk from a large herd is more nearly constant in test than that of individual cows or from a small herd, because it is a mixture of many samples of milk, and any abnormal change in the test of the milk from one or two cows will have less effect than in the case of the small herd.

However, the milk produced by a herd may vary in test as much as one-half per cent or more from day to day. The New York State Agricultural Experiment Station tested the entire daily production of its dairy herd on 10 consecutive days and found that the tests ranged from 5.0 to 5.8 per cent of butterfat.

Importance of ascorbic acid in diet explained

Because few in Illinois have had personal experience with scurvy, it is sometimes difficult to see how and why vitamin C or ascorbic acid is so important in the diet, states Miss Janet Retzer, assistant in home economics, University of Illinois. However, many ill effects may be suffered by the body long before the symptoms are definite enough to be recognized as scurvy.

Ascorbic acid plays a principal role in maintaining the health of the blood vessels and connective tissues. Vitamin C is needed to prevent hemorrhages in all parts of the body, to keep the teeth and gums healthy, to aid in the development of the bones and to serve as an aid in the general resistance to infection.

Vitamin C is stressed somewhat more than other vitamins at times because ascorbic acid is water soluable and may pass from a food into the water in which that food is standing or is being cooked. It also comes into the spotlight more often because vitamin C is what is called "unstable."

By "unstable" nutritionists mean that in the presence of free air the form of ascorbic acid which can be used by the body is changed to a form that cannot be used by the human body. Also the body cannot store ascorbic acid for future use as it does some other nutrients, such as fat.

For these reasons it is important that some vitamin C be eaten each day or, if that is not possible, that it should never be absent from the diet for long periods of time. The most common sources of vitamin C are citrus fruits and green vegetables.

Mrs. May Camp died intestate in Glenview December 23, leaving a $1000 estate. Her heirs are her husband, George, who is in Mexico, father, sister and brother.

Demand for all farm products continues

The government has announced ceilings on live cattle to become effective January 29. The flat price ceiling on cattle and also on calves will be $18 to July 2 and then $17.50.

Although only a small fraction of cattle had been selling for more than $18, the establishment of the ceiling warns feeders that they cannot expect more than $17.50 after July 2 and may discourage feeding operations somewhat. On the other hand, we still have lots of cattle that could be fed to a good finish and be sold at a profit below the new ceiling. Although the corn supply is not short, this procedure probably would give us more beef per bushel of corn. Prior to the establishment of this ceiling, the Chicago stockyards were flooded with cattle. Monday, January 8, receipts were 27,000, in the largest one-day total since October 1936 and the largest for a January day since 1927. This included a big run of cows as well as short-fed steers. The heavy movement of cows and calves has been under way for several months.

War Food Administration livestock specialists say that calf slaughter for 1944 probably was about 50 percent above that for 1943 and more than 40 percent above the recent five-year average. Reasons given for this heavy movement of calves are reluctance of stockmen to hold stock for postwar markets and the favorable price for calves as against the cost of feed.

The egg situation is not quite so unfavorable as was anticipated a month or two ago. As a result, the War Food Administration has announced a revision of the farm egg production goal for 1945. The new goal is 4,350 million dozen eggs, slightly less than the 1944 record production.

As of December 15, prices received by U. S. farmers were at the highest level since September 1920. They were 200 percent of the August, 1909 to July, 1914 average and four points above a year ago. Prices paid, interest and taxes held steady at 171 percent of the 1910-1914 average. As a result, farm product prices as a whole averaged 117 percent of parity. Prices for corn, wheat, cotton and hay were below parity.

The U. S. Department of Agriculture reports that there is still no evidence of weakness in the demand for farm products, nonagricultural income payment remaining at a record high level. Although manufacturing payrolls declined in 1944, the declines were about offset by advances in salary and wage payments in retail trade and in finance and service establishments.

President Roosevelt presented to Congress a tentative budget of 83 billion dollars for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1946. This is 17 billion dollars below the present fiscal year. Notwithstanding the reduction in the war budget, 83 billion dollars is a lot of money to add to the demand arising from civilian production. The President asked for no new taxes; hence there will continue to be a substantial expansion in bank credit, and the out look is for further inflation and further upward pressure upon prices of all sorts of goods, services, real estate and securities.

ELECTRIC WELDING
Comes to the Farm

—with the Miller Farm Welder that is designed, built and approved for use by farmers from rural electric power lines

All of you farmers know that rural electrification enables you to do a whole lot of things that in the old days were impossible. For example, it isn't uncommon today to see small but well-equipped maintenance shops right on the farm, including a Miller Farm Welder, for keeping the progressive owner's machinery in A-1 repair. The Miller high-efficiency AC welder is bred to the farm—designed, built and approved for use by farmers from rural electric power lines. Miller saves miles, money and time by fixing equipment breakdowns where and when they happen, often without need of disassembling the broken part. We're headquarters for Miller Farm Welders. Just stop in and we'll be glad to give you full information and answer all your questions about this new convenience that is revolutionizing farm machinery repair procedure.

In exactly 6 months from birth to market, that is making market topping pork at the rate of more than 1¼ pounds for every day he lived.

Poll auto dealers for post-war needs

To obtain a more definite idea of the automobile buyers' post-war automotive accessory needs and desires, the Ford Motor Company has just completed a poll of its nearly 7,000 dealers.

The survey is in keeping, Mr. Davis explained, with the Company's new policy of consulting dealers in shaping post-war sales and production programs.

Another poll of dealers now is being made to determine post-war needs for trucks and truck equipment.

Because of the dealers' direct contact with automobile buyers, Mr. Davis said that "more definite and practical information can be obtained through a 100 per cent dealer survey than by polling a small percentage of the public by questionnaire which, actually, is not an adequate yardstick of public reaction."

Waterproofing work shoes adds wear

Waterproofing of work shoes will add an appreciable amount of time to their wear, suggests Miss Fern Carl, clothing specialist, University of Illinois College of Agriculture.

Application of neat's-foot oil, tallow, wool grease, cod oil, castor oil or a mixture of these can be applied quickly and easily at home. Simply spread the warm grease on the upper part of the shoe with a cloth, and then rub it in thoroughly with the palm of the hand.

To grease leather soles and the seams which join the soles to the uppers, place the shoes in a shallow pan containing enough grease to cover the soles. If the heels are rubber, let them extend over the outer edge of the pan so that the grease will not touch them. Rubber heels and soles should never be oiled because grease softens rubber.

The life of dress shoes as well as work shoes can be prolonged by oiling the soles. Just be careful not to get the oil on the uppers, for most oiled leather can not be polished. Castor oil is one of the few oils that will permit polishing after it has been applied to leather.

Calf, kidskin and alligator, the smooth leathers, generally react better to paste, cream and wax-liquid polishes. Suede and Gabardine, of course, require dressing especially made for nappy leathers and fabrics.

Leathers should be wiped clean before any polish is applied. Buffing after polishing will bring up a gloss, even though the label on the cleaner may state that buffing is not necessary.

If you're planning to put leather shoes away for any length of time, a good saddle-soaping is recommended to keep them frim drying out.

Since patent leather has a tendency to crack, especially when it is drying out after a soaking, occasional application of petroleum jelly is suggested. The excess should be wiped away with a tissue or soft cloth.

Millgate Farms gilt sale Jan. 29

Northern Illinois will have one of its most interesting farm stock sales of recent years Monday night, January 29, when the Millgate Farms, located near Wadsworth, in the Skokie Valley, stages its first public auction of gilts and sows chosen from its famed herd of Hampshires. Millgate Farms, which started to develop its prize herds of Hampshires and Shorthorns about five years ago has never previously staged a public offering, its past sales having been restricted to private transactions.

The high breeding of the Hampshires to be offered January 29 is indicated by their blue blooded ancestry. Prominent among the many males and females bred and raised at Millgate have been Color Guard, 1942 All America and Illinois grand champion, Millgate Harla Girl, dam of Whirlaway Flash, top-selling 1942 boar, and the Grand Champion Barrow, 1943 International, sired by Roller's Hi Flash II.

Those who attend the Millgate sale will be guests at a light supper prior to the auction. They will also be invited to inspect Millgate's prize Shorthorn herd, including the herd sire, Edelyn Royal Leader VIII, top bull in the 1944 sale at Edellyn Farms.

Variation in milk tests due to many factors

When a dairyman compares his milk statements, he should check not only the butterfat test but also the weight of the milk delivered and the pounds of butterfat it contained, suggests O. R. Overman, professor of dairy chemistry, University of Illinois College of Agriculture.

Factors which increase the volume of milk produced tend to lower the butterfat test, and factors which reduce the volume of milk tend to raise the test of the butterfat.

Overman pointed to several factors which cause the butterfat tests of milk to vary:

The milk of a cow recently freshened may test high. This condition is a temporary one, he said, and after it disappears the milk is likely to test lowest during the first few months following freshening. As the lactation advances, the test tends to increase and becomes high near the end of the lactation.

Tests of milk are usually highest during the coldest months of winter and gradually decrease with the coming of warm weather, reaching their lowest point in June, July or August.

The completeness of milking and the length of time between milkings may affect the tests. More complete milkings give milk with higher tests, and shorter times between milkings may cause higher tests.

The milk from a large herd is more nearly constant in test than that of individual cows or from a small herd, because it is a mixture of many samples of milk, and any abnormal change in the test of the milk from one or two cows will have less effect than in the case of the small herd.

However, the milk produced by a herd may vary in test as much as one-half per cent or more from day to day. The New York State Agricultural Experiment Station tested the entire daily production of its dairy herd on 10 consecutive days and found that the tests ranged from 5.0 to 5.8 per cent of butterfat.

Importance of ascorbic acid in diet explained

Because few in Illinois have had personal experience with scurvy, it is sometimes difficult to see how and why vitamin C or ascorbic acid is so important in the diet, states Miss Janet Retzer, assistant in home economics, University of Illinois. However, many ill effects may be suffered by the body long before the symptoms are definite enough to be recognized as scurvy.

Ascorbic acid plays a principal role in maintaining the health of the blood vessels and connective tissues. Vitamin C is needed to prevent hemorrhages in all parts of the body, to keep the teeth and gums healthy, to aid in the development of the bones and to serve as an aid in the general resistance to infection.

Vitamin C is stressed somewhat more than other vitamins at times because ascorbic acid is water soluable and may pass from a food into the water in which that food is standing or is being cooked. It also comes into the spotlight more often because vitamin C is what is called "unstable."

By "unstable" nutritionists mean that in the presence of free air the form of ascorbic acid which can be used by the body is changed to a form that cannot be used by the human body. Also the body cannot store ascorbic acid for future use as it does some other nutrients, such as fat.

For these reasons it is important that some vitamin C be eaten each day or, if that is not possible, that it should never be absent from the diet for long periods of time. The most common sources of vitamin C are citrus fruits and green vegetables.

ITASCA

The will of Mrs. Rose Schwartz who died in Chicago December 28, leaving a $6000 estate, has been admitted to probate. Among her bequests is a one-eighth share of her estate to a son, Joseph, of Itasca.

BENSENVILLE

Loretta Wilcox of Bensenville, is one of six heirs to the $3000 estate left by her uncle, Jaeob Lammel, Jr., who died intestate in Chicago January 12. His heirs are two brothers, two sisters and two nieces.

GLENVIEW

Mrs. May Camp died intestate in Glenview December 23, leaving a $1000 estate. Her heirs are her husband, George, who is in Mexico, father, sister and brother.

Demand for all farm products continues

The government has announced ceilings on live cattle to become effective January 29. The flat price ceiling on cattle and also on calves will be $18 to July 2 and then $17.50.

Although only a small fraction of cattle had been selling for more than $18, the establishment of the ceiling warns feeders that they cannot expect more than $17.50 after July 2 and may discourage feeding operations somewhat. On the other hand, we still have lots of cattle that could be fed to a good finish and be sold at a profit below the new ceiling. Although the corn supply is not short, this procedure probably would give us more beef per bushel of corn. Prior to the establishment of this ceiling, the Chicago stockyards were flooded with cattle. Monday, January 8, receipts were 27,000, in the largest one-day total since October 1936 and the largest for a January day since 1927. This included a big run of cows as well as short-fed steers. The heavy movement of cows and calves has been under way for several months.

War Food Administration livestock specialists say that calf slaughter for 1944 probably was about 50 percent above that for 1943 and more than 40 percent above the recent five-year average. Reasons given for this heavy movement of calves are reluctance of stockmen to hold stock for postwar markets and the favorable price for calves as against the cost of feed.

The egg situation is not quite so unfavorable as was anticipated a month or two ago. As a result, the War Food Administration has announced a revision of the farm egg production goal for 1945. The new goal is 4,350 million dozen eggs, slightly less than the 1944 record production.

As of December 15, prices received by U. S. farmers were at the highest level since September 1920. They were 200 percent of the August, 1909 to July, 1914 average and four points above a year ago. Prices paid, interest and taxes held steady at 171 percent of the 1910-1914 average. As a result, farm product prices as a whole averaged 117 percent of parity. Prices for corn, wheat, cotton and hay were below parity.

The U. S. Department of Agriculture reports that there is still no evidence of weakness in the demand for farm products, nonagricultural income payment remaining at a record high level. Although manufacturing payrolls declined in 1944, the declines were about offset by advances in salary and wage payments in retail trade and in finance and service establishments.

President Roosevelt presented to Congress a tentative budget of 83 billion dollars for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1946. This is 17 billion dollars below the present fiscal year. Notwithstanding the reduction in the war budget, 83 billion dollars is a lot of money to add to the demand arising from civilian production. The President asked for no new taxes; hence there will continue to be a substantial expansion in bank credit, and the out look is for further inflation and further upward pressure upon prices of all sorts of goods, services, real estate and securities.

Give answers to GI questions on vets' bill

Question: I would like to get into war work, preferably on a professional basis such as engineering or management. I completed a year and one-half in college in those fields before going into service.

Answer: With appropriate education background you may enroll in Engineering, Science and Management War Training courses conducted by colleges and universities. Since all ESMWT courses are college-level, graduation from high school is a minimum requirement to any course. In special cases, however, students with equivalent knowledge from outside study or experience are admitted.

This training is not to be confused with that available under the G. I. Bill of Rights. ESMWT training is available not only to veterans, but also to any interested persons who qualify.

No fees or tuition are required for ESMWT training, though trainees must pay for books and living expenses. Courses are available at the Central YMCA college, DePaul University, Illinois Institute of Technology, Loyola University, Northwestern University, and the University of Chicago in Chicago, and at Lake Forest University, Lake Forest, Bradley Polytechnic Institute, Peoria, the University of Illinois, Urbana, and Wheaton College, Wheaton. Both full-time and part-time courses are given, with part-time courses arranged in the evening for the convenience of employed trainees.

Write to the Director of ESMWT at the above schools for information when courses are given and length of courses. In Chicago, write to Wm. Bachrach, Regional Coordinator, 79 W. Monroe st.

Question: I want employment away from my home town. Is it possible to get information about job opportunities in other localities?

Answer: Yes. Your U. S. Employment Service office has a list of job openings in different parts of the United States. The Veteran Representative in your nearest USES office will assist you in securing information about job opportunities, wages, housing conditions, living costs, union requirements, etc., in other parts of the country.

Question: I want to retain my Government Insurance. Where do I pay premiums? Can I spread out payment of premiums over the year?

Answer: Government Insurance is payable by check or money order to the Treasurer of the United States. Mail payments to the Collections Subdivision, Veterans' Administration, Washington 25, D. C. Arrangements can be made to pay premiums monthly, quarterly, semi-annually, or annually.

Question: How much unemployment compensation can I get under the G. I. Bill of Rights, if I'm eligible?

Answer: If you're unemployed, your allowance is $20 a week. If you're partially unemployed, you get the difference between your weekly earnings and $23 a week. If you're self-employed, you may still be eligible if your earnings in a calendar month are less than $100.

You may receive eight weeks' allowance for each month in the first 90 days you served after Sept. 16, 1940. For every month after that, you may receive four weeks' allowance up to a total of 52 weeks.

But why use it up now when there are many jobs available? If a rainy day comes, you'll be glad for this protection.

SUES FOR $35,000

Howard Morton has sued Joseph Calucci in Superior court for $35,000 damages for injuries he sustained when Calucci's car hit his on U. S. 12 near Plum Grove road last November 25. He alleges that Calucci was driving recklessly, going in the same way as Morton and ran into Morton's car injuring Morton seriously.

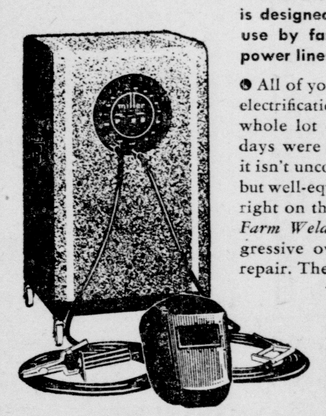
ELECTRIC WELDING
Comes to the Farm



—with the Miller Farm Welder that is designed, built and approved for use by farmers from rural electric power lines

All of you farmers know that rural electrification enables you to do a whole lot of things that in the old days were impossible. For example, it isn't uncommon today to see small but well-equipped maintenance shops right on the farm, including a Miller Farm Welder, for keeping the progressive owner's machinery in A-1 repair. The Miller high-efficiency AC welder is bred to the farm—designed, built and approved for use by farmers from rural electric power lines. Miller saves miles, money and time by fixing equipment breakdowns where and when they happen, often without need of disassembling the broken part. We're headquarters for Miller Farm Welders. Just stop in and we'll be glad to give you full information and answer all your questions about this new convenience that is revolutionizing farm machinery repair procedure.

ARLINGTON HEIGHTS HERALD
SECTION TWO + SPORTS + MOVIES + WANT ADS

Who is where and when

We're bumping our head against a stone wall when we attempt to get servicemen to call us while home on furlough. We're throwing in the towel. Just one man out of 38 listed home on furlough this week notified the publication office.

Now we're appealing to parents. The boys in service like With Uncle Sam. Big reason for their appreciation of what we are trying to do is that WUS enables them to keep track of their friends. And keeping track means who is where and when. That's just what we want to know. Find out who is where and when. Phone the publication office when your sons come home, if only for 24 hours.

We are doing our best to make With Uncle Sam earn the appreciation accorded it by the men in service. But we must have cooperation.

East Coast

Another local man on the East Coast is Bob Martz of Arlington Heights. Bob is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Martz.

"Just got in from a week end in New York, and did we have a time. A buddy of mine showed me all around, and he knows all the ropes. He knew where to get tickets for shows, plays and meals. All it cost us was the hotel room and drinks.

"We saw a show and vaudeville at Radio City theater. It was swell. We also went to Madison Square Garden to see a show put on by the firemen. I don't know much about the show because I met a girl and we had quite a talk."

Bob entered the service November of '42. He has been stationed at Camp Beale, California, and then Camp Bowie, Texas. He was on the East Coast when he wrote this letter, but is believed to be on his way across now. His address is Cpl. Robt. Martz, 36711-238, APO 263, c-o PM, New York

France

From France comes word of Otto Heimann of Arlington Heights.

"No doubt very few of the people in Heights remember me but no matter where I go—Heights will always be my home town.

"Have met Otto Jahrling in England and where he was stationed Bob Duenn and August Mayerck also were. Also met Otts Meyers in a chow line about nine days before D-Day. We spent our three evenings together and the third night was the last time I saw him. Know darn well he 'hit' when I did but can't locate his outfit.

"From the Herald there are quite a few Heights guys in France, or on the Continent.

"This is a Kraut's stationery, only he forgot to take it along with him. Have intended to write sooner but conditions wouldn't allow. Now I'm writing in my truck—named 'Little Woman,' after my wife, La Verne."

His address is T-5 Otto G. Heimann, 36606453, APO 149, c-o PM, New York.

Bensenville man awarded Purple Heart

First Lieutenant A. W. Rapin of Bensenville has been awarded the Purple Heart for wounds received November 18 on Leyte, it was learned this week. Official notice was given his dad, T. W. Rapin in Bensenville.

Lt. Rapin was leading a patrol of infantry against the Japs when machine guns opened up on the group. Rapin suffered a neck wound.

The division was cut off from the outside for 27 days by a strong Japanese force. Thus hospitalization was impossible for Lt. Rapin. Food and supplies were dropped to the group by air.

Lt. Rapin entered service November 27, 1941. He went overseas about a year ago, going from Australia to New Guinea, and then to the Philippines. He worked in the Bensenville post office before entering service.

California

From Fort Hueneme, California, comes word of Karl Quist of Mt. Prospect.

"In spite of several quick moves I still haven't missed an issue of the Mt. Prospect Herald. It sure is great finding a copy on your bunk at the end of a long day and is reading matter for the whole evening.

"Like hundreds of others, I enjoy 'With Uncle Sam' the most. Hearing from so many in so many different places sure keeps one up on what the neighbors are doing and where. When this war is over and all is calm again there are going to be many stories of foreign lands told to interested folks at home."

His address is Karl E. Quist, MM1c, AATD, Armed Guard, Point Mugu, Port Hueneme, California.

Now at Camp Beale, California, is Bill Freyermuth of Arlington Heights. He was formerly stationed at Ft. Leonard Wood, Mo. His address is Pvt. William J. Freyermuth, Co. C 2nd Bn, ASFPRC, Camp Beale, Calif.

Now at Van Nuys, California, is Gilbert Breckenfelder of W ood Dale. His address is Pvt. Gilbert Breckenfelder, Sqd A, 441st AAF BU, Metropolitan Airport, Box 434, Van Nuys, California.

Indiana

Now at Atterbury, Indiana, is Edward Becker of Bensenville. Ed suffered shrapnel wounds in France last August 29. He was taken to England for some time, and then flown back to this country in a Douglas plane.

Pvt. Becker had just gone across to England in June of last year. He was immediately shipped to France with the infantry, and was wounded. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Becker.

His address is Pvt. Edward Becker, Wakeman General Hospital, Camp Atterbury, Indiana, Ward 24 B.

From Seattle, Washington, comes word of Sally Greschner of Arlington Heights.

"Just a word to keep posted on the stay here at Seattle. Great city, and people here go out of their way to entertain us. Always take in the town when the dance band doesn't require my services. Been playing quite a bit and its one of the best, called the 'Rhythm Doctors'. 16 men and has 'Charley Barnetts' nephew on the tenor sax, a chip off the old block that's for sure. The captain of the base gave us a nice compliment. It must be alright.

"Of course my sojourn at sea was interesting to say the least. That tin can of ours got around. Had been to Scapa Flow, Gibraltor and Iceland when I got aboard.

"We shoved off for Pearl Harbor early this year. A few days there, then to the Marshalls; a few months there, then to Saipan the day they hit the beach, and you all know the results.

"Then on westward to Palau and Yap, then to the Philippines in September. We covered a lot of ground. Was in the Admiralty Islands, also some bases more recently acquired from the Rising Sun.

"What amused me was Tokio Rose's broadcast of sinking our ship when they were in sight. At that time we weren't too far off Tokio coast.

"The landing of MacArthur was a busy time for all concerned. We were lucky all the time at sea and wonder about it. Thanks to the good Lord. I'm glad to be here.

"Have to admit that the Navy gave us fine treatment and every spare moment was extended us for recreation. The sea agreed with me. Had bad weather out around the Philippines. Typhoons were in season. Many nights I strapped myself down, or I would have been on the deck half the time instead of in my sack.

"Been in touch with my ship and it's still going strong, busy as ever. Swell crew and a good ship, officers and all. We had team work. Just one instance: we put in a floating drydock out in that advanced area where they were having daily air attacks. We put up the scaffolds and scraped the bottom, put on two coats of paint and got under way at 1 p. m. next day. Also had new sound gear put on.

"It took us 21 hours to put that tin can in ship shape and that's going. No one got paid overtime or complained. That's the real American spirit. Further, we had just finished twenty-two days under way around the Luzon area. Went right back out there.

"Had the pleasure of making a trip on one of our battleships that sunk a Jap wagon in the Leyte campaign. We missed that by a hair. We were going in for a few days to get chow and by the time we got back it was over with.

"I'm in the best of health and feel great to be back. Expect I'll be seeing Arlington and my family a few months hence. Was at Pearl Harbor long enough to enjoy visits to Waikiki Beach, the Royal Hawaiian Hotel, plus Cromwell's estate. That's the tobacco heiress' donation to the boys. It's a pretty place with swimming pool and all."

His address is S2c Sylvester Greschner, US Naval Hosp., Wd 9, Seattle, Washington.

Now in hospital at Walla Walla, Washington, is Bob Proebstle of Arlington Heights. Bob was wounded in the arm in France October 13. He was hit by shrapnel, breaking the arm. His address is S-Sgt. Robert Proebstle, 36726477, Det of Patients, McCann Gen. Hosp., Walla Walla, Washington.

Scott Field

Now at Scott Field, Ill., is Bob Nelson of Arlington Heights. Bob was formerly stationed in Texas. His address is Pvt. R. L. Nelson, 3505th AAF BU, (Tech. Sch), Scott Field, Ill.

Pvt. William H. Watson, Feb. 2.

Kentucky

Pvt. Harold English of Palatine is included in another class of skilled tank mechanics, trained to keep the big General Shermans and their little brothers, the light tanks, roaring into combat, which have been graduated from the Armored School Tank Department, at Ft. Knox, Kentucky.

During their training in the Tank Department the soldier students worked with the same tools issued to field crews and under the same conditions they are likely to encounter in the field. They studied the mechanisms of the various tanks, from track to turret, tearing them down to learn how to keep them moving in combat.

Deadline

Deadline for news for With Uncle Sam is Tuesday at 5 of each week. Pictures, letters or news of servicemen should be mailed or called direct to the publication office. Cooperation of the folks at home is sought to make a bigger and better With Uncle Sam.

3 PAGES With Uncle Sam on 7, 9 and 12

Philippines

From the Philippines comes word of Kenneth Cole of Palatine.

"I like it much better here in the Philippines than in New Guinea. Course the weather is much the same, plenty of rain and mud, but being aboard ship, I don't have to worry too much about it.

"The natives here interest me. They seem to be very happy in spite of how the Japs treated them. The first thing they said when we landed there was Merry Christmas. Then they started asking for food. They have quite a little to trade. The homes in this village are pretty much run down and dirty. But I hope to see some of their larger cities soon.

"I am in hopes of running into some of the fellows from home. So if any of the boys are near here drop a line c-o Inter Island. Would really enjoy hearing from you.

"I haven't received a paper from home since October 20 so don't know if there are any letters from the Philippines yet.

"I want to thank all the people of Palatine and the Legion Auxiliary that keeps the paper coming to us boys in service.'.

His address is Kenneth Cole, S2c 606-886, c-o FPO, San Francisco, Calif.

According to the latest word from Oscar Laurance, TM3c of Wheeling, he has pushed off from New Guinea and is headed in the direction of the Philippines.

Italy

From Italy comes word of Lowell Haemker of Palatine.

"Sure am happy to get away from Africa, though I do miss the fine weather. Everything is going along smoothly here, though mail hasn't started to arrive yet.

"Italy is a very beaten, pulverized and poverty-stricken country now. I'm sure that had the people known in '39 what was in store for them they wouldn't have been in the war. I refuse to feel sorry for them, however, for they were part of the originators of this mess. That isn't a very democratic attitude but that's how it is."

War Production Board Prohibits Certain Uses of Electricity

As a means of conserving fuel on a nation-wide basis, the War Production Board has issued an order, dated January 15, 1945, which prohibits the use of electricity for the following purposes:

"(1) Outdoor advertising and outdoor promotional lighting.

"(2) Outdoor display lighting except where necessary for the conduct of the business of outdoor establishments.

"(3) Outdoor decorative and outdoor ornamental lighting.

"(4) Show window lighting except where necessary for interior illumination.

"(5) Marquee lighting in excess of 60 watts for each marquee.

"(6) White way street lighting in excess of the amount determined by local public authority to be necessary for public safety.

"(7) Outdoor sign lighting except for: (i) directional or identification signs required for fire and police protection, traffic control, transportation terminals or hospitals; or directional or identification signs for any similar essential public services the lighting of which is specifically certified to be necessary by local public authority. Certification shall be made in writing to the appropriate electric supplier and need not be in any particular form; (ii) Directional or identification signs using not more than 60 watts per establishment, for doctors and for hotels, and other public lodging establishments."

As a supplier of electricity, the Public Service Company of Northern Illinois is required to bring this order to the attention of all its customers using electricity for these purposes.

This order of the War Production Board is by its terms mandatory, effective February 1, 1945, and places the responsibility for compliance upon the users of electricity. The War Production Board, however, urges voluntary compliance as soon as possible.

The order further requires that the Company notify any customer known by the Company to be in continued violation of the order after February 1. A copy of this notification must be sent to the District Office of the War Production Board.

The War Production Board asks full cooperation of all users affected. The order provides that wilful violation is subject to fine or imprisonment, and further provides that the Board upon determination of continued violation, may direct the suspension of service and prescribe the conditions under which service may be restored.

The Company will be glad to advise with its customers in meeting these regulations.

THE WAR WHEN WILL IT End?
YOUR CAR HOW LONG WILL IT Last?

We're not qualified to answer the first question, but we do know something about the car situation . . . and the length of the war does not have a lot to do with the life of your car. Cars are being used up fast and they are in demand for essential uses. Their cash value, even if they're old, is very high now. Soon after the war ends we'll have brand new cars ready for you at very reasonable prices. Why not get a HIGH PRICE now for an old car and use this money to get a NEW CAR later on. That's good business for you and it helps Uncle Sam RIGHT NOW. See us for a quick cash deal.

Who is where and when

We're bumping our head against a stone wall when we attempt to get servicemen to call us while home on furlough. We're throwing in the towel. Just one man out of 38 listed home on furlough this week notified the publication office.

Now we're appealing to parents. The boys in service like With Uncle Sam. Big reason for their appreciation of what we are trying to do is that WUS enables them to keep track of their friends. And keeping track means who is where and when. That's just what we want to know. Find out who is where and when. Phone the publication office when your sons come home, if only for 24 hours.

We are doing our best to make With Uncle Sam earn the appreciation accorded it by the men in service. But we must have cooperation.

East Coast

Another local man on the East Coast is Bob Martz of Arlington Heights. Bob is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Martz.

"Just got in from a week end in New York, and did we have a time. A buddy of mine showed me all around, and he knows all the ropes. He knew where to get tickets for shows, plays and meals. All it cost us was the hotel room and drinks.

"We saw a show and vaudeville at Radio City theater. It was swell. We also went to Madison Square Garden to see a show put on by the firemen. I don't know much about the show because I met a girl and we had quite a talk."

Bob entered the service November of '42. He has been stationed at Camp Beale, California, and then Camp Bowie, Texas. He was on the East Coast when he wrote this letter, but is believed to be on his way across now. His address is Cpl. Robt. Martz, 36711-238, APO 263, c-o PM, New York New York.

France

From France comes word of Otto Heimann of Arlington Heights.

"No doubt very few of the people in Heights remember me but no matter where I go—Heights will always be my home town.

"Have met Otto Jahrling in England and where he was stationed Bob Duenn and August Mayerck also were. Also met Otts Meyers in a chow line about nine days before D-Day. We spent our three evenings together and the third night was the last time I saw him. Know darn well he 'hit' when I did but can't locate his outfit.

"From the Herald there are quite a few Heights guys in France, or on the Continent.

"This is a Kraut's stationery, only he forgot to take it along with him. Have intended to write sooner but conditions wouldn't allow. Now I'm writing in my truck—named 'Little Woman," after my wife, La Verne."

Bensenville man awarded Purple Heart

First Lieutenant A. W. Rapin of Bensenville has been awarded the Purple Heart for wounds received November 18 on Leyte, it was learned this week. Official notice was given his dad, T. W. Rapin in Bensenville.

Lt. Rapin was leading a patrol of infantry against the Japs when machine guns opened up on the group. Rapin suffered a neck wound.

The division was cut off from the outside for 27 days by a strong Japanese force. Thus hospitalization was impossible for Lt. Rapin. Food and supplies were dropped to the group by air.

Lt. Rapin entered service November 27, 1941. He went overseas about a year ago, going from Australia to New Guinea, and then to the Philippines. He worked in the Bensenville post office before entering service.

California

From Fort Hueneme, California, comes word of Karl Quist of Mt. Prospect.

"In spite of several quick moves I still haven't missed an issue of the Mt. Prospect Herald. It sure is great finding a copy on your bunk at the end of a long day and is reading matter for the whole evening.

"Like hundreds of others, I enjoy 'With Uncle Sam' the most. Hearing from so many in so many different places sure keeps one up on what the neighbors are doing and where. When this war is over and all is calm again there are going to be many stories of foreign lands told to interested folks at home."

His address is Karl E. Quist, MM1c, AATD, Armed Guard, Point Mugu, Port Hueneme, California.

With Uncle Sam

Indiana

Now at Atterbury, Indiana, is Edward Becker of Bensenville. Ed suffered shrapnel wounds in France last August 29. He was taken to England for some time, and then flown back to this country in a Douglas plane.

Pvt. Becker had just gone across to England in June of last year. He was immediately shipped to France with the infantry, and was wounded. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Becker.

From Seattle, Washington, comes word of Sally Greschner of Arlington Heights.

"Just a word to keep posted on the stay here at Seattle. Great city, and people here go out of their way to entertain us. Always take in the town when the dance band doesn't require my services. Been playing quite a bit and its one of the best, called the 'Rhythm Doctors'. 16 men and has 'Charley Barnetts' nephew on the tenor sax, a chip off the old block that's for sure. The captain of the base gave us a nice compliment. It must be alright.

"Of course my sojourn at sea was interesting to say the least. That tin can of ours got around. Had been to Scapa Flow, Gibraltor and Iceland when I got aboard.

"We shoved off for Pearl Harbor early this year. A few days there, then to the Marshalls; a few months there, then to Saipan the day they hit the beach, and you all know the results.

"Then on westward to Palau and Yap, then to the Philippines in September. We covered a lot of ground. Was in the Admiralty Islands, also some bases more recently acquired from the Rising Sun.

"What amused me was Tokio Rose's broadcast of sinking our ship when they were in sight. At that time we weren't too far off Tokio coast.

"The landing of MacArthur was a busy time for all concerned. We were lucky all the time at sea and wonder about it. Thanks to the good Lord. I'm glad to be here.

"Have to admit that the Navy gave us fine treatment and every spare moment was extended us for recreation. The sea agreed with me. Had bad weather out around the Philippines. Typhoons were in season. Many nights I strapped myself down, or I would have been on the deck half the time instead of in my sack.

"Been in touch with my ship and it's still going strong, busy as ever. Swell crew and a good ship, officers and all. We had team work. Just one instance: we put in a floating drydock out in that advanced area where they were having daily air attacks. We put up the scaffolds and scraped the bottom, put on two coats of paint and got under way at 1 p. m. next day. Also had new sound gear put on.

"It took us 21 hours to put that tin can in ship shape and that's going. No one got paid overtime or complained. That's the real American spirit. Further, we had just finished twenty-two days under way around the Luzon area. Went right back out there.

"Had the pleasure of making a trip on one of our battleships that sunk a Jap wagon in the Leyte campaign. We missed that by a hair. We were going in for a few days to get chow and by the time we got back it was over with.

"I'm in the best of health and feel great to be back. Expect I'll be seeing Arlington and my family a few months hence. Was at Pearl Harbor long enough to enjoy visits to Waikiki Beach, the Royal Hawaiian Hotel, plus Cromwell's estate. That's the tobacco heiress' donation to the boys. It's a pretty place with swimming pool and all."

His address is S2c Sylvester Greschner, US Naval Hosp., Wd 9, Seattle, Washington.

Now in hospital at Walla Walla, Washington, is Bob Proebstle of Arlington Heights. Bob was wounded in the arm in France October 13. He was hit by shrapnel, breaking the arm. His address is S-Sgt. Robert Proebstle, 36726477, Det of Patients, McCann Gen. Hosp., Walla Walla, Washington.

Scott Field

Now at Scott Field, Ill., is Bob Nelson of Arlington Heights. Bob was formerly stationed in Texas. His address is Pvt. R. L. Nelson, 3505th AAF BU, (Tech. Sch), Scott Field, Ill.

Pvt. Harold English of Palatine is included in another class of skilled tank mechanics, trained to keep the big General Shermans and their little brothers, the light tanks, roaring into combat, which have been graduated from the Armored School Tank Department, at Ft. Knox, Kentucky.

During their training in the Tank Department the soldier students worked with the same tools issued to field crews and under the same conditions they are likely to encounter in the field. They studied the mechanisms of the various tanks, from track to turret, tearing them down to learn how to keep them moving in combat.

Deadline

Deadline for news for With Uncle Sam is Tuesday at 5 of each week. Pictures, letters or news of servicemen should be mailed or called direct to the publication office. Cooperation of the folks at home is sought to make a bigger and better With Uncle Sam.

3 PAGES With Uncle Sam on 7, 9 and 12

Philippines

From the Philippines comes word of Kenneth Cole of Palatine.

"I like it much better here in the Philippines than in New Guinea. Course the weather is much the same, plenty of rain and mud, but being aboard ship, I don't have to worry too much about it.

"The natives here interest me. They seem to be very happy in spite of how the Japs treated them. The first thing they said when we landed there was Merry Christmas. Then they started asking for food. They have quite a little to trade. The homes in this village are pretty much run down and dirty. But I hope to see some of their larger cities soon.

"I am in hopes of running into some of the fellows from home. So if any of the boys are near here drop a line c-o Inter Island. Would really enjoy hearing from you.

"I haven't received a paper from home since October 20 so don't know if there are any letters from the Philippines yet.

"I want to thank all the people of Palatine and the Legion Auxiliary that keeps the paper coming to us boys in service.'.

His address is Kenneth Cole, S2c 606-886, c-o FPO, San Francisco, Calif.

According to the latest word from Oscar Laurance, TM3c of Wheeling, he has pushed off from New Guinea and is headed in the direction of the Philippines.

Italy

From Italy comes word of Lowell Haemker of Palatine.

"Sure am happy to get away from Africa, though I do miss the fine weather. Everything is going along smoothly here, though mail hasn't started to arrive yet.

"Italy is a very beaten, pulverized and poverty-stricken country now. I'm sure that had the people known in '39 what was in store for them they wouldn't have been in the war. I refuse to feel sorry for them, however, for they were part of the originators of this mess. That isn't a very democratic attitude but that's how it is."

MAC SAYS:

BY GERALD A. McELROY

It is a little hard to understand the reason for the assignment of schools to district and regional tournaments. For a number of years Arlington has been sent to the regional that plays at Woodstock, Crystal Lake or Dundee. They pass through schools in the Waukegan region to get there. This year Palatine who has never played in a regional except by way of winning a district is sent directly to the Dundee regional while their neighbors play in the district. In fact Libertyville for the first time plays in the Wauconda district taking Palatine's place. Lake Forest and Warren, also of the Northeast play at Wauconda. Grant of Fox Lake is another small school sent directly to the Dundee regional to be cannon fodder in the first round for the big schools while their neighbors, Antioch and Wauconda, play in the district. It may help to state some of the reasons back of all this.

In the Illinois set up the plan calls for grouping 15 schools in each region in general according to geographical lines and distance from the tournament centers. Of these 15 the largest seven in enrollment are scheduled directly into a regional tournament. The remaining smaller schools play a district tournament February 20-23 and the winner joins the seven larger schools in the regional meet February 27 to March 2.

Whether a school plays in a district or not depends on how it compares in enrollment with the rest of the schools in the region. For instance down state schools with 100 enrollment play in regionals but up this way Riverside with 1200 students plays in a district. Schools on the border line of regions may be shifted from year to year depending on wether the number of schools entering the tournaments in a region increases or decreases.

Three north shore schools, Evanston, New Trier, and Highland Park seldom go into the tournaments. This year all three are entered and Lake Forest who has not been playing basketball for two years is also entered. As a result Palatine in the south end of the region is sent to the Dundee region where there are fewer schools. St. Mary's of Des Plaines, who played at Wauconda last year is sent to the Riverside district. That is why Libertyville with over 500 students plays at Wauconda this year because there are seven larger schools in their region. On the other hand Grant, with 250, and Palatine with 300, are among the seven largest in the 1945 Dundee region setup. Had Barrington had more enrollment they would have been sent to Dundee instead of Palatine no doubt. Several years they have been sent there.

State tournament tickets mut be ordered by Feb. 4

After the regionals come the sectional tournaments in each of which four regional winners compete for the chance to play in the 16 team state final at Champaign. All orders for tickets to the state tournament must be in by February 4. This year no one may order more than four tickets and adult prices are $4.50 and students $3.00 for the seven session tournament. Only season tickets are sold and they are drawn by lot from the orders received. The gym at the University of Illinois only seats 7,000 and sometimes nearly double that number want to attend the tournament in spite of gas rationing.

Bisons can get a share of the title

This week the Northwest Conference has no league games due to an open date in the schedule. With only three games to go it is all up to Bensenville if they really want a share of the varsity title. They have Antioch, Northbrook and Ela remaining to be played and if they whip Ela they are in for at least a share. The Bisons are much too tough for Antioch and Northbrook. In fact the way they have played the last two weeks they would have been too tough for Ela.

The big game—Ela at Bensenville is Friday, February 9. Wish we could see it. Barrington's lightweights have a two game lead over Palatine with only three to go and that looks like a safe lead. Broncho lights play the final of the season at Palatine and must beat tough Ela and Antioch before they get to the Pirates so Palatine still has an outside chance.

Arlington, Niles, & Crystal Lake JV teams in tie

It is a wide open race in both divisions of the Northeast Conference. A three way tie in both divisions with five games remaining makes it a very interesting race. In the lightweight division there are four good teams and four weak ones. Three of the strong ones are Arlington, Niles and Crystal Lake currently tied for the lead with one defeat. Leyden has a good team of Frosh-Sophs but plays an incomplete schedule, not meeting weak Warren and Woodstock. This week Arlington plays Crystal Lake for the second time and will avenge their one defeat. That is our idea. A little later Niles and Crystal Lake meet. Otherwise they all play second division teams. Arlington's plans call for beating Crystal Lake and Crystal Lake beating Niles.

N. E. varsity division a wide open race

In the varsity division Arlington, Crystal Lake and Libertyville are on top with 5-2 records. Niles and Leyden are a game behind. Any of these teams might beat any of the others as recent results show, so it will be a wide open proposition right down to the wire. Arlington is host to Crystal Lake Friday to break the tie and Libertyville plays very tough Niles. The Cardinals must play both Leyden and Libertyville away from home among remaining games.

Libertyville has Niles, Crystal Lake and Arlington, yet to play. Crystal Lake has Arlington, Niles, and Libertyville to be met. All the leaders have about the same strength opponents remaining and believe me the team that wades through the tough lineup remaining will really be a champ.

Crystal Lake veterans not as good as last year

It looks like Crystal Lake is an example of a situation which so often happens in sports. A great team in the junior year with all returning as seniors a good many times makes a poorer record in the senior year than they did as juniors. We know of a number of such cases. It depends on the kind of boys they are. We wonder if an inflated ego is making possible those Arlington and Leyden upsets of that unbeatable Crystal Lake five. Sometimes under this situation boys feel they can win without working hard in the senior year. Maybe that is the situation. At any rate Crystal Lake is way below expected performances. Perhaps the last two jolts will be just what they need. We will see if that is the case Friday at Arlington.

Suicide schedule is just that

It looks like the suicide schedule lined up for Arlington this week is just that. We mentioned last week in this column that Arlington would have to be supermen to survive tests with Niles, Ela, Crystal Lake, and Barrington in eight days. The Cards are half way through that quartet of tough opponents and have yet to come close to winning. Niles whipped them by 18 points and the Cards never threatened Ela who led 25-12 at the half and won easily 44-35. Friday Arlington supposedly meets the strongest of the four in their home game with Crystal Lake and you can bet the Lakers are not going to lose this one because of overconfidence.

Pirates miss their spark plug

How soon Palatine gets back to normal playing seems to depend on how soon Roger Smith, peppery forward, gets back in trim. Early this week Smith was still unable to workout with the squad as a result of a hip injury suffered at Northbrook. Palatine hopes now to finish the season in third place but must win the remaining games with Grant, Wauconda, and Barrington to be sure of that spot. Palatine fans hope Smith will be good as ever by next week when the Northwest renews league competition in the stretch drive.

Tornadoes drub Niles lights, 42-33

Arlington's Cardinals had an off night last Friday evening, playing about their worst basketball of the season to lose to Niles, 52-34. The Arlington boys found an improved team in the Trojans of Niles last Friday with Anderson, only returning letterman of the Niles team, leading the offense.

The Arlington play was far below the expectations of the crowd and of the team itself. The Cards were especially weak on defense, and from the looks of things, some one had nailed a board over the top of the basket, as a very small percentage of Arlington's shots went in.

To pick out any outstanding performer would be an injustice to the splendid team play and cooperative spirit of the Junior aggregation. Wille again was on the receiving end of a lot of passes and totaled 16 points, but he also fed the other boys plenty. Busse was tops on defensive rebounding and collected 11 points.

Knaack played his best game and was especially good on defense. He collected 6 points. Aldrich was hampered by a cold and played but two quarters but they were the only two quarters in which the Tornadoes outscored the Niles boys.

McArdle and Kleiner were the Arlington boys that held Niles' highly rated fast break to a snail's pace. This game certainly showed the value of cool and collected team play.

Ela mauls Cards to win handily

Arlington's varsity cage squad, still in its midseason slump, lost to the Ela Bears, 44-35, on the Ela Floor Tuesday night. In probably the roughest, wildest game of basketball seen in these parts all year, the Cards did not have the where-with-all to overcome their handicap.

Coach Joyner experimented with his sophomores in the Junior varsity game and played them for 3 quarters against the comparatively weak Ela squad. In those three quarters the Sophomore Green Tornadoes scored 22 points to Ela's 10. The Junior Tornadoes made 12 points in the quarter that they played to Ela's 0, this made the total score for the game, 34-10.

Dahlstrom was high for the sophomores with five points. Each of the other sophomores had two points. Magnus and Williams played good games at guard. Bob Boeckh is improving rapidly and may be seen more in the future.

Pirates take it on the chin from Bisons, 31-15

Palatine lights gain second place in 25-20 win

Bensenville remains very definitely in the race for the Northwest Conference varsity championship as they decisively trounced Palatine 31-15 Friday night. The Bisons are still one game behind Ela but meet the league leaders on the Bensenville court February 9.

Palatine fell behind 10-3 in the first quarter and was never a serious threat to the Bisons who hit the basket accurately in the first half and aided their cause with 10 free throws in the second half. A combination of a Palatine team that was definitely not clicking and Bensenville's unusually strong zone defense held the Pirate field goal total to a lowly five. Clarence Vogt, Palatine's leading scorer, did not hit from the field.

At the half the score was 15-8 but the Bisons rolled it up to 27-12 at the end of the third period. Bensenville's superior rebounding also gave them quite an edge. The Pirates fouled Ernsting 10 times on rebounds and he hit six times from the free throw line. Bensenville's scoring was well distributed with every regular getting from four to eight points. Toppel was the only Pirate to score more than three points and he got five.

The Palatine lightweights gained undisputed second place in the conference this week by virtue of a 25-20 victory over Bensenville. At the same time Antioch lost to Ela and Palatine with a 5-2 record and is a game ahead of 4 teams tied for third with 4-3 marks. Barrington 7-0 still leads the race with three games yet to play.

Palatine was slow getting underway in point production Friday night and trailed 8-7 at the half though outplaying the junior Bisons by quite a margin. A big third quarter which has featured their home games this year produced six field goals and a 19-11 lead which decided the game. Howes and LeBaron were Palatine's best performers. Each got seven points besides playing good defensive ball. The ball handling of Howes and Freye at guards was the best the Palatine lights have had this season. Robertson was the big noise for Bensenville with 14 points, six of which were scored in the last quarter to make it a close ball game.

Heights grade school fives open schedule

The Dad's Club Basket Ball Leagues of Arlington Heights started competition last week at the Presbyterian and Methodist church gyms. The eighth grade league plays on Tuesday nights at the Presbyterian church starting at 7 p. m. The seventh grade league also starts play at 7 p. m. but in the Methodist church gym on Wednesday evenings.

These two leagues are the expansion of the league which the Dad's Club started last year. The success and interest shown last year has made the continuation and expansion a must. The evidence of this fact is that on the opening night of the eighth grade competition more than fifty boys were playing during the course of the evening.

All parents and friends of the boys who are playing are invited to watch these games. There is no admission charge.

Mr. Gene Berger has been giving aditional time to the boys of the community by holding basketball practice Saturday mornings in the high school gym. Thes practices have been for all eighth grade boys from Mt. Prospect and Arlington Heights.

A team consisting of 15 boys has been picked as a game squad and are known as the "All Stars".

To date games have been played with the eighth grade teams from Bensenville, Palatine, and Half Day. It is expected that the "All Stars" will play games with the other nearby schools through the remainder of the season.

There are many men who have played basket ball who are needed to assist in helping the boys. Any one who can and will please come on either or both nights. How about it men?

MAC SAYS:

BY GERALD A. McELROY

It is a little hard to understand the reason for the assignment of schools to district and regional tournaments. For a number of years Arlington has been sent to the regional that plays at Woodstock, Crystal Lake or Dundee. They pass through schools in the Waukegan region to get there. This year Palatine who has never played in a regional except by way of winning a district is sent directly to the Dundee regional while their neighbors play in the district. In fact Libertyville for the first time plays in the Wauconda district taking Palatine's place. Lake Forest and Warren, also of the Northeast play at Wauconda. Grant of Fox Lake is another small school sent directly to the Dundee regional to be cannon fodder in the first round for the big schools while their neighbors, Antioch and Wauconda, play in the district. It may help to state some of the reasons back of all this.

In the Illinois set up the plan calls for grouping 15 schools in each region in general according to geographical lines and distance from the tournament centers. Of these 15 the largest seven in enrollment are scheduled directly into a regional tournament. The remaining smaller schools play a district tournament February 20-23 and the winner joins the seven larger schools in the regional meet February 27 to March 2.

Whether a school plays in a district or not depends on how it compares in enrollment with the rest of the schools in the region. For instance down state schools with 100 enrollment play in regionals but up this way Riverside with 1200 students plays in a district. Schools on the border line of regions may be shifted from year to year depending on wether the number of schools entering the tournaments in a region increases or decreases.

Three north shore schools, Evanston, New Trier, and Highland Park seldom go into the tournaments. This year all three are entered and Lake Forest who has not been playing basketball for two years is also entered. As a result Palatine in the south end of the region is sent to the Dundee region where there are fewer schools. St. Mary's of Des Plaines, who played at Wauconda last year is sent to the Riverside district. That is why Libertyville with over 500 students plays at Wauconda this year because there are seven larger schools in their region. On the other hand Grant, with 250, and Palatine with 300, are among the seven largest in the 1945 Dundee region setup. Had Barrington had more enrollment they would have been sent to Dundee instead of Palatine no doubt. Several years they have been sent there.

After the regionals come the sectional tournaments in each of which four regional winners compete for the chance to play in the 16 team state final at Champaign. All orders for tickets to the state tournament must be in by February 4. This year no one may order more than four tickets and adult prices are $4.50 and students $3.00 for the seven session tournament. Only season tickets are sold and they are drawn by lot from the orders received. The gym at the University of Illinois only seats 7,000 and sometimes nearly double that number want to attend the tournament in spite of gas rationing.

Bisons can get a share of the title

This week the Northwest Conference has no league games due to an open date in the schedule. With only three games to go it is all up to Bensenville if they really want a share of the varsity title. They have Antioch, Northbrook and Ela remaining to be played and if they whip Ela they are in for at least a share. The Bisons are much too tough for Antioch and Northbrook. In fact the way they have played the last two weeks they would have been too tough for Ela.

The big game—Ela at Bensenville is Friday, February 9. Wish we could see it. Barrington's lightweights have a two game lead over Palatine with only three to go and that looks like a safe lead. Broncho lights play the final of the season at Palatine and must beat tough Ela and Antioch before they get to the Pirates so Palatine still has an outside chance.

Arlington, Niles, & Crystal Lake JV teams in tie

It is a wide open race in both divisions of the Northeast Conference. A three way tie in both divisions with five games remaining makes it a very interesting race. In the lightweight division there are four good teams and four weak ones. Three of the strong ones are Arlington, Niles and Crystal Lake currently tied for the lead with one defeat. Leyden has a good team of Frosh-Sophs but plays an incomplete schedule, not meeting weak Warren and Woodstock. This week Arlington plays Crystal Lake for the second time and will avenge their one defeat. That is our idea. A little later Niles and Crystal Lake meet. Otherwise they all play second division teams. Arlington's plans call for beating Crystal Lake and Crystal Lake beating Niles.

N. E. varsity division a wide open race

In the varsity division Arlington, Crystal Lake and Libertyville are on top with 5-2 records. Niles and Leyden are a game behind. Any of these teams might beat any of the others as recent results show, so it will be a wide open proposition right down to the wire. Arlington is host to Crystal Lake Friday to break the tie and Libertyville plays very tough Niles. The Cardinals must play both Leyden and Libertyville away from home among remaining games.

Libertyville has Niles, Crystal Lake and Arlington, yet to play. Crystal Lake has Arlington, Niles, and Libertyville to be met. All the leaders have about the same strength opponents remaining and believe me the team that wades through the tough lineup remaining will really be a champ.

Crystal Lake veterans not as good as last year

It looks like Crystal Lake is an example of a situation which so often happens in sports. A great team in the junior year with all returning as seniors a good many times makes a poorer record in the senior year than they did as juniors. We know of a number of such cases. It depends on the kind of boys they are. We wonder if an inflated ego is making possible those Arlington and Leyden upsets of that unbeatable Crystal Lake five. Sometimes under this situation boys feel they can win without working hard in the senior year. Maybe that is the situation. At any rate Crystal Lake is way below expected performances. Perhaps the last two jolts will be just what they need. We will see if that is the case Friday at Arlington.

Suicide schedule is just that

It looks like the suicide schedule lined up for Arlington this week is just that. We mentioned last week in this column that Arlington would have to be supermen to survive tests with Niles, Ela, Crystal Lake, and Barrington in eight days. The Cards are half way through that quartet of tough opponents and have yet to come close to winning. Niles whipped them by 18 points and the Cards never threatened Ela who led 25-12 at the half and won easily 44-35. Friday Arlington supposedly meets the strongest of the four in their home game with Crystal Lake and you can bet the Lakers are not going to lose this one because of overconfidence.

Pirates miss their spark plug

How soon Palatine gets back to normal playing seems to depend on how soon Roger Smith, peppery forward, gets back in trim. Early this week Smith was still unable to workout with the squad as a result of a hip injury suffered at Northbrook. Palatine hopes now to finish the season in third place but must win the remaining games with Grant, Wauconda, and Barrington to be sure of that spot. Palatine fans hope Smith will be good as ever by next week when the Northwest renews league competition in the stretch drive.

Arlington fails to hit basket, loses to Niles

Tornadoes drub Niles lights, 42-33

Arlington's Cardinals had an off night last Friday evening, playing about their worst basketball of the season to lose to Niles, 52-34. The Arlington boys found an improved team in the Trojans of Niles last Friday with Anderson, only returning letterman of the Niles team, leading the offense.

The Arlington play was far below the expectations of the crowd and of the team itself. The Cards were especially weak on defense, and from the looks of things, some one had nailed a board over the top of the basket, as a very small percentage of Arlington's shots went in.

The Green Tornadoes climbed back on top of the heap by drubbing the unbeaten Niles Junior varsity to the tune of 42 to 33.

To pick out any outstanding performer would be an injustice to the splendid team play and cooperative spirit of the Junior aggregation. Wille again was on the receiving end of a lot of passes and totaled 16 points, but he also fed the other boys plenty. Busse was tops on defensive rebounding and collected 11 points.

Knaack played his best game and was especially good on defense. He collected 6 points. Aldrich was hampered by a cold and played but two quarters but they were the only two quarters in which the Tornadoes outscored the Niles boys.

McArdle and Kleiner were the Arlington boys that held Niles' highly rated fast break to a snail's pace. This game certainly showed the value of cool and collected team play.

Ela mauls Cards to win handily

Arlington's varsity cage squad, still in its midseason slump, lost to the Ela Bears, 44-35, on the Ela Floor Tuesday night. In probably the roughest, wildest game of basketball seen in these parts all year, the Cards did not have the where-with-all to overcome their handicap.

Coach Joyner experimented with his sophomores in the Junior varsity game and played them for 3 quarters against the comparatively weak Ela squad. In those three quarters the Sophomore Green Tornadoes scored 22 points to Ela's 10. The Junior Tornadoes made 12 points in the quarter that they played to Ela's 0, this made the total score for the game, 34-10.

Dahlstrom was high for the sophomores with five points. Each of the other sophomores had two points. Magnus and Williams played good games at guard. Bob Boeckh is improving rapidly and may be seen more in the future.

Pirates take it on the chin from Bisons, 31-15

Palatine lights gain second place in 25-20 win

Bensenville remains very definitely in the race for the Northwest Conference varsity championship as they decisively trounced Palatine 31-15 Friday night. The Bisons are still one game behind Ela but meet the league leaders on the Bensenville court February 9.

Palatine fell behind 10-3 in the first quarter and was never a serious threat to the Bisons who hit the basket accurately in the first half and aided their cause with 10 free throws in the second half. A combination of a Palatine team that was definitely not clicking and Bensenville's unusually strong zone defense held the Pirate field goal total to a lowly five. Clarence Vogt, Palatine's leading scorer, did not hit from the field.

At the half the score was 15-8 but the Bisons rolled it up to 27-12 at the end of the third period. Bensenville's superior rebounding also gave them quite an edge. The Pirates fouled Ernsting 10 times on rebounds and he hit six times from the free throw line. Bensenville's scoring was well distributed with every regular getting from four to eight points. Toppel was the only Pirate to score more than three points and he got five.

The Palatine lightweights gained undisputed second place in the conference this week by virtue of a 25-20 victory over Bensenville. At the same time Antioch lost to Ela and Palatine with a 5-2 record and is a game ahead of 4 teams tied for third with 4-3 marks. Barrington 7-0 still leads the race with three games yet to play.

Palatine was slow getting underway in point production Friday night and trailed 8-7 at the half though outplaying the junior Bisons by quite a margin. A big third quarter which has featured their home games this year produced six field goals and a 19-11 lead which decided the game. Howes and LeBaron were Palatine's best performers. Each got seven points besides playing good defensive ball. The ball handling of Howes and Freye at guards was the best the Palatine lights have had this season. Robertson was the big noise for Bensenville with 14 points, six of which were scored in the last quarter to make it a close ball game.

Heights grade school fives open schedule

The Dad's Club Basket Ball Leagues of Arlington Heights started competition last week at the Presbyterian and Methodist church gyms. The eighth grade league plays on Tuesday nights at the Presbyterian church starting at 7 p. m. The seventh grade league also starts play at 7 p. m. but in the Methodist church gym on Wednesday evenings.

These two leagues are the expansion of the league which the Dad's Club started last year. The success and interest shown last year has made the continuation and expansion a must. The evidence of this fact is that on the opening night of the eighth grade competition more than fifty boys were playing during the course of the evening.

All parents and friends of the boys who are playing are invited to watch these games. There is no admission charge.

Mr. Gene Berger has been giving aditional time to the boys of the community by holding basketball practice Saturday mornings in the high school gym. Thes practices have been for all eighth grade boys from Mt. Prospect and Arlington Heights.

A team consisting of 15 boys has been picked as a game squad and are known as the "All Stars".

To date games have been played with the eighth grade teams from Bensenville, Palatine, and Half Day. It is expected that the "All Stars" will play games with the other nearby schools through the remainder of the season.

There are many men who have played basket ball who are needed to assist in helping the boys. Any one who can and will please come on either or both nights. How about it men?

Italy

Private Stephen J. Urick, 803 North Highland Avenue, Arlington Heights, is a member of the 235th Engineer Combat Battalion, Fifth Army unit that was the first to bridge the Serchio River below Viareggio, Italy.

Ever since the 235th, part of the 1108th Engineer Combat Group, arrived in Naples in October, 1943, it has been carving the path for historic advances through formidable Italian terrain barriers.

The 235th prepared Highway 6 for pouring troops and equipment into the Liri Valley approaches to Rome and built a tank road around Mt. Rotondo to facilitate the attack on San Pietro. Under intense German shellfire, the battalion opened Highway 6 from Mignano into Cassino and maintained the road net west of the Mignano-Cassino rail line. During the Cassino siege, the outfit maintained the San Pietro-San Vittore-Cervaro road net and cleared a stretch of Highway 6 from La Pastanelle to Cairo for armored elements.

The 235th and its sister battalion won the Distinguished Unit Citation for their record in the battle for Cassino.

Germany

A letter dated January 5 was recived this week from Capt. Robert Kruse of Wheeling from some where in Germany and he says he is O. K. The weather is cold but the boys often manage to find a warm place to sleep at night. Bob says the boys in his battery are a fine bunch and can cook a good meal on stoves in the homes left abandoned by the enemy.

Rid Cattle Plague

An American veterinarian made cattle raising in the Philippines possible. He developed a vaccine to prevent Rinderpest, the greatest of all tropical cattle plagues.

Utah

Now home for 30 days is August Burnier of Arlington Heights. Capt. Burnier has been stationed at a hospital near Ogden, Utah. He suffered wounds October 10 in Belgium, necessitating amputation of his left foot.

August arrived home Saturday. He has been in service since September of 1942. His unit went to Ireland the early part of last year, thence to England and France.

Night Watch

Has Sirius lost a tine of light?
Did your wing brush him in your flight?
Each wakeful night I note that he Keeps tryst in his bright galaxy.
Who holds him to his nightly path?
He that all power and glory hath;
He moves in His mysterious way
While stars and planets heed His sway.
Humbly I wait His soverign will;
Than Sirius I am dearer to Him Still.
Hearken! The throb and beat of wings I hear
Tho now the sky from planes is clear,
Or is that the heart's dull throb and beat
So well the ear and mind can cheat?
Watch not the sky with stars bespent
Nor think of one on dangerous mission bent.
Prayer has no limits, has no bars;
Our Father say and so out rank the stars.

Texas

Now at Hitchcock, Texas. is Joe Smart of Arlington Heights.

"Our crew has been transferred from Little Creek, Virginia to the base here to wait until our ship is commissioned. This base is more or less a receiving station, but it's what a sailor dreams of. No work, lots of sack duty, and good liberty. As one of my shipmates says, 'We are dismissed from muster at 0800 and spend the rest of the day getting ready for liberty.'

"It's a swell base here. It used to be a naval air station with blimps for patrol duty in the Carribean, but its now a receiving station.

"The closest liberty town is Galveston, 18 miles away, but everyone goes to Houston which is 38 miles distant. They say Houston is really a liberty town, but I haven't been out yet. I'm going to see what's cooking there tonight.

"Our ship is supposed to be commissioned the 25th but it may be later. We'll probably be transferred to the LSM in a short time and my new address will then be in care of fleet post office."

Aviation Cadet Norman G. Anderson of Bensenville has just reported for duty at the Big Spring, Texas, Bombardier School, of the AAF. A/C Anderson is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Theo. Anderson, Rt. 2, Bensenville. He is a graduate of Leyden, Franklin Park, High School in the class of 1943. Before entering service he was employed in the Thompson Wire Co., Franklin Park.

The Big Spring Bombardier School, one of the world's largest bombing colleges, graduates a new class of precision bombardiers every 4 weeks. The intensive 24 weeks course qualifies these airmen for their appointment as officers in the Army Air Forces. They also receive the shiny new wings of rated bombardiers.

Pfc. Paul E. Hoeft of Arlington Heights, a veteran of the Aleutians, who was home on two weeks furlough is now stationed at Camp Swift, Texas. He does not know what his future duties will be. His address is Pfc. Paul E. Hoeft, 36359478, H&S Co. 203rd Inf. Bn, (Sap), Camp Swift, Texas.

Home on 15 days furlough is Pvt. Joseph Staudenbauer of Mt. Prospect. Joe arrived home Monday noon from Lubbock, Texas. He reports February 7 to Truax Field, Madison, Wis.

Leathernecks 'Larn' Lizard

Plane production still far behind

Production of aircraft in December was two per cent behind schedule, although 6,697 planes were delivered, J. A. Krug, WPB Chairman, announced today.

Superfortresses met working schedules in December, but far from filled military needs. Only 73 per cent of the Navy schedule for Corsair fighters was achieved, and several other types lagged, also, he said.

In 1944, 96,369 planes of all types were produced, compared with the scheduled output of 109,000.

Chopin concert February 4

There's a treat in store for lovers of Chopin's music, when Artur Rubinstein, the great Polish pianist, gives his only Chicago recital of the season at Orchestra Hall on Sunday afternoon, February 4. He will present an all Chopin program highlighted by the "Sonata. Op. 58, in B Minor" and including the two popular polonaises, "Op. 4 in F sharp minor," and "Op. 53 in A flat."

Seats are now on sale at all prices for Artur Rubinstein's concert, at the box office and by mail order.

Mississippi

From Keesler Field Miss. comes word of Edward Crofoot of Arlington Heights.

"I might as well start from the beginning. Naturally I started out from Ft. Sheridan, then to Sheppard Field, Texas, for my basic training. While at Shenpard I was appointed to Air Crew Training under the Cadet program.

"After my 35 days of basic training were over, I was shipped to Childress Field, Texas as an 'On the Line Trainee.' There I worked an AT-11's as a mechanics assistant. After a little over five months at Childress, they shipped my group to Keesler Field, Miss. as O.L.T.s to act as permanent party men until our turn came up for pre-flight.

"At present I am working on PBY Catalinas with an Emergency Rescue Squad. Since this organization started they have saved the lives of 350 men who had crashed either on land or in the Gulf. It is a lot of fun and very educational. We get to do a lot of flying and also handle 50 cal. machine guns.

"There isn't much more to say except that I'm just one of a couple of hundred thousand guys sweating it out and waiting to get their chance at flying. Until that time comes I guess I'll just try to help keep them flying (with a wrench in one hand, a sledge hammer in the other and a coke bottle in my teeth). All kidding aside, I found that no matter where you go you will always find that the Mechs are the back-bone of the Air Corps. They never quite make the headlines in the home papers, but they sure do in the minds of any flyer. It is a great privilege to be able to call yourself a Mech. in the Air Corps, I only wish I could.

"I imagiine to most fellows that sounds rather silly at first, but I don't think they'd laugh very long if they actually asked and tried to answer the question—'Who does keep 'em flying?'"

His address is Pvt. Edward W. Crofoot Sec C 700 (Adm) 3704th AAFBU, Box 50, Kessler Field, Mississippi.

Moving to Camp Shelby Mississippi, is Emmett Doyle of Arlington Heights. His address is Pfc. Emmett J. Doyle, 601st MP Bn, Camp Shelby, Miss.

All kidding aside, I found that no matter where you go you will always find that the Mechs are the back-bone of the Air Corps. They never quite make the headlines in the home papers, but they sure do in the minds of any flyer. It is a great privilege to be able to call yourself a Mech. in the Air Corps, I only wish I could.

"I imagiine to most fellows that sounds rather silly at first, but I don't think they'd laugh very long if they actually asked and tried to answer the question—'Who does keep 'em flying?'"

Set up programs for local 1945 4-H clubs

At a recent meeting of the Cook County 4-H Club leaders and committeemen, the leaders were given special recognition by being guests of the Cook County Farm Bureau at a luncheon in the Morrison Hotel. 4-H leaders achievement recognition certificates and achievement seals were awarded to the following leaders having achievement clubs: John Zander, Worthwhile 4-H Club; Emil Hattendorf, Washington 4-H Club; Herbert Kohl, Rich-Bremen 4-H Club; Norman Yunker, Orland Boys' 4-H Club; Robert Kolze, Leyden 4-H Club; Arthur Busse, Elk Grove 4-H Club; and Walter Fraas, Ace Royal Flashes 4-H Club.

Mr. E. I. Pilchard, extension specialist in Boys' 4-H Club Work from the University of Illinois, was present and reviewed the results of 1944 and explained some of the important phases of the 1945 4-H club program and pointed out to the leaders the importance of our boys and girls in war time.

Leading the discussion of the planning of the 1945 program was Mr. Charles N. Glover, assistant farm adviser. Suggestions were offered by Mr. Pilchard as well as many leaders from the county. Some of the outstanding activities discussed for 1945 were the spring rallies, county club show, special war activities and the recognition program. The following is an outline of the special activities to be in the program each month:

January—Enrollment of members and leaders meetings.

March—Organization of clubs. Leaders meetings.

April—Rallies. Program Planning and officer training and demonstration schools.

May—Complete program and enrollments. Leaders meetings.

June—Special vegetable judging conference.

August—County 4-H Club Show.

September— Leaders meetings and finish up conferences. County finish up meetings.

October — County recognition meetings. Local achievement programs. New enrollments.

November—Local achievement programs. County 4-H leaders meetings.

December—Reports on 4-H work to County Farm Bureau.

Attending the luncheon in Chicago were A. A. Fulton, county club committeeman, Tinley Park, Illinois; Harold Bergman, Palatine 4-H Club; Irvin C. Stover, leader, Tinley Park 4-H Club; W. W. Kester, leader, Tinley Park 4-H Club; William Bernard, leader, Orland Boys' 4-H Club; Norman Yunker, leader, Orland Boy's 4-H Club; John Zander, leader, Worthwhile 4-H Club; Arthur Busse, leader, Elk Grove 4-H Club; H. W. Stinson, Adviser, Palatine 4-H Club; E. E. Mayhew, adviser, Bloom 4-H Club; Arthur Cohrs, leader, Bloom 4-H Club; Howard Miller, leader, Sauk Trail 4-H Club; Raymond Kloss, assistant leader, Sauk Trail 4-H Club; W. Wright, leader, Washington 4-H Club; Elmer Wente, leader, Hillside 4-H Club; Henry Eichholz, member of county committee and leader of Maine 4-H Club.

Largest dividend in history of farmer owned co-op.

The Lake-Cook Farm Supply Company has issued checks for $84,651.62 as a refund to its member customers for the year 1944. This dividend represents 15% on petroleum products and 8% on feed. This dividend is $3,600 more than that paid a year ago, and is a fitting climax in its first million dollar year. The checks were distributed at the annual meeting held at Lake Zurich school last Saturday.

Total sales	$1,030,360.70
Cost of sales	814,708.06
Gross trading income	215,652.64
Operating expense	130,835.80
Net Operating income	84,816.84
Other income	26,012.72
Total	110,829.56
Other expense	365.63
Net income before provision for income tax	110,463.93

The Million Dollar Year was considered of sufficient importance by the directors of the company to issue a souvenir booklet in which the story of the growth of the company is told, together with pictures of all the warehouses, directors, warehouse managers, their assistants and salesmen. There are sixty of them and it has been through the combined efforts of all of them that Lake-Cook Farm Supply has reached its present position.

The booklet not only introduces the personnel of the company but also has a personal mention of the service that the men have given. Much of the success attained in the estimation of the directors belongs to the manager, Alfred D. Smith, who has served continuously since 1931.

The main office of the company is at Des Plaines, chosen because of its central location to the territory served. Other warehouses are at Grayslake, Lake Zurich, Tinley Park and Arlington Heights.

"This company is owned and operated completely by the Farm Bureau members of the two counties it serves. A board of directors, composed of sixteen members, is elected at large by the Farm Bureau members. This board is held responsible for the management of this Company, and a large part of the success of the Company has been due to the careful selection of this Board by the membership.

"It is interesting to note that this Company was born at the start of the greatest depression this country has ever known, and has forged its way through, always earning many times the Preferred Stock Dividend.

"The 6% Dividend on the Preferred Stock has been declared regularly and paid promptly. Another interesting fact is that the earnings of the Company have averaged more than 100% on the Preferred Stock.

"It is also of much interest to note that the Company has paid in Federal Income Tax, Gas State Taxes, Occupational Sales Taxes, etc., well over $800,000.00.

"The Company has no indebtedness whatsoever, of any kind, and it is interesting to note that the net worth is better than four times the value of the Preferred Stock. Therefore, this stock is considered, by good authorities, to be a very high-class investment, and your Board of Directors are releasing a small amount of stock for sale at this time to the membership.

"The foregoing facts prove conclusively that this great Company has a definite place in the field it serves for the farmers at large, which accounts for its phenomenal growth."

Many young pigs fail to attain market age

Four million pigs, or about one-third of the twelve million pigs farrowed on Illinois farms last year, died before they reached marketable age, according to estimates made by the department of animal pathology and hygiene, University of Illinois College of Agriculture. Not only does this represent a large financial loss, but also involved are losses in labor, feed and pork on the market, which all add up to less efficient production.

Some of this loss is inevitable, the report says, for mortality from accidents, lack of sufficient milk, birth of unthrifty pigs, etc., will always occur wherever swine are raised. A large portion of the four million pigs lost, however, die from preventable causes, including such diseases as hog cholera, swine erysipelas, worm infestation, contagious abortion, infections associated with unkept hog lots and nutritional factors.

While there is no substitute for good animal husbandry in profitable swine production, control of many of these diseases, even some of those responsible for the heaviest losses, is relatively simple and inexpensive.

Swine growers are encouraged to write to the Extension Service, University of Illinois College of Agriculture, Urbana, for Circular 557, "Fight Animal Diseases," which presents elementary principles in the control of swine diseases as well as those of horses, cattle, sheep and poultry. The circular also may be obtaiend from most Illinois farm advisers' offices.

Dairymen should be able to meet '45 milk goals

Illinois farmers are asked to increase milk production one percent in 1945 over 1944. For the nation a two percent increase is requested. Milk cow numbers increased two percent in the United States and one percent in Illinois between 1943 and June 1944. If this increase is held throughout the year, Illinois farmers can meet their goal merely by maintaining production per cow at the 1944 level. With wise feeding and management they can exceed the goal, as the production of milk per cow in both 1941 and 1942 was about five percent greater than in 1943 and 1944. Illinois farmers produced 25 percent more milk in 1944 than in 1924, attributed equally to the increase in milk production per cow and to the increase in number of cows.

Many dairymen have secured or should be able to secure the feed required for greater production per cow. Production of corn and oats in Illinois in 1944 was less than in 1943, but the number of other livestock and poultry will likewise be less in 1945 than in 1944. Illinois hay production in 1944 was above 1943, and by-product feeds are also in greater supply. The condition of pastures next summer and fall is unpredictable. The milk-feed price ratio, including government payments, is likely to remain relatively more favorable than other livestock product-feed price ratios. This price relationship has been an important factor in accounting for the increased milk production in recent months over a year earlier.

Champ bull

Edellyn Peerless Mercury, a Shorthorn bull owned by Curtiss Candy Company on one of its farms near Marengo, was awarded the grand championship and the first prize in the senior division of the National Western Live Stock Show in Denver this week, according to an announcement by Otto Schering, president of the company. The bull's full brother was grand champion of the show last winter and sired the grand champion female of this year's show.

Offers tractor tire recap service for local operators

Farmers and tractor owners are urged to use the Firestone tractor tire recapping service now available at Purnell & Wilson, 651 Pearson, Des Plaines. Mr. Wilson says that the Firestone tire company has arranged to handle all local requirements at this time. Firestone methods, he says, are used exclusively on tractor recaps. By recapping now, tractor owners will be able to keep their equipment moving when the busy season starts.

"It is also of much interest to note that the Company has paid in Federal Income Tax, Gas State Taxes, Occupational Sales Taxes, etc., well over $800,000.00.

"The Company has no indebtedness whatsoever, of any kind, and it is interesting to note that the net worth is better than four times the value of the Preferred Stock. Therefore, this stock is considered, by good authorities, to be a very high-class investment, and your Board of Directors are releasing a small amount of stock for sale at this time to the membership.

"The foregoing facts prove conclusively that this great Company has a definite place in the field it serves for the farmers at large, which accounts for its phenomenal growth."

Many young pigs fail to attain market age

Four million pigs, or about one-third of the twelve million pigs farrowed on Illinois farms last year, died before they reached marketable age, according to estimates made by the department of animal pathology and hygiene, University of Illinois College of Agriculture. Not only does this represent a large financial loss, but also involved are losses in labor, feed and pork on the market, which all add up to less efficient production.

Some of this loss is inevitable, the report says, for mortality from accidents, lack of sufficient milk, birth of unthrifty pigs, etc., will always occur wherever swine are raised. A large portion of the four million pigs lost, however, die from preventable causes, including such diseases as hog cholera, swine erysipelas, worm infestation, contagious abortion, infections associated with unkept hog lots and nutritional factors.

While there is no substitute for good animal husbandry in profitable swine production, control of many of these diseases, even some of those responsible for the heaviest losses, is relatively simple and inexpensive.

Swine growers are encouraged to write to the Extension Service, University of Illinois College of Agriculture, Urbana, for Circular 557, "Fight Animal Diseases," which presents elementary principles in the control of swine diseases as well as those of horses, cattle, sheep and poultry. The circular also may be obtaiend from most Illinois farm advisers' offices.

Dairymen should be able to meet '45 milk goals

Illinois farmers are asked to increase milk production one percent in 1945 over 1944. For the nation a two percent increase is requested. Milk cow numbers increased two percent in the United States and one percent in Illinois between 1943 and June 1944. If this increase is held throughout the year, Illinois farmers can meet their goal merely by maintaining production per cow at the 1944 level. With wise feeding and management they can exceed the goal, as the production of milk per cow in both 1941 and 1942 was about five percent greater than in 1943 and 1944. Illinois farmers produced 25 percent more milk in 1944 than in 1924, attributed equally to the increase in milk production per cow and to the increase in number of cows.

Many dairymen have secured or should be able to secure the feed required for greater production per cow. Production of corn and oats in Illinois in 1944 was less than in 1943, but the number of other livestock and poultry will likewise be less in 1945 than in 1944. Illinois hay production in 1944 was above 1943, and by-product feeds are also in greater supply. The condition of pastures next summer and fall is unpredictable. The milk-feed price ratio, including government payments, is likely to remain relatively more favorable than other livestock product-feed price ratios. This price relationship has been an important factor in accounting for the increased milk production in recent months over a year earlier.

Offers tractor tire recap service for local operators

Farmers and tractor owners are urged to use the Firestone tractor tire recapping service now available at Purnell & Wilson, 651 Pearson, Des Plaines. Mr. Wilson says that the Firestone tire company has arranged to handle all local requirements at this time. Firestone methods, he says, are used exclusively on tractor recaps. By recapping now, tractor owners will be able to keep their equipment moving when the busy season starts.

Champ bull

Edellyn Peerless Mercury, a Shorthorn bull owned by Curtiss Candy Company on one of its farms near Marengo, was awarded the grand championship and the first prize in the senior division of the National Western Live Stock Show in Denver this week, according to an announcement by Otto Schering, president of the company. The bull's full brother was grand champion of the show last winter and sired the grand champion female of this year's show.

France

From France comes word of Al Duenn of Arlington Heights.

"I have put twenty-four of my twenty-six months overseas in the infantry. I am out of the infantry now and am waiting to be given a new job. I don't know how long I will be out of it but it will at least be until summer comes around and maybe a little longer.

"I just don't seem to have any luck when the boat leaves for home with a load of furlough boys on it. I'll catch one of these some day. The thing that gets me the most is boys going home who have only been over here a year or eighteen months. Some of these boys were wounded and some seriously ill. These guy should be sent back. A lot of them saw their first combat here in France.

"Maybe I'm wrong about all this but I don't know. I put all my time in the infantry too. I was never wounded but I have plenty of scars on me from diving into holes. I received more bruises playing football in grade school but a person shouldn't have to be wounded before he gets a break.

"After a six months stay in the States I'd be willing to jump on Tokyo and stay there a couple of years. I never ran from a German in my twenty-four months I've been in the infantry, and I had them jump up just a few feet from me, and these guys were not hollering Kamerad.

"Guys who I've been with for almost four years were killed by these monkeys. I don't know how I ever got this far but I sure thanked the good Lord many a time. I will never forget any of these things as long as I live and hope to be home before I have to go through them again. After a while at home I'll be ready to go again."

"Have purchased some 'Evening in Paris Perfume' which I am sending home. It's good stuff. The girls at home ought to be able to 'stink pretty' with it. Also got a silk scarf from a German nurse which I have sent home.

"Haven't received any mail since Italy, and sure wish some would come my way. Also haven't been drinking since I've been here. It isn't a good thing to do anyway. It gives you a little too much guts and I got all of them I need sober. Right now bullets and booze don't mix.

"I don't gamble either. These foreigners don't take me for a ride the way they do some guys. I've been around here so long I know them all and they don't bother me. How about some clippings from the Herald?"

His address is Cpl. Albert E. Duenn, 36003997, APO 176, c-o PM, New York, N. Y.

Now in a hospital after suffering injuries in a truck accident in France is Harvey Schaefer of Arlington Heights. Harv was riding in a truck with four others when the driver fell asleep at the wheel. The vehicle crashed into a building. All were taken to the hospital where x-rays of Harvey's stomach have been taken.

Pvt. Walter Hartley of Wheeling, recently sent home some souvenirs from the front lines in France. He has been in a rest camp, but as far as the family knows now, he is O. K. at present.

Changing his address in France is George Herrmann, Jr. of Palatine. His address is Sgt. George Herrmann, 36744207, APO 228, c-o PM New York, N. Y.

Pacific

Ensign Charles Folz, Palatine, recently returned from a tour of combat duty in the Pacific, where he served with the Navy's Patrol Squadron 216. Ensign Folz was first pilot aboard a Martin MARINER flying boat (PBM) on lengthy patrols over enemy waters.

H. D. Logan, Aviation Ordnanceman Second Class, Palatine, also has returned from a tour of combat duty in the Pacific, with the Squadron 216. Logan was an aircrewman aboard a Martin MARINER flying boat (PBM) winging lengthy patrols over enemy waters.

Patrol Squadron 216 was nicknamed "Cook's Tourists" after its commanding officer, Commander H. E. Cook.

The squadron logged thousands of combat flight hours during the Marianas and Palau Islands campaigns. Flying three types of missions, the Navy airmen sought out the enemy deep in his own territory, protected our ship movements and escorted crippled warships to a safe haven.

Although the primary function of a patrol squadron is not attack, "Cook's Tourists" made fighting opportunities for themselves during the Marianas campaign when they engaged eight enemy ships, damaging three and probably sinking a fourth. They encountered Jap planes 17 times while on patrols.

During the successful Saipan invasions 216's Flying boats performed a variety of tasks, including special photographic and reconnaissance sorties, anti-submarine patrols and mail runs.

Various difficulties caused a few planes to make forced landings at sea, but quick-thinking pilots and crews kept casualties at a remarkably low figure.

Now operating in the Pacific is Herbert Behrens of Arlington Heights. His address is Herbert Behrens, WT3c, 528-650, c-o FPO, San Francisco, Calif.

Oklahoma

Francis Schaefer of Arlington Heights has been transferred to Camp Gruber, Oklahoma.

"I was shipped from Texas to Camp Gruber, Oklahoma in November. The weather here has been pretty mild. So far we haven't had any snow and last week it was so mild you could run around in shirt sleeves.

"Since I came to this camp I met Rox Bolte, Bob Harth and Butts Peters. I've been pretty lucky in meeting these fellows from the home town.

"I was in the hospital for 17 days and they had Bonnie Baker and her girl orchestra there. I met Bob Harth there after the performance. We were really glad to see each other and we had a pretty long talk together about Arlington Heights. I met Butts Peters the other day when I was put on a detail to deliver rations to the mess halls. I was glad to meet him because I haven't seem him for about 2 years He's about four blocks from our battery.

"The battery is out in the field all this week but I got orders from the doctor not to get any field duty.

"I'd sure like to hear from some of my friends at home and keep that paper rolling. It's good to read about all the fellows in service."

His address is Pvt. Francis J. Schaefer, B Btry, 797, FA Bn., Camp Gruber, Oklahoma.

Unique Timber

Teakwood is a unique shipbuilding timber.

England

Now in a hospital in England is Cliff Haemker of Palatine. Cliff suffered trench foot while driving a tank with the 1st army in France, and was flown back to England from Germany.

Cliff's unit was recently cited for its action against the Germans. The tanks would advance up ahead, going within earshot of enemy lines, and keeping the Nazis pinned down. Whenever the enemy sent up anti-tank guns U. S. gunners would knock them out.

A lot of Germans were killed this way, but it also meant hard living conditions for the men. Imagine living, eating and sleeping in a tank for several days at a time. One man was noted for living in his tank 19 days. Cliff was kept in his 4 days at one time.

It's at those times, and others, that the men cannot even take off their shoes. When the feet get wet and cold trench foot sets in. The feet swell, become blue, and blister. It's so painful that walking is impossible.

"Recently saw the picture, 'No Time for Love' the second time. It was good, even though I had seen it before. Our hospital was decorated for Christmas with a tree on a table, with plenty of little trees scattered around. Santa Clauses were pasted all around, with red and green paper-covered lights everywhere. We had lights strung everywhere. It was pretty for the holidays.

"Menu for dinner consisted of tomato juice, roast turkey, cranberries, giblet gravy, sage dressing, mashed potatoes, buttered peas, rolls and butter, pumpkin pie, coffee, hard candy and nuts.

"The Red Cross came around with a Santa Claus and we all got a box with cigarettes, candy, small books, a mirror, gum and a picture folder. It sure was nice, but now that I've been in the army almost four years, I certainly would like to get home.

"Our weather has been pretty good of late. We have a heavy frost every morning, but the sun comes out every day and it goes away. We've been taking a lot of exercises such as wiggling the toes and turning the ankles."

His address is Sgt. Clifford Haemker, 36305884, Det of Patients, U. S. Hosp. Plant 4112, APO 316, c-o PM, New York, N. Y.

From England comes word of Floyd Bauman of Arlington Heights.

"I spent Christmas and New Years very quietly. Most of the boys were out celebrating, but not for me. I couldn't see anything to celebrate. I haven't had the yuletide spirit.

"Recently spent a furlough at Torquay, a resort town on the south coast. Boy, was it swell. Seven days of relaxation with no MP's, nothing but a lot of friendly Englishmen.

"We stayed at a private hotel where the elderly couple there took us in like a couple of their own. It was almost like home. Weather was warm enough for just a light jacket, and the scenery was beautiful.

"I did quite a bit of reading, and one day went to the dog races. All my selections either sat down or fought with another dog. But it was a lot of fun.

"Never thought when I entered this man's army three years ago I'd still be wearing the same uniform. When this is over I'll never buy another suit that even looks like brown."

His address is 1st Sgt. Floyd Bauman, 16038469, APO 559, c-o PM, New York, N. Y.

From England comes word of Roy Schmitz of Arlington Heights. He is a pilot of a B-17. His address is 2nd Lt. Roy M. Schmitz, 0-774910 APO 559, c-o PM, New York, N. Y.

East coast

From somewhere on the east coast comes word of Bob Tegtmeier of Palatine.

"Just to let you know my address has changed so you can keep the paper coming. I've been getting it every week and sure is swell to see a paper from the home town.

"I am now some where on the East Coast. That's all I can say. Had a pass and spent it in New York—quite a place and by no means dry.

"Will try my best to answer all the letters I get. I sure would like to hear from the boys I used to go around with, and the people back home."

His address is Cpl. Bob Tegtmeier, 36773818, APO 263, c-o PM, New York.

Florida

Cpl. Rheiny Schmidt of Wheeling left last Wednesday for Miami, Florida, after a three week furlough at home. It was his first furlough since entering the service 28 months ago, most of which was spent in Alaska. Cpl. Schmidt found the Illinois winter more severe than Alaska weather. His brother, Pfc. Richard Schmidt is still some where in the East Indies.

'Old Maggie' -- Pacific Veteran

The history of "Old Maggie," a Catalina PBY-5A, is the history of Marine aerial warfare in the Pacific. Her log book shows she has covered more than 392,000 miles during 2,800 hours of flight time. Completed on March 7, 1942, this Leatherneck-piloted plane not only has taken part in combat missions, during which she served as an airborne command post, but also has made innumerable sea rescues, has evacuated Koreans from a Jap stronghold and has saved the life of a Samoan native chief. Just refitted with new engines, "Old Maggie" is ready to resume her military meanderings.

Dutch East Indies

Now a first lieutenant is Francis Oefelein of Arlington Heights. Frank is believed to be stationed in the Dutch East Indies. His address is Lt. F. H. Oefelein, 0-868924, APO 159, c-o PM, San Francisco, Calif.

Now in the Netherlands East Indies is Norman Beckman of Palatine. Norm was formerly in New Guinea. His address is Sgt. Norman Beckman, 36038882, APO 565, c-o PM, San Francisco, Calif.

Louisiana

Changing his address at New Orleans is Bob Johnson of Palatine. His address is Cpl. Robert F. Johnon, Hq & Hq Det, 1st Bn, Jackson Barracks Area, New Orleans 12, La.

Georgia

Changing her address at Ft. Oglethorpe, Georgia, is Ruth Karstens of Arlington Heights. Ruth has been recuperating in the hospital.

"Was released from the hospital last week and now am working for the Assistant Adjutant of the training center. The weather is very mild, nothing like Arlington weather which I enjoyed during the Christmas holidays. Many thanks to all the folks who remembered me with cards and letters during my illness. Mail call still is a morale builder. Will be looking forward to receiving any news from home."

Her address is T4 Ruth Karstens, Headq. Det WAC 4443 S. C. U., Bks. 1326, Ft. Oglethorpe, Ga.

Hawaii

Ensign Marjorie Mohr of Wheeling has passed her second holiday season in sunny Hawaii. The Sunday before Christmas she spent at Waikiki Beach, where the only thing which could impress them with the realization that the Christmas season was at hand were the carols which they heard on their portable radio. However Marjorie says "just give me a place where there are four seasons". Ensign Mohr is assistang in the care of war casualties hospitalized in Hawaii.

Of the folks back home she writes "so many of you are doing work in war plants and supplying us with vital materials, and when it comes to bandages we use we often think of the people who worked on them, and every jar of plasma that I help administer tells me that someone donated it, and how important it is to our wounded. Yes there's a place in this war for everyone to do their best."

From Hawaii comes word of Al Kehe of Arlington Heights.

"Had seen enough of the east and west, and still liked Arlington. But they wouldn't let me go there, so came to Hawaii instead. After teasing the fish with burps for five days, we finally arrived. Hawaii is a beautiful spot and is the ideal place for romance. Don't mind if I come home carrying on a conversation with myself. But I hope to find a golf course over here before we go on to Tojoland."

His address is S2c Al Kehe, c-o FPO, San Francisco, Calif.

Alabama

Now in a hospital in Alabama is Pvt. LeRoy Pomplun of Arlington Heights. LeRoy suffered a nervous breakdown while in the Pacific and has been returned to the States. His address is Pvt. LeRoy Pomplun, 36767811, ASF Northington Gen'l Hosp., Tuscaloosa, Alabama.

Washington D. C.

Wave Ruth Schulte of Arlington Heights has been promoted to specialist Q 1st class at Washington, D. C. She has been in service 19 months, all of them at Washington.

$556,000,000.00

For Douglas War and Postwar Planes!

Douglas now has a $416,000,000 backlog order for war planes . . . and $140,000,000 in postwar orders from major airlines, including huge contracts for C-54 Combat transports. The C-54 is the transport companion to the B-29 Super Fortress which is now starting to bomb Japan into oblivion. The C-54 is the world's largest 4-motor transport in volume production and has the cabin dimensions of a standard railroad box car. Adapted for postwar airline use, it will be designated the DC-4. This is the plane used by President Roosevelt in his flights to Casablanca, Terheran, and Cairo. Now it is carrying munitions and men to the fighting front and wounded back to safety. After the war it will carry millions of airline passengers. This plane is built in the Douglas Chicago plant. You are needed to build it.

The history of "Old Maggie," a Catalina PBY-5A, is the history of Marine aerial warfare in the Pacific. Her log book shows she has covered more than 392,000 miles during 2,800 hours of flight time. Completed on March 7, 1942, this Leatherneck-piloted plane not only has taken part in combat missions, during which she served as an airborne command post, but also has made innumerable sea rescues, has evacuated Koreans from a Jap stronghold and has saved the life of a Samoan native chief. Just refitted with new engines, "Old Maggie" is ready to resume her military meanderings.

Georgia

Changing her address at Ft. Oglethorpe, Georgia, is Ruth Karstens of Arlington Heights. Ruth has been recuperating in the hospital.

"Was released from the hospital last week and now am working for the Assistant Adjutant of the training center. The weather is very mild, nothing like Arlington weather which I enjoyed during the Christmas holidays. Many thanks to all the folks who remembered me with cards and letters during my illness. Mail call still is a morale builder. Will be looking forward to receiving any news from home."

Her address is T4 Ruth Karstens, Headq. Det WAC 4443 S. C. U., Bks. 1326, Ft. Oglethorpe, Ga.

Hawaii

Ensign Marjorie Mohr of Wheeling has passed her second holiday season in sunny Hawaii. The Sunday before Christmas she spent at Waikiki Beach, where the only thing which could impress them with the realization that the Christmas season was at hand were the carols which they heard on their portable radio. However Marjorie says "just give me a place where there are four seasons". Ensign Mohr is assistang in the care of war casualties hospitalized in Hawaii.

Of the folks back home she writes "so many of you are doing work in war plants and supplying us with vital materials, and when it comes to bandages we use we often think of the people who worked on them, and every jar of plasma that I help administer tells me that someone donated it, and how important it is to our wounded. Yes there's a place in this war for everyone to do their best."

"Had seen enough of the east and west, and still liked Arlington. But they wouldn't let me go there, so came to Hawaii instead. After teasing the fish with burps for five days, we finally arrived. Hawaii is a beautiful spot and is the ideal place for romance. Don't mind if I come home carrying on a conversation with myself. But I hope to find a golf course over here before we go on to Tojoland."

His address is S2c Al Kehe, c-o FPO, San Francisco, Calif.

LOOKING FOR A JOB WITH POSTWAR FUTURE?
Get Into Aviation . . . Good Pay . . . Steady Work.
COME TO DOUGLAS TODAY!

For Douglas War and Postwar Planes!
Douglas now has a $416,000,000 backlog order for war planes . . . and $140,000,000 in postwar orders from major airlines, including huge contracts for C-54 Combat transports. The C-54 is the transport companion to the B-29 Super Fortress which is now starting to bomb Japan into oblivion. The C-54 is the world's largest 4-motor transport in volume production and has the cabin dimensions of a standard railroad box car. Adapted for postwar airline use, it will be designated the DC-4. This is the plane used by President Roosevelt in his flights to Casablanca, Terheran, and Cairo. Now it is carrying munitions and men to the fighting front and wounded back to safety. After the war it will carry millions of airline passengers. This plane is built in the Douglas Chicago plant. You are needed to build it.

Start Your Postwar Future Today!
Read this message carefully . . . because it means opportunity. It may mean a profitable lifetime career for you. But you must act at once if this opportunity is not to be wasted.
If you have read recent War Manpower Commission articles or our advertisements in the last few weeks, you know that additional men and women are urgently needed on a two-year schedule to help us build the giant C-54, companion transport plane to the B-29 Super-Fortress for the war against Japan . . . and then to build the same plane after the war to fill orders already booked with us by the airlines. Maybe you've said to yourself, "I'll look into that someday."
Someday will be too late. You must join us now if you are to cash in on this opportunity. Don't let lack of experience hold you back. We train you so that you're bound to make good in fabricating, assembly, and installation work . . . what we call "beating on the airplane." As interesting work as you'll ever find. Good pay. Act now.
